TURN GIBRALTAR INTO ISLE WITH DEFENSE MOAT

British Cut Rock Off from Spain.

BY MAURICE ENGLISH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ALGECIRAS, Spain, Nov. 6.—A defensive canal, or moat, designed to convert Gibraltar into an island in the face of the menace of a land attack now is virtually completed, it was reported here today.

The moat extends from the Bay of Algeciras to the Mediterranean along the edge of the neutral ground which divides Gibraltar from the Spanish town of La Linea.

Digging of the ditch was already completed when this TRIBUNE correspondent visited Gibraltar last month. Now mines are being planted so that in case of an alarm they may be exploded and the sea allowed to rush in to fill up the ditch.

Credit Idea to Cromwell.

A number of Spanish laborers from La Linea, Algeciras, and other nearby towns have been employed on this and other projects undertaken by Maj. Gen. Mason MacFarlane, military commander and deputy governor of Gibraltar.

The idea of turning the rock into an island by cutting a ditch across the sandy isthmus to Spain was said to have been proposed first in 1658 by Oliver Cromwell, during the wars against Spain, and long before the English actually conquered the promontory.

GREEKS WITHDRAW

ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 6 (AP).—Greek troops fighting Italian invaders were forced to retire on one sector of the front today but on another they scored important new successes, the Greek high command asserted tonight.

The withdrawal, described as "slight," occurred at the left extremity of the Epirus front, at the southern end of the battle line near the coast.

Farther north, the Greeks, after shelling Koritza from newly won mountain fortifications, were said to have the Italian invasion base at their mercy.

Ten Miles Inside Albania.

There even were some reports that Greeks had entered the town, which is 10 miles inside Albania. Official confirmation was lacking.

The Greek high command, in relating the capture of dominating mountain peaks south of Koritza, said that "retreating enemy sections were shelled by their own troops." From the peaks the Greeks were reported pouring an unending stream of 6 inch shells into the town.

[Reports from the front to Belgrade, Jugo-Slavia, said the Italian command had denied that the Greeks had captured Koritza. More than 30 miles to the northeast, in the Florina sector, the Italians were said to have unleashed a furious bombing attack, inflicting heavy losses on Greek troops, destroying about half of Florina and most of the Greek villages in the area.]

Backing up Greek ground operations, British and Greek planes heavily pounded Italian troop concentrations. British long distance squadrons were declared to have bombed ports in Italy and Albania. British fighter planes joined Greek craft today in patroling Athens and its port, Piræus, and were credited with turning back two Italian squadrons. The Italians raided other Greek cities, including Volo, Patras, and Larissa. A few casualties and slight damage were reported.

Attacks Beaten Off—Rome.

ROME, Nov. 6 (AP).—Italy's high command said today that the Fascist armies on the Greek-Albanian front had beaten off attacks by the Greeks on Italian positions above Koritza. The same source acknowledged that 14 persons had been killed and 10 injured last night in a British air raid on the Naples area, the third in less than a week. The damage was minimized.

It was the first time the high command had related an attack by the Greeks. The scene of the action was placed north of Kapestica pass and along the southern shores of Lake Presba. The fighting was described as violent.

It was officially reported also that an Italian torpedo boat had sunk a British submarine which attacked an Italian convoy in mid-Mediterranean.

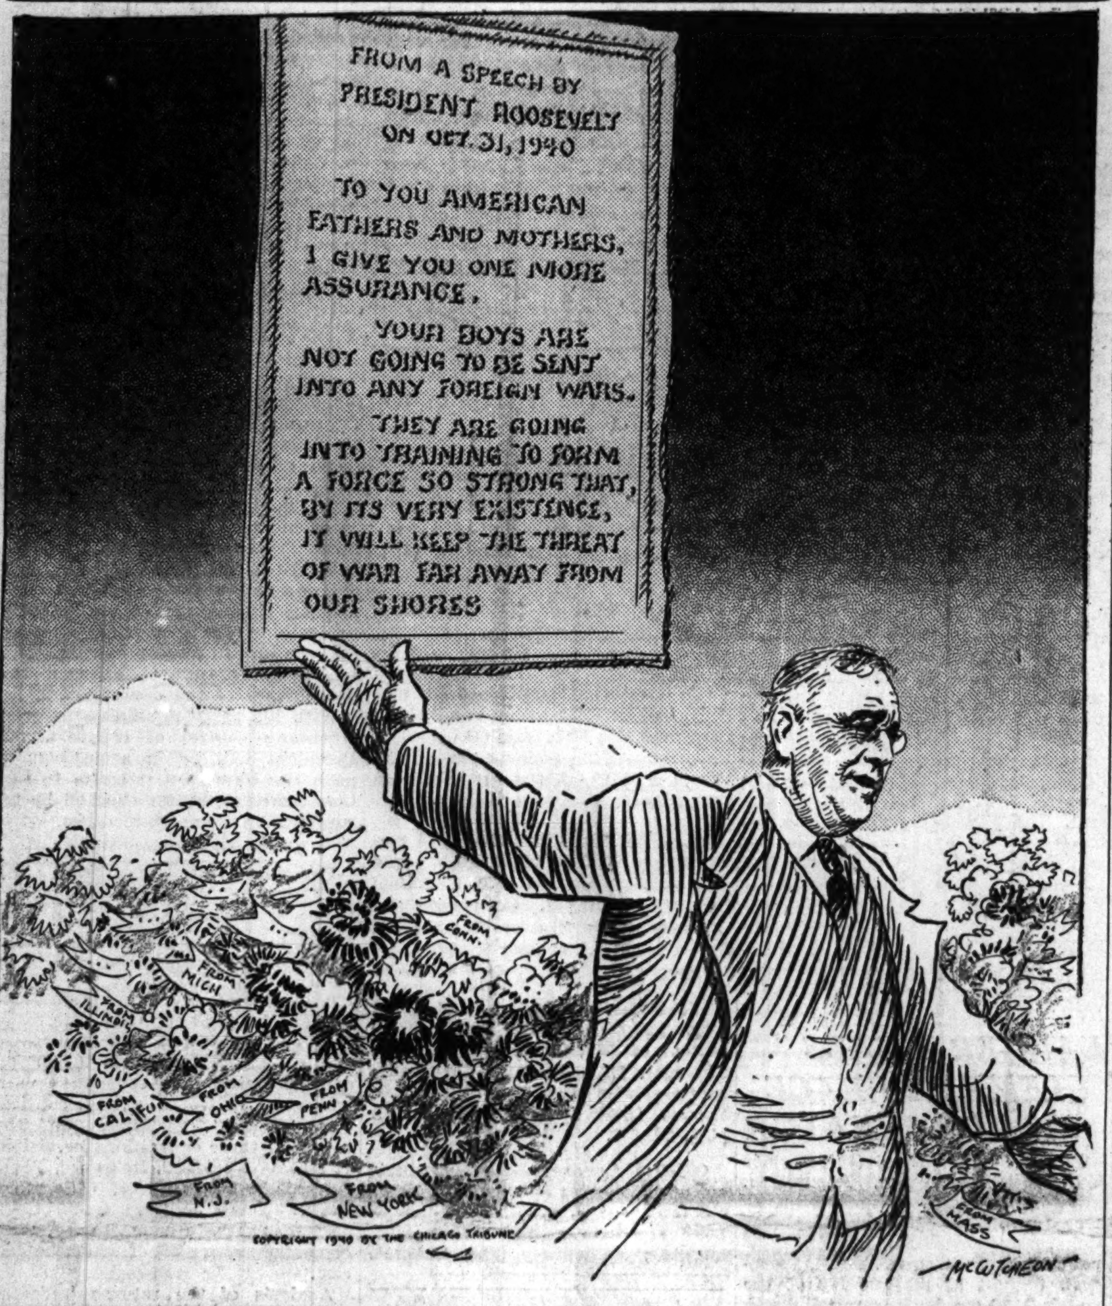
THE BEST RECIPE FOR NATIONAL UNITY



A 500,000 SHIFT! IT COULD HAVE DEFEATED F. D. R.

Plurality Smallest in Quarter Century.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Nearly complete returns last night from the Presidential election disclosed that while President Roosevelt won reëlection to a third term by a majority of 405 electoral votes, his plurality of the popular vote was the smallest received by any successful candidate for the Presidency in a quarter of a century.

The country, outside of the solid south, where Republicans are largely disfranchised, was almost evenly divided between the President and his Republican opponent, Wendell Willkie. A change of fewer than half a million votes could have elected Mr. Willkie.

The latest figures gave Mr. Roosevelt a total of 39 states with 468 electoral votes, Mr. Willkie 9 states with 63 electoral votes. There still remained some doubt as to Michigan, in which Mr. Roosevelt, on the face of the incomplete returns, had a lead of fewer than 4,000. A total of 3,570 precincts out of 3,632 gave Mr. Roosevelt 1,007,414, Mr. Willkie 1,003,688.

G. O. P. Vote Sets Record.

The popular vote for Mr. Roosevelt was a little more than 28 million, for Mr. Willkie about 23½ million. The extent of the protest vote against the third term and the President's war and economic policies is measured by the fact that Mr. Roosevelt received barely more popular votes than he did in 1936, while Mr. Willkie polled about 7 million more than did Alf M. Landon. Mr. Willkie's popular vote was the largest ever received by a Republican candidate for President.

The Roosevelt popular plurality on Tuesday was about 4½ million, compared with the 11 million margin the President had in 1936. Mr. Roosevelt received 54.6 per cent of the popular vote, compared with 62.2 per cent in 1936 and 59.1 per cent in 1932. His popular plurality was the smallest since 1916, when Woodrow Wilson defeated Charles Evans Hughes by a scant 600,000.

Effect of Shift Cited.

Of the President's 4½ million popular plurality about 3 million was contributed by the solid south. In the northern states, in which Presidential elections are decided, there was only 1½ million votes difference between the President and Mr. Willkie. And in the larger states, whose electoral votes Mr. Willkie needed for victory, the difference was less than 1 million, a shift of one half of which would have made him President.

Mr. Willkie conceded his defeat early yesterday. He sent a message of congratulations and best wishes to Mr. Roosevelt and the President replied to him in kind. Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, defeated candidate for Vice President, who failed to carry his home state, exchanged felicitations with the President and with Henry A. Wallace of Iowa, Democratic Vice President Elect, who failed to carry his state.

McNary Looks to 1944.

Incidentally Senator McNary pronounced the tremendous slump in the President's popular plurality and the great increase in the Republican popular vote a portent of Republican victory in 1944. During the next four years Mr. Willkie, a Democrat until 1939, will be the titular leader of the

BROOKS RENEWS HIS PLEDGE: NO FOREIGN WARS

Wayland Brooks, the newly elected United States senator from Illinois, last night renewed his pledge that "no American boy will die on foreign battlefields if I have anything to say about it."

Brooks, who led the fight to keep Republicanism alive in Illinois during the lean years of Democratic landslides, listened quietly to the returns that gave him victory over Senator James M. Slattery. He said that he is profoundly grateful to the voters, then turned his attention to the topic foremost in his mind.

Must Never Fight Abroad.

"Ever since I crawled out of a front line trench in 1918," said Brooks, war hero and holder of the Distinguished Service Cross, "I wanted to have something to say about the operation of my government. And from my experiences in that war I have developed the conviction that American soldiers should not be sent to foreign lands to die."

Besides the Distinguished Service Cross, bestowed by Gen. John Pershing personally, Brooks was given the Croix de Guerre by France, and the Navy Cross. He was wounded seven times at Soissons on July 18, 1918, while leading an attack to cut German supply lines.

A Page from History.

"My war papers read like a book of practical history," Brooks said yesterday. "Gen. Pershing signed my D. S. C. citation, Petain affixed his name to the Croix de Guerre, Josephus Daniels signed the Navy Cross citation, and on my commission is the name of a fellow named Franklin Delano Roosevelt, then assistant secretary of the navy."

Brooks' father, the late Jonas P. Brooks, served in France in the Y. M. C. A., and his two brothers, Russell and Lawrence, volunteered for service. Lawrence, then 18, went into the army to keep the Brooks enlistment at top strength after Russell died in England.

Brooks heard the late returns which assured his election as he sat with his wife, Gertrude, and his son, Russell, 16 years old, in their apartment at 7614 Eastlake terrace.

Beaten Three Times in Past.

During three previous elections Brooks had watched election returns as a candidate. In 1932 he ran for state treasurer, in 1934 he carried the fight for congressman at large, and in 1936 he made a fighting race for governor.

In the campaign of 1936, Brooks led the Republican ticket by 112,000, but his lead dwindled and fell before the onslaught of the Chicago machine.

On each of these occasions he watched his hopes and plans go down beneath an avalanche of Kelly-Nash controled votes in Chicago. And each time he picked himself up and carried the fight back to the opposition against seemingly overwhelming odds.

"I've been running second since I won the 440 yard dash in the county track meet," Brooks said with a grin. "I had begun to be a little tired of that second place. But no one can say I gave up trying.

"I've been telling the people what I'd do if I won the election. Now I'll have a chance to show them that I keep my promises."

7 STATES SHOW A REPUBLICAN GROUND SWELL

Solid Bloc Formed in New Deal Path.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

A midwestern Gibraltar emerged from the powerful surge of New Deal votes over the nation yesterday.

While 39 states from every section of the Union contributed to President Roosevelt's lead, a solid block of seven inland states in the main stood firm against the Democratic flood in the selection of their governors, senators, and congressmen.

The voters of these states were unswayed by the Roosevelt administration's persuasions that intervention in Europe's wars was essential and necessitated the selection of state officers to coöperate with federal officials.

Indiana, Iowa for Willkie.

Two of the seven, Indiana and Iowa, stood fast for Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican candidate, against the third term drive. The other five, Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, and Ohio, were swept into the Democratic column in the Presidential vote but insisted upon choosing Republican officials for state offices in the great majority of cases.

These seven states, bulwark of the wage earning, tax paying classes in the middle west, cast approximately 15¼ million votes, close to a third of the popular vote in the entire nation.

With only 3,000 out of 33,000 voting districts missing, they were almost evenly divided in balloting for the Republican and Democratic Presidential candidates. Their projected total for Roosevelt was 7,827,493, for Willkie 7,548,598. In this great total of votes Mr. Roosevelt's projected margin was only 278,875.

The revival of Republican strength in the seven states, despite the Roosevelt sweep, is detailed in the following lineup:

ILLINOIS

Illinois led in the parade of anti-administration sentiment in the prairie states evidenced by the election of Republicans for state and federal legislative offices.

Against the might of the Nash-Kelly machine in Chicago and the state house machine downstate the G. O. P. elected its nominee for governor, Dwight H. Green, and its candidate for United States senator, Wayland Brooks.

Green even ran ahead of President Roosevelt in the Illinois popular vote. With 43 precincts missing Green had 2,176,186 votes for an incomplete plurality of 242,709 over Harry B. Hershey, his Democratic opponent. With 39 precincts missing Roosevelt had 2,130,194 for an estimated plurality of 93,763 over Willkie. Thus, Green ran ahead of the President by nearly 46,000 votes.

Roosevelt Lead Is Slim.

Despite the Roosevelt victory the Illinois Republicans were jubilant. They noted they had almost wiped out the President's plurality of 712,606 four years ago. On the basis of unofficial returns, with 39 precincts missing, the President had a lead over the Republican nominee of only 93,763.

The Republican upswing was apparent in Chicago as well as downstate. The Democratic margin of 555,386 in the city in 1936 was cut to an estimated 297,000. Roosevelt carried downstate by 160,648 four years ago.

This year figures indicated Willkie took that area away by 136,000 votes.

In addition to losing the governorship in Illinois, the Democratic machine lost out on a lengthy slate of state offices. The Democratic bosses pushed over only one big state job, Edward J. Hughes for secretary of state. All other Republican candidates for state offices were elected.

16 Republicans in Congress.

In addition to the state gains Illinois became one of the strongest Republican states in the Union in its representation in congress. Republicans won control of the Illinois delegation, electing 16 of 27 members. In the present congress the Republicans have only 10 seats; Democrats, 17. The G. O. P. grabbed the two congressmen at large and in addition took the one senatorship at stake. William G. Stratton and Stephen A. Day were the Republican candidates for congressmen at large who defeated Representative Thomas V. Smith and Walter J. Orlikoski.

In the 9th [Chicago] district Charles S. Dewey, Republican, former assistant secretary of the treasury,

Keehn Named Head of State Utility Board

Gov. John Stelle last night appointed Roy D. Keehn chairman of the Illinois Commerce commission. Keehn, whose resignation as commander of Illinois National Guard was forced last April by the late Gov. Henry Horner, had commanded the 33d division and attached troops for 13 years.

Roy D. Keehn.

Today is Keehn's 63d birthday. He was born in Ligonier, Ind., the home town of Governor Elect Dwight H. Green, who began his legal career in Keehn's law office. At the time of Keehn's ouster from the National Guard it was reported this association was displeasing to Gov. Horner.

Vacancy Appointment, Says Stelle.

Reached in Springfield, Gov. Stelle said he had not known of Keehn's association with Green. Keehn never has been active in politics, but is regarded as a Democrat.

"I have been a strong friend of Keehn for years and I always have admired him," Gov. Stelle said. "He is capable, honest, and fearless. It's a vacancy appointment which I was very happy to make."

The chairmanship of the commerce commission is the biggest plum which ordinarily is in the governor's power to bestow. The post was occupied by United States Senator James M. Slattery, who left it to occupy the vacancy caused by the death of Senator James Hamilton Lewis.

Job Pays $6,000 Yearly.

Altho the job pays only $6,000 a year it provides wide authority over all public utilities—transportation, gas, electricity, and telephone. Commission members are barred from having other employment, but their duties are not necessarily heavy.

Directly preceding Keehn in the post were William W. Hart, who had held it since last year, and Paul J. Raver, Slattery's successor who resigned to take a federal position. Slattery was chairman for about three years.

Keehn now is receiver for the Bartenders and Beverage Dispensers' union, local 278.

Keehn last night was on a business trip in Washington, D. C. He maintains a home at 1320 State parkway and a country residence near Lake Bluff.

SULTAN OF JOHORE, 67, MARRIES BEAUTY ON HER 25TH BIRTHDAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Swarthy, fabulously wealthy Ibrahim, British puppet sultan of Johore, today married beautiful Marcella Mendl, 25 year old Rumanian blonde, exactly two weeks after his platinum haired showgirl mistress, Lydia Hill, was killed by a Nazi bomb in a Canterbury fur shop.

The romance began in the streets of London eight days ago when the 67 year old potentate purchased a flag from Marcella and then took her for a dinner date.

Marcella's mother, widow of a rich Rumanian airplane manufacturer who came to England when Germany occupied Austria, met the sultan the next day and gave her consent to the marriage which was performed at Caxton hall registry today, Marcella's birthday. The sultan, ruler in his 7,000 square miles of kingdom at the foot of the Malay peninsula above Singapore, once was married to Mrs. Helen Wilson, the widow of a Scottish doctor. He divorced Helen after seeing Lydia dance in a fashionable London cabaret.

RESERVE MARINE UNIT HERE TO GO ON ACTIVE DUTY

The 9th battalion of the organized marine corps reserves, a Chicagoland unit of 15 officers and 350 enlisted men, will depart tomorrow for San Diego, Cal., for indefinite active duty with the United States marine corps. Maj. Harold M. Keller, battalion commander, said the Chicago unit will be merged with the 2d defense battalion of the fleet marine force, a highly mechanized outfit especially trained for landing operatins.

The battalion will assemble at noon tomorrow in Grant park at Jackson boulevard and Columbus drive. It will march south, with full equipment, on Columbus drive to Congress street, thence to Van Buren street, thence west to the La Salle street station where the troop train will depart at 2:30 p. m. The parade will be led by the battalion band.

Coast Guard on Search for Missing Fishermen

Coast guard boats were sent to the vicinity of Fairport, Mich., yesterday to aid in a search for two men who have been missing since early Monday when they left there in an open 16 foot gasoline launch to go fishing. Identity of the men has not been learned. Three station boats and three cutters are aiding in the search.

Look for New Faces in Third Term Cabinet

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6 [Special].—The report that Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes is about to resign and that Attorney General Robert H. Jackson is slated to succeed him as part of an involved third term cabinet shakeup, stirred inner New Deal circles here today.

The new lineup is expected to reveal Tommy Corcoran as the new solicitor general, while Francis Biddle becomes attorney general.

Meanwhile Mayor Fiorello La Guardia of New York probably will succeed Secretary of War Stimson, if the latter decides to retire, or else be offered the newly created post of coördinator of national defense.

Perkins on Way Out.

Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins is on the way out, according to those who share the confidence of the triumphant New Dealers—but the proposal to replace her with Labor Leader Sidney Hillman is encountering such terrific opposition behind the scenes that the C. I. O. leader's appointment is doubtful. La Guardia also has been mentioned for the labor post, but it is doubted if he would be willing to accept it.

The contemplated shakeup, under the Roosevelt-Wallace régime, also is expected to involve officials of the Democratic national committee, and insiders whisper that National Chairman Edward J. Flynn also is scheduled to step out, receiving the appointment of postmaster general in place of Frank C. Walker, who desires to retire. This contradicts another report that the President's advisers would like to destroy the precedent whereby the national chairman becomes head of the post office department.

White House Favorites.

Jackson and Corcoran are members of the New Deal inner circle and enjoy the confidence of the President. The former was generally regarded as Roosevelt's original choice to succeed him in the White House. Corcoran long has been a White House favorite.

The chief justice will be 79 next April 11, and stories that he intended to retire have been current for the last few months.

Britain Lends $20,000,000 to Greece for War Supplies

First Questionnaires Sent to Draftees in County

Cook county draft headquarters announced last night the first questionnaires to be sent to men of draft age in Cook county were put in the mail yesterday. These questionnaires are sent first to registrants who have volunteered for immediate military service, and then to others in the order in which they appear on the respective board's order number list.

defeated Representative James McAndrews, Democrat. In the 21st district Evan Howell, Springfield attorney and former president of the Young Republicans of Illinois, defeated Frank W. Fries, Carlinville Democrat.

Claude Parsons Defeated.

In the 24th district, James V. Heidinger of Fairfield defeated Claude V. Parsons of Golconda, the Democratic incumbent. The Republican victor in the 25th district was C. W. [Runt] Bishop, of Carterville, who unseated Kent E. Keller, of Ava, New Deal sponsor of the notorious Crab Orchard lake project. Both Fries and Keller voted in congress to withhold funds from the Dies Committee investigation of subversive activities.

The Republican gains swept into the legislature indicating that Green, the new governor, will have a legislature which will coöperate with him in his program. The G.O.P. got a majority in the state senate for the first time since 1930 and the Republican majority in the state house of representatives was retained.

INDIANA

The Republican tide, sweeping thru Indiana, defeated Democratic Senator Sherman Minton, New Deal yes-man. The victor was Raymond E. Willis, Angola newspaper editor. Tabulations from 3,863 of the state's 3,898 precincts gave: Willis, 880,178; Minton, 864,698.

The G. O. P. retained its 7 house seats in congress and gained one, leaving the Democrats only 4. In the 9th district, Earl Wilson, Republican, a school teacher of Huron, defeated Eugene B. Crowe, Democratic incumbent.

Electoral Vote to Willkie.

Willkie carried his native state with its 14 electoral votes. The 1941 Indiana legislature will have a Republican majority in both houses on the basis of election returns. Sixteen Republicans were elected to the state senate, to add to 13 Republican holdover members. This gives the Republicans 29 of the 50 seats in the upper house.

Latest figures on the house, where Republicans held a one vote majority in 1939, showed Republicans leading 37 to 19.

A simple majority in both houses is all that is required to override a veto of the Democratic governor.

IOWA

Iowa gave a signal repudiation of its native son, Vice President-Elect Henry A. Wallace of Des Moines. The Willkie-McNary ticket held a margin of about 50,000 votes in 2,444 of Iowa's 2,453 precincts. The vote was Willkie, 622,737; Roosevelt, 572,655. It was the state's closest presidential election since 1912.

The statehouse also remained in Republican control. Gov. George A. Wilson of Des Moines built up a sizeable lead over John K. Valentine of Centerville. With 2,444 precincts reported, Wilson had 611,766 votes, Valentine, 546,208—a margin of 65,558.

Win in Supreme Court.

The record Iowa vote of 1,200,000 contained safe margins for all Republican state office holders. In addition, the Republicans picked up three state elective posts. Carl W. Reed of Cresco defeated the Democrat, Mike Conway of Atlantic, for a place on the commerce commission.

Republicans T. G. Garfield of Ames and Charles Wennerstrum of Chariton were elected to the Supreme court, replacing the Democratic Justices Paul W. Richards of Red Oak and W. H. Hamilton of Sigourney.

Iowa's representation in congress remained the same. Seven Republicans and two Democrats were elected. Six Republicans were returned to their seats and the seventh, Representative Robert K. Goodwin, who did not seek reëlection, was succeeded by a Des Moines attorney, Paul J. Cunningham.

Democrats in Difficulty.

The six Republicans reëlected were Thomas E. Martin of Iowa City; Karl L. Lecompte of Croydon; Benton F. Jensen of Waterloo; Prof. H. O. Talle of Decorah, J. W. Gwynne, and Fred C. Gilchrist of Laurens.

The two Democratic congressmen had difficulties regaining their seats. William S. Jacobsen scraped thru by a majority much reduced under his lead of two years ago. Vincent Harrington of Sioux City held a lead of 60,936 over his Republican opponent, Albert F. Swanson, who had 59,286, with 283 of 310 precincts reported.

Republicans maintained sizeable majorities in both the Iowa house and senate. The senate majority was approximately 38 to 12 while the house advantage was slightly lower than the 89 to 19 margin of two years ago.

*Incumbent.

MICHIGAN

In Michigan, Republican Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg won his third election, breaking thru the Democratic sweep which carried President Roosevelt to victory. Vandenberg beat Frank Fitzgerald, Democrat, 983,344 to 889,313, with all but 150 of the state's 3,632 precincts reporting.

Returns from Detroit erased an early lead piled up by Gov. Luren D. Dickinson, 81 year old Republican incumbent. He was defeated by Murray D. Van Wagoner, Democratic boss in Michigan. The Democratic governor will not have more than three colleagues of his own political faith in major elective offices.

Both houses of the legislature will be in Republican control. Republican incumbents, on the basis of incomplete returns, were apparently sweeping the entire state elective slate aside from the governorship.

OHIO

Ohio voters took a United States senate seat away from the Democrats and reëlected a Republican governor. President Roosevelt won the state's electoral vote over strong opposition from agricultural areas. His probable majority of 130,000 over Willkie was far short of his 620,000 landslide over Alfred M. Landon four years ago.

Mayor Harold H. Burton, Cleveland Republican, defeated former Congressman John McSweeney, Democrat, for the senate seat held by Democrat Vic Donahey, who did not seek reëlection. Gov. John W. Bricker, Republican, got a second term by decisively smashing Democrat Martin L. Davey's third term attempt. In other state contests, Republicans led for lieutenant governor, treasurer, attorney general and two Supreme court positions. Democrats won the other Supreme court judgeship.

MINNESOTA

Harold Stassen, Republican, was reelected governor of Minnesota, defeating Hjalmar Petersen, Farmer-Laborite, by a towering vote. Returns from 2,566 precincts gave Stassen 491,839; Petersen, 336,429, and Ed Murphy, Democrat, 101,348.

Senator Henrik Shipstead was reelected as a Republican after 18 years as a Farmer-Laborite, defeating Elmer Benson, Farmer-Laborite.

Republicans retained their seven house seats and defeated the lone Democratic congressman. Elmer J. Ryan of South St. Paul, the Democratic incumbent of the 2d district, was defeated by Joseph P. O'Hara, Republican. Minnesota's lone Farmer-Laborite, Representative Richard T. Buckler of the 9th district, was reelected.

WISCONSIN

Wisconsin reëlected its Republican governor, Julius P. Heil, and gave him a Republican senate. Previously, a few Democrats held the balance of power and, in coalition with the Progressives, endangered the Heil administration's program. Results in the assembly were not complete but indications were that the Republican majority in that body would be considerably increased.

Republicans retained all but one congressional seat. Rep. John C. Schafer was defeated in the 4th district by T. F. B. Wasielewski, Democrat. The Wisconsin delegation to the house will have seven Republicans, two Progressives, and one Democrat.

Senator Robert M. La Follette almost failed of reëlection despite a coalition with New Deal Democrats to throw support to President Roosevelt. He defeated Fred H. Clausen, Republican candidate, by only 46,000 votes.

LANGER LEADS LEMKE IN RACE FOR SENATOR

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 6 (AP).—Former Gov. William Langer, Republican, drew into a commanding lead in the race for United States senator over Congressman William Lemke, Independent, and Charles J. Vogel, Democrat, tonight as all but 172 of the state's 2,262 precincts were tabulated.

At that stage, Langer had 91,429 votes, or a lead of 4,494 over Lemke who had 86,928. Vogel received 64,998.

Comparison of the popular vote for President in several important states. The black portion of the bars indicates plurality and the sections marked A show the percentage of change which would have been necessary to put the state in the Republican column instead of the Democratic.

Late Tabulations

Late election returns from important states, as reported by the Associated Press:

INDIANA: Governor—3,677 precincts out of 3,898 gave: Schricker [D.], 843,514; Hillis [R.], 834,652. Senator—3,683 precincts out of 3,898 gave: Willis [R.], 838,317; Minton [D.], 824,652.

IOWA: Governor—2,320 precincts out of 2,543 gave: Wilson, [R.] 582,296; Valentine, [D.] 519,719.

MICHIGAN: Senator — 3,531 precincts out of 3,632 gave: Vandenberg [R.], 1,003,787; Fitzgerald [D.], 906,075. Governor—3,542 precincts gave: Van Wagoner [D.], 1,038,000; Dickinson [R.], 908,010.

MINNESOTA: Senator—3,523 precincts out of 3,696 gave: Shipstead [R.], 623,231; Benson [F.-L.], 299,409; Regan [D.], 240,818. Governor—3,511 precincts gave: Stassen [R.], 634,011; Peterson [F.-L.], 440,199; Murphy [D.], 133,590.

WISCONSIN: Senator—2,961 out of 3,038 precincts gave: La Follette [Prog.], 586,507; Clausen [R.], 540,026; Finnegan [D.], 172,711. Governor—2,981 precincts gave: Heil [R.], 546,829; Loomis [Prog.], 534,753; McGovern [D.], 267,231.

OHIO: Governor—7,684 precincts out of 8,675 gave: Bricker [R.], 1,491,275; Davey [D.], 1,239,953. Senator—7,684 precincts gave: Burton [R.], 1,319,145; McSweeney [D.], 1,228,156.

BURGLARS ROB FURNITURE STORE.

A 500,000 SHIFT! IT COULD HAVE DEFEATED F. D. R.

His Plurality Is Smallest in Quarter Century.

Republican party, succeeding Mr. Landon, who succeeded Herbert Hoover.

Reports persisted that in furtherance of the emphasis the administration is placing on the need for unity to cope with the menace of foreign enemies the President will invite his vanquished rival to accept a post of importance in connection with the defense program, possibly that of chairman of the Advisory Defense commission which is directing mass production of arms and munitions of war. Mr. Willkie charged repeatedly in the campaign that this body needs a responsible head who understands large scale industrial production. He pictured himself as one qualified for that position.

Mandate Interpretation Seen.

The indications are that because of the landslide magnitude of his electoral vote majority, notwithstanding the almost even division of the people, the President interprets the result as a mandate to continue his foreign policy despite the opposition criticism that it is likely to involve the country in war. There is no doubt, furthermore, that he regards his reëlection to a third term, involving popular rejection of the antithird term tradition, as an impressive vote of confidence in all his policies, including the collectivist program of the New Deal and his attitude toward private enterprise, to which his opponents ascribed the continuance of the depression.

With his party remaining in overwhelming control of congress, the President will be in a position to push the New Deal program to further extremes, unless checked by insurgency in Democratic ranks.

Roosevelt Strategy Hailed.

Democratic leaders regard the strategy the President adopted in the campaign as the crowning demonstration of his political astuteness. He struck the pose of a President waiting to be drafted by the people, too busy with the defense program to make political speeches. He made trips as far north as New Hampshire and as far west as Ohio inspecting defense activities in connection with which he delivered subtly political "nonpolitical" speeches. In the course of these expeditions he visited 11 states—Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and New Hampshire—all of which he carried.

Analysis of the returns indicates the overshadowing character of the war issues in this election. The President was strongest in regions where interventionist sentiment is most pronounced, weakest where there is conspicuously manifested the fear that he is edging the country into war.

Eastern Vote Is Illustration.

Thus, Mr. Roosevelt carried the interventionist east and New England with the exception of overwhelmingly Republican Maine and Vermont, and even in those two states in which there is pronounced interventionist sentiment he received considerably more votes than he did four years ago, while Mr. Willkie in both states received fewer than Mr. Landon did.

Mr. Roosevelt carried the middle west with the exception of Indiana and Iowa. But in Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin, and Minnesota, where there is strong noninterventionist sentiment, the Roosevelt vote fell below the 1936 totals while Willkie's rose far above Landon's.

The plains states—the Dakotas, Nebraska, and Kansas—all strongly noninterventionist, went solidly for Willkie. The President's anti-Japanese policy is popular on the Pacific coast, which Mr. Roosevelt carried solidly, and in the mountain states, all of which he won except Colorado.

JESSIE SUMNER CONFOUNDS THE PROPHETS; WINS

G. O. P. Scholar Politician Keeps Congress Seat.

BY MARCIA WINN.

Jessie Sumner, Illinois' feminine political phenomenon, upset a few sages again in Tuesday's balloting. The few thought she could not retain her seat in congress. She did.

Jessie Sumner.

With 10 precincts from Kankakee county in the 18th congressional district still unheard from, Miss Sumner was leading her Democratic opponent, James A. Meek of Danville, by 8,500 votes. She unseated him in 1938 by a majority of 10,938.

State's Youngest Congresswoman.

Miss Sumner, auburn haired and 41, with a Shakespearean vocabulary and a William Jennings Bryan flow of oratory, went to congress by way of Smith college, the University of Chicago, Columbia, and Oxford universities and the judgeship of Iroquois county, where her native Milford is situated. She is the youngest congresswoman ever to represent Illinois, has a scholarly mind, which she reveals in unacademic manner, and has worked for economy and integrity in government. She is a firm isolationist.

Tuesday night a friend from Chicago telephoned her at Milford to find out how she was coming in her race.

"I haven't the slightest idea," she said. "I forgot to find out. I've just been listening to the Willkie returns. But this is the heaviest vote we've ever had down here. A lot of straight tickets."

Yesterday she voiced her disappointment in the national outcome.

Fears More Rubber Stamps.

"I don't think we [Republicans in congress] will be able to do a thing constructive for a while," she said. "I think Roosevelt will have a wand over congress now. Most of them will just go down there and rubber stamp.

"The [Democratic] political technique," she concluded wryly," is so clever that it is very difficult to fight it. You wonder just what a fight for good government can mean now."

Three Republican women were reelected to the Illinois house of representatives. They are Mrs. Bernice Van Der Vries of Winnetka [7th senatorial district], who was unopposed for her third term; Mrs. Maude N. Peffers of Aurora [14th], who swept back into her second term, and Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill of Downers Grove [41st]. Despite a strenuous fight in Will county, Mrs. O'Neill carried it by 2,115 votes and tornadoed thru her home county of DuPage, from which she first went to Springfield in 1922 as "the woman's hope." Since then she has stayed home only one term.

Democratic Women Lose.

The fourth woman member of the legislature, Mrs. Lizzie Barnes of Carmi, a Democrat, seemed, on the basis of incomplete returns, to be defeated. "But it's still too close to give up," she said last night.

Miss Mary Davidson [Dem.] of Carthage, who served the 32d district as state representative from 1930 to 1934 and was a candidate for the state senate Tuesday, was badly defeated.

Mme. Perkins' Chauffeur Fined Following Crash

NEW GOVERNOR OF MISSOURI IS A REPUBLICAN

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 6 (AP).—Complete, unofficial returns from the 4,479 precincts in Missouri tonight gave Forrest C. Donnell, the Republican nominee for governor, a lead of 3,817 votes in his history-making race with Democrat Lawrence E. McDaniel. Donnell had 904,408 to 900,951 for McDaniel.

However, absentee ballots have not been counted, but usually they fall in step with the vote in the counties where they are cast. There were 7,836 absentee ballots in 1936.

Except for the governorship, Missouri went Democratic on its state-wide ticket, from President Roosevelt down thru senator, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer, attorney general and judge of the state Supreme court.

The Republicans tripled their membership in the house of representatives. Dewey Short was reëlected and two G. O. P. newcomers—Phil A. Bennett of Springfield and Walter Ploeser of St. Louis—won out over Democratic incumbents Reuben T. Wood and C. Arthur Anderson.

G. O. P. WOMEN CALL MEETING TO PLAN COURSE

To continue the interest of Republican women in governmental administration and in politics, a "victory" meeting of the Illinois Federation of Women's Republican Clubs will be held in Springfield next Wednesday, Mrs. William G. Suthers, president, announced yesterday.

Altho the group is only two months old, it has a membership of 20,000, Mrs. Suthers said. It includes 100 local clubs and is one of 36 state federations. At the Springfield meeting a program of research and study will be developed.

"We believe this is the only way to insure a solid organization before election time," Mrs. Suthers said, "instead of forming organizations as hitherto only a few weeks before election."

Speakers will include Mrs. John T. Mason of Aurora, Mrs. Bertha Baur, Mrs. C. L. Silvis of Rock Island, Mrs. Bernice Van der Vries of Winnetka, Mrs. Richard Y. Rowe of Jacksonville, Mrs. Elmer Jones of Western Springs, Mrs. Oscar Becker of Springfield, and Mrs. Effie Hale.

WILLKIE RUNS FAR AHEAD OF LANDON IN SOLID SOUTH

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 6 (AP).—Southern Democrats hailed successful defense of the solid south's 124 electoral votes tonight, but backers of Wendell Willkie took some comfort as their man's total pushed far past the 1936 Republican mark.

Slowly accumulating returns placed each of the 11 "solid" states in the President's list by at least 2 to 1, but with an estimated 10 to 20 per cent of the votes unreported, Willkie's count was nearly 50,000 ahead of Alfred M. Landon's 1936 total of 767,000.

Unofficial tabulations from 13,231 precincts of 18,206 in 10 states and 230 of 254 counties in Texas gave Roosevelt 2,856,581; Willkie, 815,619.

COUNT OF ABSENTEE VOTES TO DECIDE WHO IS KANSAS GOVERNOR

Topeka, Kas., Nov. 6 (AP).—Kansas gave Wendell Willkie his largest state majority but its governorship race was so close tonight it will take the official canvass and a count of absentee votes next week to determine whether Republican Gov. Payne Ratner won reëlection.

W. H. Burke, Little River banker, the Democratic candidate, whittled away at Ratner's slender lead all day, then went ahead at nightfall. With only one precinct missing Burke had 417,828 to Ratner's 416,206.

Willkie's margin of 120,000 was larger than his lead in any other state. On 2,694 of 2,734 precincts Willkie had 465,599, Roosevelt 348,974. In 1936 Roosevelt carried Kansas by 67,000 votes.

GARNER SILENT ON THIRD TERM AND OWN FUTURE

Uvalde, Tex., Nov. 6 (AP).—John Nance Garner, who did not vote in the election, said he will decide tomorrow whether he will return to Washington for the remainder of the congressional session.

Dressed in khaki and leather jacket, the Vice President emerged from his home, hurried to his housing project of 40 low rent homes now under construction, and refused to talk of the election.

The Vice President, watching carpenters at work, would not comment on his failure to vote. Mrs. Garner and his secretary, Louis Friday, voted.

Garner has been in Uvalde most of the time since July, when he abruptly left Washington while congress was in session. He returned to the capital for about two weeks in September. He took no part in the campaign.

CHANDLER WINS RE-ELECTION TO U. S. SENATE SEAT

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 6 (AP).—United States Senator A. B. Chandler, Democrat, piled up an unofficial lead of 119,854 today over Walter B. Smith, his Republican opponent, for the unexpired portion of the late Senator M. M. Logan's term. Smith conceded Chandler's election.

With 2,652 of Kentucky's 4,343 precincts tabulated, Chandler had 345,977 votes to Smith's 226,123.

President Roosevelt, with 346,928 votes to Wendell Willkie's 233,498, seemed assured of Kentucky's 11 electoral votes for the third straight time.

MRS. GREEN AND MRS. BROOKS—WHO THEY ARE

Wives of Election Victors Are Joyful.

Two Chicago women who have lived here quite a long while will change their residence in 1941. One goes to Springfield, one to Washington.

Mrs. Dwight Green.

One is Mrs. Dwight H. Green whose husband, she is told, is the first Republican to carry Illinois for the governorship when a Democrat carried it for the presidency. When she moves into the governor's mansion at Springfield, which was bachelor's headquarters under the seven year tenure of the late Gov. Henry Horner, it will be the first time in 25 years that a young mother with young children has been the first lady of Illinois.

The other Chicagoan who is to move her home soon is Mrs. Wayland Brooks. Her husband's fourth political campaign Tuesday won him the office of United States senator, filling the vacancy caused by the death of Senator James Hamilton Lewis. For at least part of each year for the next two years she will reside in Washington.

Glamor Girl of Campaign.

A few words about each:

Mrs. Green is young, in her early 30s, pretty, and gay. She has large, amused blue eyes and chestnut hair which she wears in a long bob. A columnist once dubbed her the glamor girl of the Illinois campaign, and she publicly resented it, but the description is not without truth.

Her name is Mabel Victoria, but to old friends she is known as "Tory." Many hail her as "Mommie," the name her husband uses. Altho he, in turn, is known as Pete to his many friends, she calls him "Poppy."

She is quiet, poised, slow, and thoughtful of speech. When interviewed she will chat easily and freely of her husband or their children, Nancy, who is 12, and Gloria, who is 8, but speaks modestly and reluctantly of herself.

When Mr. Green's election was assured and she heard him make a victory speech over the radio, she burst into tears. "I'm never overly optimistic," she apologized. "It just overwhelmed me." She was so excited she didn't get to bed until 6:45 a. m.

Mrs. Brooks Has Three Interests.

Gertrude Brooks, known to her husband and intimate friends as Betty, is a slender, vivacious woman with red-gold hair and bright, brown eyes. She has three great interests—her husband, their tall, red-headed son, Russell, who is 16, and music.

She was headed for a career as a singer 20 years ago when, a girl of 18, she met and married Mr. Brooks, recognized his ability as a public speaker, and urged him to study law. Their early years were years of struggle and hardship. She abandoned her voice lessons to go to work and learned, as she says, "to stretch a dollar to the limit."

If her husband's victory had come easily and quickly she would have been surprised. "Everything we have ever had," she said with a wistful smile, "has come the hard way. Even this." When it did come she was deeply and quietly happy and gratified, as she said, that "the seriousness of the times brought home to Illinois the solid worth of the political idealism Wayland has been preaching up and down the state for years."

BROOKS DEFEATS SLATTERY WITH LEAD OF 15,000

Victory Heightens Glee in Republican Camp.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Wayland Brooks, Republican, according to almost complete unofficial returns yesterday from Tuesday's election, won the United States senatorship from James M. Slattery, incumbent by appointment, by approximately 15,000 votes.

This news heightened the jubilation which had gotten underway in the Republican camp when earlier returns showed G. O. P. sweeping every major state office from governor on down, with the exception of secretary of state.

Much of the credit for the first Republican victory of this sort in eight years was ascribed to the big turnout of voters. No figures on the actual number of ballots cast were available, but the total vote on the two major nominees for the Presidency—omitting the votes of the Prohibitionists and Socialists and the defaced ballots—came to 2,098,279 in Cook county and to 4,186,279 in the entire state.

Vote of 4,250,000 Indicated.

It is believed that the complete figures would show realization of the prediction that a record breaking 4,250,000 votes were cast in the state.

Because of the closeness of that race, the Brooks-Slattery contest was the center of interest the day after the election. Complete returns from Cook county showed that Slattery carried that area by 146,949 but that Brooks, with 11 of the 3,990 downstate precincts missing, swept the rest of the state by 161,270, giving him an actual lead of 14,321.

Altho he issued no statement on the subject, Senator Slattery was said to have indicated an intention to contest the election if the official returns still show him the loser. The official result will not be known for two or three weeks.

Brooks Lowest Among Winners.

Brooks' close race left him the low man in the Republican plurality list. Dwight H. Green was high with an estimated majority of 243,000 over Harry B. Hershey, his opponent in the race for governor. Next came George F. Barrett, who won the attorney generalship from State Senator Harold G. Ward by an estimated 116,000. Third was Arthur C. Lueder, former Chicago postmaster, who was indicated a winner over Congressman John C. Martin by 109,000.

The fourth and fifth, according to present indications, were Speaker Hugh W. Cross, who defeated Louie E. Lewis for attorney general by 105,000, and Warren Wright, who beat Homer Mat Adams for state auditor by 62,000.

The one state executive post to which the Democrats clung successfully was the office of secretary of state. Edward J. Hughes, the Democratic incumbent, was shown to have won it again over Justus L. Johnson by a margin of 143,000.

Advantage Is Cited.

Politicians hold that a man in this office has a tremendous advantage over an opponent because of his frequent and state-wide contacts with automobile owners and other voters doing business with the office every year.

Green and Brooks ran ahead of Wendell Willkie everywhere. Green carried 79 counties, Brooks carried 78, and Willkie carried only 72. While Willkie lost Chicago by an estimated 297,000, Green lost it by only 42,000 and Brooks by 217,000. Green carried the country towns of Cook county by 105,000, it was estimated, Brooks carried them by 70,000, and Willkie by only 65,000. Downstate the score for Green, Brooks, and Willkie in that order stood 180,000, 162,000, and 137,000.

Gunman Menaces Judge's Wife After Looting Home

Mrs. Frances McCarthy, wife of Judge Justin F. McCarthy of the Municipal court, was menaced by an armed man last night in the front vestibule of her home at 130 North Long avenue. He thrust a pistol at her and compelled her to stay inside while he fled down the front steps. He had ransacked the house and carried away two wrist watches. Judge McCarthy was putting his car in the garage at the time of the encounter.

HAWAIIAN ISLES VOTE 2 TO 1 FOR STATEHOOD BID

HONOLULU, Hawaii, Nov. 6 (AP).—The Hawaiian Islands have expressed their desire for statehood. With complete unofficial returns from all precincts, except the Island of Hawaii, yesterday's plebiscite gave 39,413 in favor of statehood and 19,911 against.

Next step on the long road to fulfilment of this wish will be a resolution from the Hawaiian legislature petitioning congress for statehood.

Republicans elected 11 of the 12 territorial house members and two of the three senate members. Complete unofficial returns placed Lester Petrie, Democrat, in the mayor's chair in Honolulu. The office had been held by a Republican.

DEMOCRATS WIN CLEAN SWEEP OF COUNTY OFFICES

Courtney Tops Slate; Runs Ahead of Roosevelt.

County election returns yesterday disclosed that State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney's great popularity with the voters had pushed his lead far ahead of his fellow Democratic candidates and that, for the third time he had eclipsed President Roosevelt's own vote.

In 1932 Courtney polled 945,684 votes to 919,231 for the President. Four years later, in 1936, he repeated the performance with 1,289,908 votes in the county to 1,253,164 for Mr. Roosevelt.

Yesterday, when returns from all but 47 precincts had been tabulated, Courtney had 1,205,899 votes, and the President, with 30 precincts missing, had 1,157,287. Courtney's opponent, Judge Oscar F. Nelson of the Superior court, polled 822,053 votes.

Kelly-Nash Machine Hit.

While all the Democratic county candidates were elected Tuesday, the Nash-Kelly machine is not lying in the same sort of political bed of roses it formerly occupied.

Downstate, its ally, the statehouse Democratic machine, was soundly defeated. When the state officers-elect take their posts next January, only one Democrat—Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes—will be among them.

The forthcoming exodus from the state capitol will take with it thousands of Democratic pay roll jobs which will revert to Republicans. Many of the jobs have been held by Nash-Kelly henchmen. The governorship alone carries with it control of 15,000 jobs—or has under the Democrats.

In Chicago the machine still faces a politically independent prosecutor—Mr. Courtney—and something genuinely alarming loomed up last night on examination of county returns. This is a sizable decline in the machine's strength as registered in percentages, compared with those by which the incumbents of several important county offices won in 1936.

Percentages Fall Sharply.

Four years ago the Democratic nominees for recorder of deeds, coroner, Superior court clerk, and Circuit court clerk won their offices by polling an average of 61.5 per cent of the county vote.

Yesterday, however, it was found that the candidates for the same jobs—two of them incumbents—polled on Tuesday an average of only 53.7 per cent, or a drop of 7.8 per cent.

A comparable drop was also recorded for the three Democratic sanitary district trustees, who polled 61.4 per cent of the votes in 1936, but dropped to 53.7 Tuesday.

This evidence of the declining power of the machine was viewed with misgivings by Democratic leaders, who are already looking forward to the congressional and legislative elections in 1942 and to the mayoral election in 1943.

How Other Contests Went.

Late county returns showed Recorder Edward J. Kaindl leading A. W. Komarek, Republican, for reelection by a vote of 1,068,470 to 903,693 with 74 precincts missing.

The same tabulation showed Frank Lyman retained as clerk of the Probate court over the Republican candidate, William John Granata, 1,059,946 to 909,643.

In the races for the other court clerkships, John E. Conroy, Democrat, won a third term as clerk of the Circuit court by defeating Walter E. Johnson, 1,043,033 to 926,036. Victor L. Schlaeger kept the Superior court clerkship in his contest with Gustav E. Beerly, Republican, polling 1,072,796 votes to 897,248 for Beerly.

Coroner A. L. Brodie held the coronership by defeating Dr. Edmund F. Bennett, Republican, 1,037,210 to 929,186. The Democratic trustees of the sanitary district returned to office are James M. Whalen, with 1,032,927 votes; Joseph T. Baran, with 1,008,910, and George Seif, with 1,026,342.

Opposing the trustees were John S. Norris, who polled 910,840 votes; Victor B. Listug, 867,497, and Raymond S. Blunt, 892,971 votes.

Former President Hoover Urges Preparedness Drive

Palo Alto, Cal., Nov. 6 (AP).—Former President Herbert Hoover said in an election comment tonight "the transcendent duty now is the full cooperation of everybody" toward national preparedness and keeping out of foreign wars.

LET'S FORGET IT, NO THIRD TERM CHAIRMAN ASKS

Floyd E. Thompson, chairman of the No Third Term Democrats of Illinois, made a plea yesterday that all campaign bitterness and differences be forgotten.

"We who were No Third Term Democrats have no bitterness over the result of the election," he stated. "We are confident that the President and his supporters have none toward Democrats who differed with them on the third term issue.

"It is essential that all parties and all factions forget their differences and unite for the purpose of presenting a unified front to the rest of the world. We ask all patriotic citizens to join us in our resolve to support the President and his administration in meeting the serious problems which confront us all."

GREEN'S FIRST AIM: TO REMOVE TAX FROM FOOD

BY PERCY WOOD.

Dwight H. Green, as governor elect of Illinois, said yesterday that on taking office next January his first important job will be to reduce state expenditures to a point where the sales tax can be removed from food.

"I really believe that I can economize," the governor elect said during an interview, "and I know that in order to do it, I must get rid of the political deadwood on the state pay roll—those holding jobs not on ability but because they are in politics. That will be done."

Hopes to Cut Costs.

"Also I am anxious to do something about relief," Green continued. "I haven't any definite program at this minute, but from many conversations on the subject during the campaign, and studies I will make before taking office, I hope to take the subject entirely out of politics, put it on a systematic basis, and reduce the administrative costs.

"I don't know why it is necessary to spend 10 per cent each year on relief administrative costs, and seven per cent on old age assistance administrative costs. Together they total $7,000,000 annually. I think that is way out of line. I would like to be able to cut it down so that the savings can be applied to the elimination of the sales tax from food, and yet not hamper relief."

"A lot of work has to be done on the state charitable institutions," Green said. "I notice that the number of inmates has increased during the last ten years, but not as greatly as the number of employés.

Plans Inspection Trip.

"There are going to be no 'political' employés in the institutions during my administration. I want a high grade personnel. One of the first things I plan to do after taking office is to make an inspection trip to all of the hospitals and prisons."

Green was pleased with the legislative returns which showed, on the basis of the latest figures, that the Republicans apparently had elected a majority of each house. In the event that final returns show a majority of Republicans elected to the house of representatives, the problem of selecting a speaker will arise, but the governor elect did not care to discuss the leadership question yesterday.

Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg, veteran from the 13th [south shore] senatorial district and former G. O. P. floor leader, is likely to become the leading candidate for the speakership. Other entries may include Representative Robert J. Branson, Centralia, floor leader last session, and Representative F. W. Rennick, Buda.

In the senate, Minority Leader Arnold P. Benson is expected to seek the floor leadership in the Republican caucus which precedes the opening of the 62d biennial session in January.

The governor elect looked fresh and alert yesterday in spite of having had only a few hours' sleep election night. He telegraphed his thanks for wires of congratulations received from Harry B. Hershey, whom he defeated, and from Wendell L. Willkie. He doesn't look forward to any extended period of relaxation between now and January, but plans to get away for a week or so—perhaps to Florida.

Green hopes to have his cabinet completely selected by the day he takes office, but declared yesterday that his preëlection thinking along that line did not result in any choices.

6 PRECINCTS GO WET; RETURNS INCOMPLETE IN 8

Final returns from 8 of the 16 precincts that voted on local option Tuesday showed that six of them chose to permit the sale of liquor. The precincts will be affected according to their boundaries as they were in 1932. These old boundaries, as a result, involve 28 present precincts. The old precinct numbers, the wards, and the results of the referendum follow:

The 2d, 12th, and 56th of the 3d ward, wet; the 40th, 41st, and 44th of the 16th ward, wet; the 1st of the 39th ward, dry, and the 36th of the 41st ward, dry.

One precincts is to be heard from in the 2d ward, five more in the 3d ward, and two more in the 16th ward.

6 NEARBY COUNTY G. O. P. TICKETS RIDE TO VICTORY

Tolson Defeats Shapiro in Only Close Race.

Six Illinois counties near Chicago gave Republican candidates a clean sweep of county offices in Tuesday's election.

In only one race—for state's attorney of Kankakee county—was the result close. It required the count of the last of 41 precincts to determine that Joseph J. Tolson, Republican, won 293 votes more than Samuel H. Shapiro, the incumbent Democrat.

In Will county, where the only Republican incumbent was State's Attorney James E. Burke, the G. O. P. took four offices from the Democrats by substantial majorities. The other four counties were regarded as safely Republican and had no Democratic office holders.

Complete Results of Vote.

Complete results of the election, with the Republican winners listed first, follow:

LAKE COUNTY—State's attorney, Harry A. Hall, 39,707, Charles Noll, 19,695; auditor, Robert J. Pearsall, 38,629, Edward F. Klammer, 20,799; recorder, Howard Scott, 37,763, Fred A. Galiger, 21,154; Circuit court clerk, L. J. Wilmot, 38,117, James E. Powers, 20,944; coroner, Dr. John L. Taylor, 38,519, Orville Lane, 21,003.

WILL COUNTY—State's attorney, James E. Burke, 32,104, Francis J. Loughran, 27,036; recorder, Robert L. Spreitzer, 32,165, Thomas V. Brennan, 25,677; Circuit court clerk, Paul V. Wunder Jr., 30,165, John R. Barney, 27,930; auditor, Herman C. Grassle, 30,163, William J. Barrett, 27,582; coroner, Dr. Elwood A. Kingston, 32,209, Dr. Londus B. Brannon, 24,521.

KANKAKEE COUNTY — State's attorney, Joseph J. Tolson, 14,544, Samuel H. Shapiro, 14,251; Circuit court clerk, Albert Tetrault, 16,103, George Odette, 12,382; coroner, Edward Madison, 15,581, Clarence Lock, 12,503.

DU PAGE COUNTY—County judge, Russell W. Keeney, 42,528, Anton Ziegweid, 15,642; state's attorney, Lee Daniels, 41,288, Edgar Elliott, 16,600; recorder, Lawrence Hattendorf, 41,300, Vernon R. Thornton, 16,455; Circuit court clerk, Robert M. Haenisch, 41,245, Val W. Streit, 16,264; auditor, Robert E. Bradlee, 41,828, John Z. Pezia, 15,639; coroner, aul Isherwood, 41,880, Walter Krawulski, 15,940.

KANE COUNTY—State's attorney, Charles G. Seidel, 42,391, John T. Vincent, 22,276; Circuit court clerk, Charles F. Farmiloe, 41,378, John D. Mettler, 22,152; recorder, M. H. Agnew, 41,100, Earl L. Haag, 22,533; auditor, George A. Chapman, 41,163, Walter G. Earll, 22,286; coroner, L. Victor Peterson, 41,783, Fred H. Popp Jr., 22,511.

McHENRY COUNTY—State's attorney, William M. Carroll, unopposed, 16,087; Circuit court clerk, William T. Conn, 15,847, Albert Billepp, 5,315; coroner, Harry L. Ehorn, unopposed, 16,088.

One of the features of Lane's race for coroner in Lake county was his own campaigning for Wendell L. Willkie and his advice that all voters cast ballots for a straight Republican ticket. Despite this his vote was near the Democratic top.

Election Officials to Wait for Pay; Funds Are Short

A temporary shortage of county funds will delay the payment of judges and clerks who served in the election Tuesday. State Senator Richard J. Daley, deputy county controler, said last night the delay will not be long.

For many years it has been customary to pay the election officials when they turned the ballot boxes over to the election commissioners. Senator Daley said, however, that this practice has been discontinued in recent elections, and that checks are now all mailed to the officials.

GAY EMPLOYES OF GOVERNMENT TO GREET CHIEF

Plan Roaring Reception in Capital Today.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—Jubilant government employés today made elaborate plans for a roaring reception to their chief, President Roosevelt, upon his return to the capital tomorrow morning.

The District of Columbia commissioners issued a proclamation calling upon government employés and other residents to line the route of a welcoming parade from Union station to the White House. Mr. Roosevelt is scheduled to return at 8:30 a. m. from Hyde Park, N. Y.

They'll Be Late to Work.

Government employés were assured that they could be late to work without being docked, provided they attended the reception. School children also were told they could be tardy. The commissioners declared that they wanted Pennsylvania avenue lined with cheering people but that they wanted the reception for Mr. Roosevelt to appear as spontaneous and informal as possible. They urged that employés in private industry also be given time off to attend.

They arranged to have the army, navy, and marine bands stationed along the route to provide martial music for the occasion, and Pennsylvania avenue was ordered bedecked in flags. The Democratic governors of Maryland and Virginia, and members of the cabinet, senate and house were invited to participate.

Say: "I Told You So."

It was anticipated that the President would respond to the greeting at Union station.

Backslapping, handshaking New Dealers returned confidently to their desks today assured of a stay of another four years. Some wore white streamers on their lapels, with letters in red, reading: "I told you so."

Early arrivals this morning at the United Mine Workers building, housing John L. Lewis' offices, found a huge canvas banner stretched across the doorway reading, "Resignation accepted." Lewis, head of the C. I. O., supported Wendell L. Willkie and said he would resign if President Roosevelt was reëlected.

BURON FITTS, FAMED PROSECUTOR, LOSES RACE IN LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 6 (AP).—Buron Fitts, prosecutor of many sensational criminal cases, will surrender the office of Los Angeles county district attorney next month to John F. Dockweiler, 45 year old former Democratic congressman.

Fitts was overwhelmingly defeated in yesterday's election.

Elected lieutenant governor in 1926, Fitts resigned two years later to make the first of three successful campaigns for district attorney. He was named special prosecutor in the trial of his former chief, District Attorney Asa Keyes, whom he convicted of bribery in connection with the Julian Petroleum corporation scandal.

As a chief deputy Fitts was active in the conviction of Clara Phillips, "hammer murderess," and William Hickman, child slayer, and as district attorney in the prosecution of many famous criminal cases.

KILLED BY I. C. TRAIN.

Edwin H. Ward, 50 years old, 17912 Gottschalk avenue, Homewood, was killed last evening by an Illinois Central electric train near the Homewood station. He had just alighted from a southbound train.

FRIENDS INSIST C. I. O. CANNOT 'DRAFT' LEWIS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6 (AP).—Authoritative C. I. O. sources today reported pro-Roosevelt leaders in the organization are behind a movement to "draft" John L. Lewis for another term as president, but close associates declared emphatically that Lewis will not be persuaded to keep the post he promised to relinquish upon President Roosevelt's reëlection.

Lewis was silent, turning down all requests for election comment. Those close to him, however, said the C. I. O. leader felt he had made a commitment he could not revoke when he endorsed Wendell Willkie and told the nation in a radio speech two weeks ago that he would regard a Roosevelt victory as a vote of no confidence by labor in his leadership.

Philip Murray, a Roosevelt supporter, who has been Lewis' closest friend in the labor movement for 30 years, is regarded as the heir to the C. I. O. presidency.

CRUSADE MUST GO ON! WILLKIE TELLS BACKERS

Vote Result Taken with Complete Good Will.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 6.—Wendell L. Willkie, after accepting the election results with "complete good will," and wiring congratulations to President Roosevelt, announced today that his crusade would continue.

The defeated Republican Presidential nominee said that he would make a statement in a few days, after he had formulated plans as to how the forces which he represents might continue to function and to the part he intends to play in the future political scene.

"Crusade" to Go On.

Willkie issued a formal statement to his supporters, both active workers and voters, saying:

"I know that they will continue, as I shall, to work for the unity of our people, in the completion of our defense effort, in sending aid to Britain and in insistence upon removal of antagonisms in America—all to the end that government of free men may continue and may spread again upon the earth."

The crusade which Willkie will continue, probably as a writer and speaker, was summarized by him in his Madison Square Garden address last Saturday night. This was referred to by him today as his creed. It is stated in one paragraph as follows:

"The unlimited spending of borrowed money—the piling up of burocracy—the usurpation of powers reserved to congress—the subjugation of courts — the concentration of enormous authority in the hands of the executive—the discouragement of enterprise — and the continuance of economic dependence for millions of our citizens upon government—these are the methods of the New Deal. But they are not the methods of democracy."

Next Move Undecided.

Whether Willkie will become a sort of country squire in Rushville, Ind., living on his farm and writing, or whether he will reënter business and take occasional sallies into the political field, has not been decided. His immediate plans are to clean up his campaign business in New York in a few days and then take a vacation of two or three weeks.

Willkie appeared in good spirits this morning, altho it was evident he had received a hard blow. He appeared in the Hotel Commodore, where he spent the night, and said over the air:

"I accept the result of the election with complete good will. The popular vote shows the vitality of our democratic principles and the adherence of our people to the two party system. I extend my thanks to the thousands who so zealously and wholeheartedly worked for my election in various organizations, and to the added millions who supported me."

"I am feeling fine," he said, as the camera lights played fiercely about his face. "I am proud to have led the crusade I did lead. I believe deeply, if anything, more deeply than ever, in the principles I advocated. As a matter of fact the adoption of these principles in America is indispensable to the preservation of the free way of life. I end the campaign as I entered it, without bitterness to any one."

Rayburn Hopes Congress Will Adjourn Next Week

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6 [Special].—With the election settled Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn [D., Tex.] said that he now hopes to get congress to adjourn sine die next week. Rayburn declared that there is no urgent business requiring congress to remain in session. The congress has been taking a series of three day recesses since early last month.

ROOSEVELT LAYS CORNERSTONE OF NEW POSTOFFICE

Replies to Messages from Willkie and McNary.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Nov. 6 [Special].—In high spirits over his election to the first third term in the nation's history, President Roosevelt today laid the corner stone of the postoffice he got his native village.

In an impromptu speech he studiously omitted mention of his victory, altho he could not refrain from taking a jab at John L. Lewis, leader of the Congress for Industrial Organizations, who deserted the New Deal.

Willkie's Congratulations.

And in his hour of triumph, Mr. Roosevelt was cold to his defeated rival, Wendell L. Willkie. He sent a frigid telegram of acknowledgment to Willkie's telegram of congratulations in contrast to the warm wire he sent Charles L. McNary, Republican candidate for Vice President.

"Congratulations on your reëlection," Willkie wired. "I know that we are both gratified that so many American citizens participated in the election, I wish you all personal health and happiness."

"Please accept my sincere thanks for your message of congratulation," the President replied. "I greatly appreciate the assurance of your good wishes for my health and happiness which I heartily reciprocate."

From his home in Salem, Ore., came McNary's 10 word greeting: "Heartiest congratulations. Wishing you all grace and administration all prosperity."

To McNary the President wired:

"Many thanks for your generous and therefore characteristic message and I know you and I will work together in the national interest. I heartily reciprocate all your good wishes."

Drives in Own Car.

Mr. Roosevelt drove to the Dutchess county Fieldstone postoffice in his own car. At his side was his mother, Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt.

Mr. Roosevelt made the dedication with a 500 word speech. While he was speaking two men appeared with placards bearing the legends: "When Lewis resigns labor will have peace" and "Not Mr. Lewis, but Unity."

The President thrust at his old friend by telling photographers, who were taking pictures of him, "Head the other way—there's your story." He looked significantly at the placards.

Mr. Roosevelt left at 11:30 p. m. for Washington, where he will arrive tomorrow morning.

MRS. WILLKIE GLAD IT'S OVER; NEXT JOB IS HOUSE HUNTING

New York, Nov. 6 [Special].—Smiling happily, Mrs. Wendell L. Willkie said today that she is glad she can be a private citizen again.

"I never wanted the limelight," she declared, "but I'm glad my husband ran for President and I'm glad of the stand he took. He made a magnificent showing and he didn't let any one down. I hope he has made a sufficient impression to achieve a lasting effect."

No effect of the strain of recent weeks showed in Mrs. Willkie's face. If anything, she was more cheerful and relaxed than she has been since the campaign began. She spent the afternoon with her son, Philip, who returned tonight to Harvard. She hopes to start house hunting tomorrow.

Veteran Leaves Hospital to Cast Ballot, Then Dies

Richard Bertol, 52 years old, a world war veteran, was found dead yesterday, apparently of a heart attack, outside the Hines veterans' hospital where he was a patient. Bertol left the hospital Tuesday to come to Chicago to vote. After he returned to the hospital in the evening he left for a walk, but failed to return. His Chicago home was at 2059 Van Buren street.

5 RELATIVES SUE TO UPSET WILL OF MRS. BROWN

A suit to set aside the $480,000 will of Mrs. Isabella Brown, widow of George Brown, once a member of the Board of Trade, was filed yesterday in the Circuit court by two nieces and three nephews who live in Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Brown, who died Nov. 10, 1939, in her home at 850 Lawrence avenue, left the bulk of the estate to the British Old People's home, Brookfield; the Church Home for the Aged, 5445 Ingleside avenue, and St. Mary's home, 2822 Jackson boulevard.

The suit was filed by Mrs. Loretta Caulfield, Mrs. Margaret Healy, and William, Arthur, and Augustus Marks, none of whom was remembered in Mrs. Brown's will. It charges that another niece, Mrs. Mary Ash of Portland, Me., exercised undue influence upon Mrs. Brown, who was 88 years old at the time of her death, and dictated provisions of the will.

SENATE RETURNS SHOW WAR HUGE FACTOR IN VOTE

Democrats Gain in East; G. O. P. in Midwest.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

Of outstanding significance in the results of Tuesday's national congressional elections is the apparent effect of the war intervention issue. While the Democrats scored important gains in the eastern seaboard states, where the war intervention spirit is strong, these gains were largely offset by Republican victories in middle western states, stronghold of opposition to involvement in foreign wars.

Approximately complete returns disclosed that Republican congressional gains in the middle west almost canceled their loss of 22 house seats in Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and a few other states.

The Republicans gained six congressional seats in Illinois, including the two at large, and picked up one in Minnesota, two in Missouri, one in Indiana, and one in Oklahoma. In this region they lost only four—two in Michigan and two in Wisconsin.

162 Republicans Elected.

The incomplete returns indicate that the Republicans elected 162 of the 435 house members, a net loss of eight of their 170 seats in the present congress. The Democrats apparently elected 267 and other parties six.

In the senate the Republicans increased their membership from 24 to 28. They gained senate seats in Illinois, Ohio, Nebraska, Minnesota, and Indiana, but lost one in Delaware, where Senator John G. Townsend Jr. was defeated by James M. Tunnell, Democrat.

In Illinois, C. Wayland Brooks, an uncompromising noninetrventionist, unseated Senator James M. Slattery, a New Deal yes-man who received an interim appointment from the late Gov. Henry Horner in 1939.

Minton Is Defeated.

Senator Sherman Minton of Indiana, Democratic whip of the senate and a leading New Deal shock trooper, was defeated by Raymond E. Willis, Angola Republican editor.

In Ohio, Republican Mayor Harold H. Burton of Cleveland defeated John McSweeney, Democrat, for the senate seat now held by Vic Donahey, who did not seek reëlection.

In Nebraska, Hugh A. Butler, Omaha grain merchant and Republican national committeeman, defeated Gov. Roy L. Cochran, Democrat, for the senate seat now held by Senator Edward R. Burke. Senator Burke, an ardent supporter of President Roosevelt's war policies, altho a consistent foe of New Deal domestic policies, was defeated for the Democratic nomination by Gov. Cochran.

Non-Interventionist Wins.

In Minnesota, Senator Henrik Shipstead, veteran Farmer-Laborite, was reëlected to the senate as a Republican. Shipstead, a non-interventionist, defeated Elmer A. Benson and John E. Regan, respectively, his Farmer-Laborite and Democratic opponents.

Two other middle western noninterventionists were reëlected to the senate. In Michigan, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination at Philadelphia, obtained a commanding lead over Frank Fitzgerald, his Democratic challenger. In Wisconsin Senator La Follette won reëlection by a slim margin over Fred H. Clausen, Republican. James E. Finnegan, the Democratic candidate, ran far behind.

Opposes War Measures.

Altho a supporter of the New Deal's radical domestic policies, La Follette consistently has opposed the Roosevelt administration on the war intervention issue.

The only outstanding non-interventionist reëlected to the senate from an eastern state was the veteran David I. Walsh of Massachusetts, chairman of the senate naval affairs committee.

In President Roosevelt's home district, however, Republicans gave Representative Hamilton Fish of New York, ranking minority member of the house foreign affairs committee, an overwhelming victory. Mr. Roosevelt took the stump in his home district in an effort to unseat Fish, who is one of the leading noninterventionists in the house.

Control in Coalition.

With Republicans failing to make their expected gains, President Roosevelt's control of the 77th congress in the third term of his administration can be challenged effectively only if members of his own party, in substantial numbers, join the Republican opposition.

President Roosevelt's reëlection to an unprecedented third term is likely to increase his prestige tremendously and to be represented as a mandate from the people for congressional acquiesence in his acts and policies.

But Mr. Roosevelt's reëlection in 1936 was accompanied by the election of a much more overwhelmingly Democratic congress and the "mandate" theory was not sustained.

Unable to Pack Court.

A revolt in the President's own party, assisted by solid Republican opposition, resulted in the defeat by the senate of his proposal to pack the United States Supreme court.

Similar coalition opposition in the house defeated Mr. Roosevelt's proposal in 1938 to reorganize the federal government along authoritarian lines.

Republican gains of 80 house seats in the 1938 election resulted for a time in actual working control of that body by the coalition of Republicans and anti-New Deal Democrats. Such coalition control was demonstrated with the scrapping of Mr. Roosevelt's 5 billion dollar lending-spending program in 1939 and by the passage this year of the Smith bill to overhaul the Wagner labor relations act.

Wars Give Him Power.

The national defense question created by the wars abroad greatly increased Mr. Roosevelt's influence with congress during the last half of this year's session. Noninterventionists protested in vain against the President's policy of giving all possible assistance "short of war" to Great Britain. They protested in vain against the passage of the first peace time military conscription bill in the nation's history.

With hardly a murmur of opposition, even to details and methods, congress authorized expenditures of 13 billion dollars by the army and navy in the current fiscal year and 4 billion more by the navy in the next four or five years.

3 SHOT; BALLOT BOX STOLEN AS KENTUCKY VOTES

Jackson, Ky., Nov. 6 (AP).—Seizure by eight masked men of a ballot box containing 435 votes was reported today in "bloody Breathitt" county, where three men were shot in an election affray yesterday.

Lester Combs, George Blanson, and Lewis and Ike Watts told authorities they were bringing the ballot box here from Leatherwood precinct when halted by the armed party, which seized the box and disappeared into the woods. The precinct normally votes Democratic.

Bruce Cundiff, 55 years old, a candidate for the county school board, and two others were wounded in yesterday's shooting.

COUNTY RUNS OUT OF BALLOTS; 400 UNABLE TO VOTE

Lufkin, Tex., Nov. 6 (AP).—Four hundred Lufkin voters didn't get to ballot yesterday. County Auditor Amos Courtney hadn't ordered enough ballots to go around.

"I thought I ordered plenty—2,000 more than the last election," he explained.

Auditor Courtney's office said today he had left town for a visit of several days.

Nazis Behead 5 as Traitors; Biggest 1 Day Toll of Spies

BERLIN, Nov. 6 (AP).—The heads of five convicted traitors rolled under the executioner's ax today in the biggest single day's death toll for espionage.

28 Chemistry Students Stricken by Chlorine Gas

Oakland, Calif., Nov. 6 (AP).—Twenty-eight Roosevelt High school students were taken to a hospital for observation today after inhaling chlorine fumes in the chemistry laboratory. Three boys and three girls were kept at the hospital for further check. The rest were released. William F. Ewing, superintendent of the school, said the ventilating system in the laboratory apparently did not function, and chlorine gas, generated during an experiment, permeated the room.

Girls Leap Into Firemen's Nets at Blaze in Buffalo

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 6 (AP).—Two girls suffered serious burns, at least a half dozen others were injured, and two firemen were overcome by smoke as a spectacular fire destroyed a toy factory in downtown Buffalo today. Two girls jumped to safety into firemen's nets. Officials said 67 of approximately 85 women employés of the plant were eating lunch when the blaze was discovered.

MRS. SELMA RICHEL DIES.

Holland, Mich., Nov. 6 [Special].—Mrs. Selma Richel, 86, died at her daughter's last night. A native of Germany, she had lived here 80 years, nearly all of them in Frankfort, and Ottawa county, Mich.

16 'BAD' WARDS, WATCHED, TURN OVER NEW LEAF

Machine Candidates' Vote Takes a Nosedive.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

Analysis of returns from the city's 16 "bad" wards—hitherto strongholds of the Nash-Kelly machine—showed that the volunteer army of watchers and challengers at the 900 precinct polling places in the area did their work well. Altho the machine still won majorities in all but one ward, the distribution of ballots between the two major parties was much more equal than usual.

A ward by ward comparison was made of the vote for Dwight Green yesterday and the vote for him in the April, 1939, mayoral election when he ran against Mayor Kelly. In 1939 Green was given only 25.1 per cent of the total vote cast in these wards. On Tuesday he won 33.5 per cent of the total, an improvement in these 16 wards alone of 8.4 per cent.

Hershey Loses 42d Ward.

Green polled 94,136 votes in these 16 wards in 1939, and on Tuesday he gathered 133,252. Mayor Kelly in 1939 rolled up 280,367 votes here but Harry B. Hershey, running for governor against Green, was able to gather only 263,943 votes. Hershey actually lost the 42d ward to Green, gathering 13,533 votes to Green's 15,704.

Republican leaders, accustomed to having strong showings made in other Chicago wards cut down or overwhelmed by the machine vote in these bad wards, declared themselves delighted with results. Candidate after candidate telephoned yesterday to Chairman John T. Dempsey of the Republican Cook county central committee asking him to give thanks to the watchers.

Watchers Are Commended.

The work of 3,500 young attorneys, executives, professional men, and salesmen who joined to form the Business Men's 1940 Election committee, was particularly commended. These men, armed with challengers' credentials, concentrated their efforts in the 16 machine wards, and are considered chiefly responsible for the showing made there.

Nonpartisan watchers—some 5,500 of them—directed by the Joint Civic committee, also were in some of the "bad" wards but were spread more generally thruout the city. This group, under the leadership of Pierce Ward and Glen Lloyd, had observers in 31 wards. Their watchers' reports will be summarized and turned over to Judge Edmund K. Jarecki next week.

The city council passed a resolution yesterday asking civic organizations whose members watched the polls to submit reports of any fraud or disorders that their observers turned in. The resolution was introduced by Ald. James J. McDermott [14th] who threatened prior to election day to smash cameras of the volunteer watchers and run observers out of his ward.

The council also resolved to ask the legislature to amend the election laws to prevent a repetition of the disenfranchising of registered voters. Mayor Kelly said he would have city attorneys prepare a change in the law for submission at Springfield.

GANG CONTROL SHAKEN

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Gangster control in the Frst ward was considerably shaken in Tuesday's election and the efforts of various committees of civic and business leaders were credited with preventing at least 5,954 fraudulent votes. The combined forces of Ald. Michael [Hinky Dink] Kenna and the Nitti syndicate gave President Roosevelt a plurality of 3,804 in this stronghold of democracy which hasn't been carried by a Republican in more than fifty years.

Tuesday's vote in the ward was Roosevelt, 8,650; Willkie, 4,846. At the last previous election the vote there for the mayoralty candidates was Kelly, 11,331; Green, 1,573. The difference in the Roosevelt and Kelly margins is 5,954. In this election Dwight Green as Republican gubernatorial nominee fared far better than he did as a mayoral candidate. The vote on governor was Hershey, 8,084; Green, 5,271.

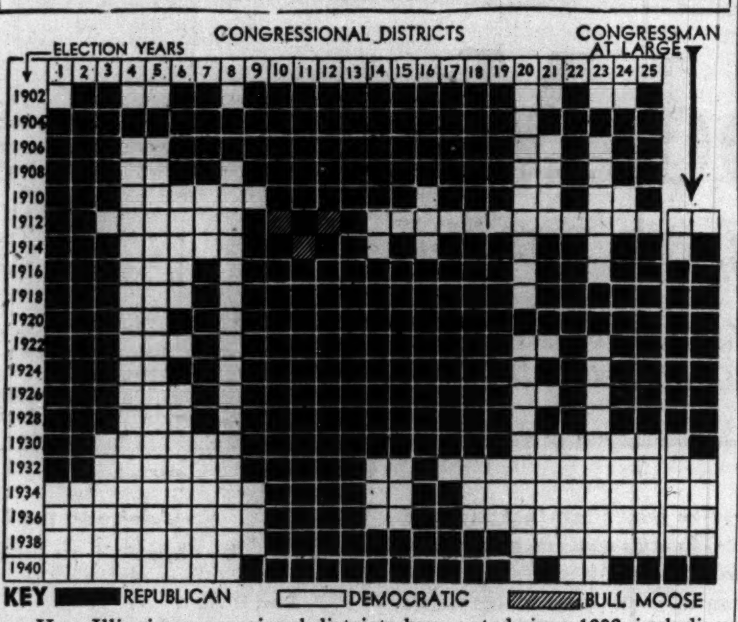
There were at least 300 watchers on duty in the 1st ward for this election, many of them residents of Wilmette, Evanston, Hinsdale, and other suburbs. They were captained by James S. Shannon, an attorney; Bernard S. Black, printing executive; English Walling, banker, and Miss Jane Nelson, secretary

3,000 Names Taken Off.

Teams organized by them spent at least six weeks canvassing the registered vote of the ward that for years has been "delivered" by Ald. Kenna and the late Ald. John [Bathhouse] Coughlin. The teams were successful in shaving 3,000 names off the poll lists which had been loaded with phonies, they reported.

"We watched every move made in the ward election day," said Shannon yesterday. "We challenged hundreds of votes that to us appeared fraudulent. Many persons were permitted to vote after challenges. One lodging house keeper made three affidavits that we have reason to believe constitute perjury. I believe there will be a number of prosecutions based on our observations."

Illinois Congressional Election History



How Illinois congressional districts have voted since 1902, including the results of Tuesday's election.

AMERICAN LABOR PARTY GIVES N. Y. TO ROOSEVELT

Vote Greatly Surpasses President's Margin.

New York, Nov. 6 [Special].—Altho failing to carry the state in the Presidential and senatorial races, New York Republicans found reason for rejoicing in the fact that yesterday's election cemented their grip on the state legislature and saw them defeat the one victor in President Roosevelt's otherwise unsuccessful 1938 purge attempts.

Analysts showed that the President's margin of 230,000 votes over Wendell Willkie in the state was directly attributable to votes of the American Labor Party.

The American Labor Party, which supported both Mr. Roosevelt and Senator James M. Mead, polled 318,000 votes in New York city and 60,000 upstate. Thus Mead owed most of his 430,000 margin over Representative Bruce Barton to the American Labor Party, it generally was conceded.

Win Democratic Stronghold.

Perhaps the biggest surprise of the election was the defeat of Representative James H. Fay, generally regarded as the New Deal's congressional leader for Manhattan since he purged Representative John J. O'Connor for the President two years ago. His east side congressional district, the 16th, never before had gone Republican.

To make the upset even more startling, the victor was a youthful unknown who never before had run for public office, William T. Pheiffer, who came here from Texas only a few years ago. Pheiffer's aggressive campaign, combined with Irish defection from the Democratic ranks and opostion of O'Connor and former State Senator John J. McNaboe, an anti-third term Democrat, made the victory possible.

Analysis of the vote in New York City showed it extremely "spotty." Altho Roosevelt won here by 729,836, he lost two of the five boroughs—Queens and Richmond [Staten Island]—Including nine of the 62 assembly districts. He just squeezed thru in eight others.

Heavy defection from Democratic ranks all along the line was found in districts with large groups of persons of Irish, Italian, and German descent.

Manhattan's 195,000 Roosevelt majority was higher than was predicted by the most optimistic Tammany leaders, but the borough for the first time in many years will have two Republican congressmen and two Republican state senators.

Brooklyn's 353,000 majority for Roosevelt was in line with predictions, but Willkie carried three assembly districts and ran very close in three others. The Bronx majority of 219,000 was below predictions of Bronx Boss Edward J. Flynn, Democratic national chairman.

County Treasurer Race in Indiana Ends in a Tie

Shoals, Ind., Nov. 6 [Special].—The race between Kermit Williams, Democrat, and John Mann, Republican, for Martin county treasurer ended in a tie. Each candidate polled 2,688 votes in 22 precincts. Both were seeking office for the first time.

ISLAND BONFIRE'S WARMTH BREAKS CAMPAIGN HEAT

Campaign literature swept up from the deserted headquarters of both parties blazed on the beach last night in a bonfire symbolizing the end of campaign enmity. The ceremony was sponsored by the Chicago Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mayor Kelly, the principal speaker, said that while the actual burning of the pamphlets might appear frivolous, the necessity for forgetting campaign bitterness in the face of national crisis was not. In a lighter vein he added: "I'm glad to see al of this stuff burned because I suspect most of it was about me."

Other speakers were Congressman Raymond S. McKeough of Chicago, who asserted Americans must forget the "stings, cuts, and unjustifiable charges" of a campaign; Ray Millard, national secretary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce; and Charles Beatty, who presided.

ROBBED OF $550 JEWELRY.

Robbers took jewelry valued at $550 early yesterday from George Losten, president of the R. H. Taylor bedding company, 3138 Roosevelt road. The gunmen stopped Losten near Sheridan road and North Shore avenue.

Hughes Is Congratulated by Defeated Republican

Justus L. Johnson, Republican nominee for secretary of state, yesterday congratulated his victorious opponent, Edward J. Hughes, the incumbent. "Mr. Hughes carried on a sportsmanlike campaign, devoid of personalities," Johnson said, "and he is to be congratulated on his victory. He has been and will continue to be an excellent secretary of state."

RULE OF STATE SENATE RETURNS TO REPUBLICANS

8 Seat Gain Is Indicated; House Edge Held.

Dwight H. Green, Republican governor-elect, will have a Republican legislature to help him carry out his program next year, on the basis of latest returns yesterday. The G. O. P. won a majority in the senate for the first time since 1930 and retained its slight edge in the house of representatives.

Republicans apparently gained eight senate seats to give them 28 out of the 51 members. In the house race indications were that gains in Chicago and losses downstate almost counterbalanced, giving a membership of 78 Republicans and 75 Democrats. The G. O. P. had 79 house seats in the last session.

The only senate gain in the metropolitan area was in the 6th [Rogers Park-Evanston] district where William G. Knox, a manufacturer of electrical equipment, defeated Senator John J. Meyers, a Nash-Kelly Democrat.

Complicating the contests for house seats was the fact that party votes alone did not decide the outcome. Each voter cast three votes for the office, which he could "plump" for a single candidate or divide between two or three.

Attendants to the queen and the classes they will represent are: Ellen Rose Huckleberry, senior, Charleston; Jane Abbott, junior, Charleston; Jewell Emmerich, sophomore, Wheeler; Marjorie Thomas, freshman, Charleston, a younger sister of the queen.

MEXICO OPENS ITALIAN POUCH; $2,000,000 FOUND

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 6 (AP).—Mexican customs authorities, reported to have acted on a tip from the United State government that a large sum was being sent here for Italian and German propaganda activities, today discovered $2,000,000 in United States currency. It was in a diplomatic pouch borne by a special courier from the Italian embassy in Washington. The courier was permitted to retain the money.

Italian legation sources said that Count Alberto Marchetti, Italian minister to Mexico, protested and obtained an apology for the search.

The Mexican government declared an "inexperienced" official was responsible for the search. A responsible government source however, said the United States government furnished the information that led to discovery of the cash.

At the Italian legation it was said the funds were brought in to meet routine legation expenses. No explanation was given for use of the diplomatic pouch.

Federal Courts Resume Naturalization Hearings

After a lapse of 30 days, because of the election, the federal courts resumed naturalization hearings yesterday and Judge Philip L. Sullivan granted final papers to 260 men and women. Hearings will be held four days a week—Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays. The federal immigration and naturalization office has on file nearly 10,000 names of persons who have qualified for final citizenship certificates and are awaiting final court action to become citizens. Regulations prohibit naturalization hearings for 30 days before a general election.

COL. P. R. CRIPPEN TO RETIRE TODAY AS A POLICEMAN

Col. Philip R. Crippen, member of the police department since 1913 and for three years its personnel director, will relinquish his duties today when he reaches the compulsory retirement age of 63 years. Col. Crippen was at first a police efficiency expert, then became an inspector, investigating complaints against policemen. He served a year as departmental secretary, returned to the post of inspector, and in 1937 was elevated to his present position, serving also as Commissioner Allman's "trouble shooter."

Col. Crippen has headed the medical, training, and inspection divisions of the department and has been in charge of the police training school.

He was born in Coldwater, Mich., came to Chicago in 1983 and served in the Spanish-American and world wars. He was a major in the latter and now holds a commission as lieutenant colonel in the army reserves. Col. Crippen lives at 7240 Jeffery avenue.

Golden Eagle Killed on Farm Near Lincoln

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 6 [Special]. —A young golden eagle was shot yesterday by William E. Quinn of Peoria on the farm of his son-in-law, Grover Baker, near Lincoln. The eagle swooped down in an effort to snatch a chicken and Quinn grabbed a shotgun from the porch and killed it.

FINLAND IS OVERRUN BY GERMAN TROOPS, SAY SHIP PASSENGERS

New York, Nov. 6 [Special].—Well equipped German troops are overrunning Finland on their way to Norway and many are not leaving the country, passengers on the Finland freighter Mathilda Thorden said today as they arrived from Petsamo.

"There are uniformed Germans over all Finland," said B. W. Cate Brower, 22 years old, a Dutchman from Leyden who fought the Russians in Finland and the Germans in Norway. "There were three cars full of them on the train that brought us to Petsamo, flyers and antiaircraftsmen, and truckloads of excellent military equipment were everywhere."

Passengers said all food was severely rationed thruout Finland and that there was a shortage of butter and fresh fruits.

Offers $25,000 to Settle John Barrymore's Debts

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 6 (AP).—John Barrymore's attorney proposed today that $70,000 of the actor's debts be settled for $25,000. Of the amount, they said, about $50,000 is claimed for fees by various lawyers who have represented Barrymore in court actions. In addition to the $70,000 in unsecured and disputed claims, Barrymore's attorney's said he owes some $40,000, of which $23,000 is due as income tax and $14,000 is owing his former wife, Dolores Costello, as alimony.

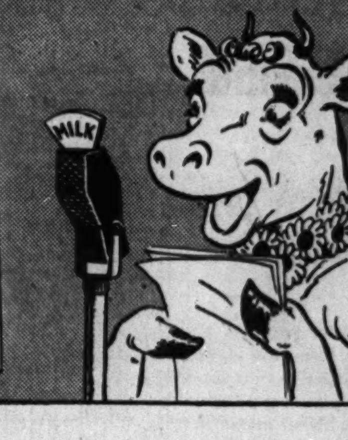
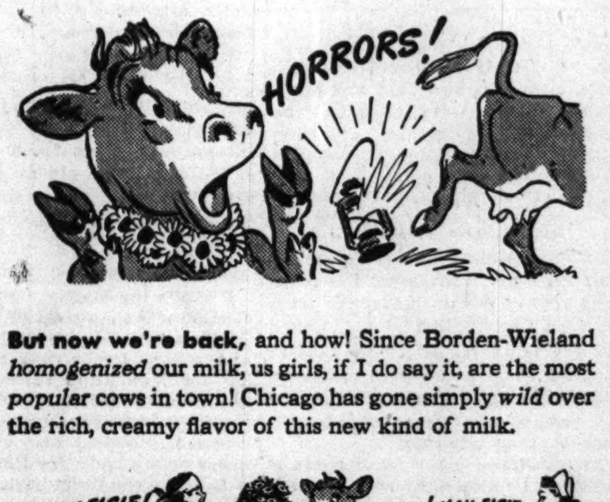
Good Moos

BY ELSIE, THE BORDEN COW

Look for the hidden offers in today's column of helpful and healthful food hints.



Hardly a woman now alive remembers that dark and gloomy night when Mrs. O'Leary's cow (no ancestor of mine, I assure you!) kicked over the fateful lamp. Since that awful deed, it's taken us cows years of blameless behavior to get back in Chicago's good graces.



But now we're back, and how! Since Borden-Wieland homogenized our milk, us girls, if I do say it, are the most popular cows in town! Chicago has gone simply wild over the rich, creamy flavor of this new kind of milk.

Mothers are switching to Homogenized because it's also even easier to digest, since the rich cream particles are broken up and distributed evenly throughout the bottle. And all the babies cheer me as I walk down the Boulevard, because the cream never, never rises to the top to clog bottle nipples. Cooks run out with bouquets in their hands, because Homogenized won't separate in cooking, doesn't form a film on top even after boiling! Want to join the happy throng? Just hail our milkman or call BITtersweet 8600 and order BORDEN-WIELAND'S HOMOGENIZED VITAMIN D MILK . . . only 1¢ more than regular milk!

Yes indeed, times have changed since Mrs. O'Leary's day. Why, then, most Chicago folks wouldn't so much as look at fresh milk. They used nothing but pure, safe Borden's EAGLE BRAND Sweetened Condensed Milk. It was made by Gail Borden down Elgin way. But today . . .

Nowadays, that same EAGLE BRAND is used by smart Chicago housewives as the "magic" ingredient in scores of delicious, easy-to-make desserts. And now your grocer has Eagle Brand in a new, half-size, half-price can, too. The folder on every can (large or small) contains oodles of valuable recipes. Here's another:

PEANUT BUTTER HERMITS

1⅓ cups (1 large, or 2 small cans) Borden's Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk	½ cup peanut butter
	¼ teaspoon salt
	1 cup graham cracker crumbs

Mix Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk and peanut butter. Add salt and graham cracker crumbs. Blend well. Drop by spoonfuls about 2 inches apart on greased baking sheet. Bake in moderately hot oven (375° F.) 15 minutes or until brown. Remove from pan at once. Makes about 24.

A QUART OF ICE CREAM . . . FREE . . . Here's how you get it! Go to your nearest Borden dealer and buy a quart package of this famous (it's got to be good) Ice Cream. On the package flap is a coupon. Tear it off. As soon as you have collected six (6) of these coupons, hand them in to your dealer, and get a full quart of Borden's super-grand Ice Cream abso-tively free! Your choice of 8 tempting flavors. Including our new Flavor-of-the-Month, glorious English Toffee!

Don't say I never gave you anything! And look for the other free offer in this "colyum."

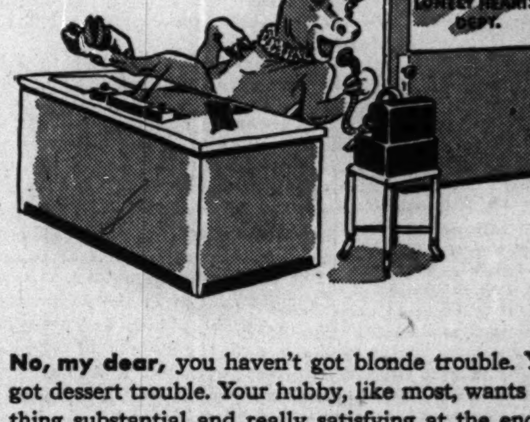
Advice to the Lovelorn
by Elsie (Ask-me-another) Borden

Dear Elsie:

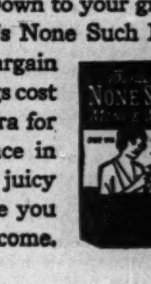
How can I keep my husband home nights? Every evening after we finish dinner with a nice dish of fruit, he puts on his hat and sneaks out to the corner restaurant. The one where that blonde waitress works. And when I peek in the window, what do I find? He's eating another dessert!

Should I see my lawyer?

BEWILDERED



No, my dear, you haven't got blonde trouble. You've got dessert trouble. Your hubby, like most, wants something substantial and really satisfying at the end of a meal. Like a slice of None Such Mince Pie. So take a tip from One who Knows, Mrs. B. Down to your grocer's for a package of good old Borden's None Such Mince Meat. And don't expect to get it at bargain prices, either. For just as the best eggs cost a little more, you'll pay a little extra for None Such—and taste the difference in a super-delicious, spicy, fragrant, juicy Mince Pie—the kind that will make you Queen of the Roost for days to come.



Why you can still get genuine Liederkranz Cheese. The very un-merry month of May put an end to imports of famous European cheeses into this country. Then why, some people are wondering, does my grocer still carry Liederkranz Cheese in the old familiar, gold-and-white label?

The answer may surprise you. It's because tawny-crusted, creamy-centered Liederkranz Cheese never was made abroad! Despite the name, it's a full-fledged Yankee-Doodle invention, made in Ohio, no less! And made only by Borden's.

Because Liederkranz Cheese has a curiously delicious flavor that no other cheese even approaches, it's become famous the world over. The only American-made cheese, by the way, to do so. Try it with crackers for dessert tonight . . . or as an after-bridge snack with beer or something. Them as eats it loves it!

SALAD BOWL, LADY? FREE with 50 coupons from Borden's Evaporated Milk! No wonder Chicago women are switching to Borden's Silver Cow Brand, the top-quality evaporated milk. First off, it costs no more. Second, it's irradiated with extra vitamin D. And finally, it's the only evaporated milk in Chicago that gives you premiums. Your choice of over 1,000 free gifts for the coupons on every can!

And here's our other hidden offer: Just tear out this part of my column and mail it to The Borden Company, 315 No. Clark St. In return, you'll get a free certificate worth 10 coupons toward any 50-premium-gift or over! And an illustrated premium catalog to choose from. NOW, AREN'T YOU GLAD YOU READ THIS AD?

I'll be seeing you . . .

Elsie

F. D. R.'S VICTORY HAILED BY BRITISH AS ONE FOR THEM

Cheered as Serious Blow to Axis Dictators.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The reëlection of President Roosevelt was hailed here as a victory for Britain. The opinion expressed here is that the entire election hinged on the international situation.

The effect of the election upon Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini was acclaimed and was regarded as a serious setback to the so-called "antidemocratic front."

The Evening Standard declared the American election returns "will cause the blackest day which Berlin has known since the beginning of the war." Other papers echoed the same opinion in giving the vote the widest prominence they ever accorded an American election.

GERMANS MADE UNEASY

BY E. R. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 6. — Nazi officials had little to say about President Roosevelt's reëlection today, but the reaction of the average German was plain: It made him uneasy. The average German regards Mr. Roosevelt primarily as an interventionist intent upon aiding Britain.

"Does this mean America will enter the war?" Americans were asked today. Some Germans expressed the belief that with Mr. Roosevelt at the helm for four more years the American foreign policy would speedily succumb to British influence with the result that United States soldiers soon would be sent to Europe.

The German press recalled that Woodrow Wilson also promised to keep the nation out of war but that his campaign promise melted away with the spring snows.

'Keep Out of War' Vote Seen.

Official circles said the election was purely a domestic matter in which they had no interest. Since both candidates pledged to keep the nation out of the war the foreign office regarded the heavy vote as an indication that America does not want to enter the war. One paper expressed the hope that the American people will force the victorious candidate to remember his promise to keep the nation at peace.

Mr. Roosevelt's reëlection was anticipated and the official "lack of interest" is in keeping with the "distance which has separated German-American relations for some time," it was said.

JAPAN SEES U. S. IN WAR

BY KIMPEI SHEBA.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Nov. 6.—Most Japanese quarters, in commenting upon President Roosevelt's reëlection, today expressed the opinion that America is headed for war in Europe.

Business and financial circles believe the Roosevelt administration will bring pressure on Japan in an effort to restrain her in the far east. Thus, Japan is being warned to prepare for the worst.

The Tokio newspaper Asahi said editorially: "The reëlection of President Roosevelt is hardly likely to bring the outstanding problems of the two countries to an amicable solution. We firmly believe this is a time when the people of Japan must renew their determination. Japan's diplomatic policy has been firmly established with the conclusion of the tripower alliance with Germany and Italy and must not be disturbed by Roosevelt's reëlection. Japan will go ahead in establishing an east Asia common prosperity sphere and will closely watch future trends of the United States policy in the far east."

FRANCE SPECULATES

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, Nov. 6.—So far as can be judged from here, President Roosevelt's reëlection for a third term, while not unexpected, gives rise to much speculative thinking in Europe about its effect on the international situation.

Will America go to war within a few months as it did almost 24 years ago? every one is asking tonight. It is fully expected Mr. Roosevelt will give a more vigorous direction to American politics toward Europe and Asia, which may lead to active intervention and this is more or less hoped for in some circles.

No one here seems to doubt that the first efforts of the administration will be to speed up help to the British.

"We hope the election will have the result of permitting the reëstablishment of more regular currents of material and spiritual exchanges between our two countries," the newspaper Le Jour said today.

Italy Sees Same Policy.

ROME, Nov. 6 (AP).—Fascist political circles today described the reëlection of President Roosevelt as "reaffirmation of American policy, which was expected."

"Since there was no surprising result, there is no occasion to comment," one high Fascist observer said. "American policy evidently will remain the same, and so will Italy's."

CHILE FORMALLY LAYS CLAIM TO ANTARTIC AREA

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 6 (AP).—The government of Chile laid claim by decree tonight to all Antarctic territory between 53 and 90 degrees west longitude.

This area embraces most of the Weddell Quadrant, including within the antarctic circle Graham Land, Charcot Land, Fallieres Land, Loubet Land, and Alexander and Adelaide Islands.

Just outside the antarctic circle north of this quadrant are the South Shetland Islands, Elephant Island, Brabant, Antwerp and Victor Hugo Islands, King Oscar II. Land and Danco Land.

Most of the U. S. Admiral Richard E. Byrd's explorations have been to the west, in the Ross quadrant, but Byrd's current expedition to the antarctic chose an additional base 1,200 miles to the east, on Marguerite bay within the Weddell quadrant.

The Chilean foreign ministry said the United States was not claiming any of the territory within Chilean antarctica.

TRUCK DRIVER ROBBED OF $116.

Herman Bank of 3332 Beach avenue, a truck driver, was robbed of $116 yesterday by two men who climbed on his truck at Racine avenue and Taylor street.

HULL CONSIDERS NEXT STEP IN WAR HELP TO BRITAIN

Election Victory Viewed as O. K. of Policies.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6 (AP).—Expanded plans for aiding Great Britain appeared to be in the making tonight. Secretary of State Hull called for efforts to carry forward the "principles and practical measures" of President Roosevelt's foreign policies.

Hull said in a formal statement that these policies gained "nationwide approval" in yesterday's election and intimated that he regarded the outcome of the election as a mandate from the people for the "firm continuance of those policies."

What specific steps were planned to reinforce British resistance to the axis powers were uncertain. Increasing attention was given here, however, to the question of British sea power as a result of intensified axis submarine activities in the Atlantic and threats in the Mediterranean area.

Need of Ships Seen.

President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull have been emphasizing what the secretary of state called attempts by "the would-be conquerors" to seize control of the oceans.

Expansion of American shipbuilding facilities to turn out replacements for British merchant shipping losses has been under discussion in some quarters to counter the increased submarine menace.

But Winston Churchill, British prime minister, hinted yesterday that further naval reinforcements also would be welcome to lighten what he described as the "gigantic task" of the royal navy in convoying merchant fleets.

This led to new speculation on the possibility that still more American destroyers might be released to Great Britain, supplementing 50 which recently were exchanged for naval and air base sites.

Defense of Pacific.

Anglo-American talks on Pacific defense problems also were expected to be given new impetus.

The early return of Lord Lothian, British ambassador, from London, is expected. Before he left, Lord Lothian conferred frequently with Secretary Hull on problems arising from Japan's new alliance with Germany and Italy. This led to speculation on possible American use of the British naval base at Singapore, but both the President and the secretary of state declared emphatically that no secret commitments of any kind existed.

The talks of Hull and Lord Lothian, however, were believed to have developed a close form of collaboration on Pacific questions, as in other parts of the world.

THOUSANDS SEEK TO LEAVE LANDS SOVIET ABSORBED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Nov. 6.—The future of the inhabitants of the former Baltic republics of Latvia, Lithuania, and Estonia, which have been absorbed into the soviet union, is becoming more and more ugly, according to reports received here.

The German legations are the only diplomatic representations still functioning. They have been overwhelmed with petitions of thousands of Estonians, Latvians, and Lithuanians and even many well educated and formerly well-to-do Jewish families seeking permission to join the last groups of Germans being repatriated to Pomerania during the next fortnight.

Deprived of the possibility of work and all means of existence by decrees enacted by the local communist authorities, many families face starvation this winter.

FIRE OPENING GUN IN DRIVE TO DRAG NATION INTO WAR

Interventionist Groups Stage N. Y. Rally.

New York, Nov. 6 [Special].—The opening gun in a drive to drag, push, or persuade America into the war was fired here tonight at a rally of several thousand persons called together to preserve "unity for the cause of democracy" under President Roosevelt.

A new organization called the Council for Democracy staged the show, which was backed by 10 active prowar groups, high government officials, and numerous prominent figures favoring help for Great Britain, including the sending of American troops to battle on foreign soil.

There was no blunt mention of an expeditionary force by the orators. They confined themselves to attacks on the dictator countries, need for defense, backing up the President in whatever steps he takes, and the building of a strong nation.

First on the program was Dorothy Thompson, interventionist newspaper columnist and supporter of the President for a third term. Miss Thompson delivered a passionate appeal for national unity under the President because "the world is in a full state of revolution."

Next the Canadian born actor, Raymond Massey, read an inspired message written by Stephen Vincent Benet who pointed out the voters went to the polls in America yesterday at their own volition, without being driven by armed guards or secret police. Benet declared the draft was imposed in America for the first time in peace in order to protect freedom.

Dykstra Pledges Leadership.

Attorney General Robert H. Jackson interpreted Mr. Roosevelt's reëlection as showing the American people were united on measures "short of war for sustaining democracy abroad." Clarence A. Dykstra, the draft administrator, promised this country would bring "light and leadership to a distracted and disillusioned world."

Newbold Morris, president of the New York City council, declared the keynote of the meeting was "Back up the President of the United States!"

Several telegrams calling for "national unity" were read by C. D. Jackson, vice president of the council and also of Time, Inc. The wife of Henry Luce, head of Time, Inc., is one of the most vigorous interventionists in the country.

JUGO-SLAV WAR MINISTER QUITS OVER BOMBING

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, Nov. 6 (AP).—Gen. Milan Nedic, minister of war, tonight resigned because, informed persons said, he believed the Jugo-Slav government had not taken a strong policy toward the bombing of Bitolj in southern Jugo-Slavia, by unidentified planes yesterday.

Altho both Italy and Greece have disclaimed responsibility for the bombing, in which nine persons died, Nedic was said to have insisted on strong countermeasures against this or any other attack on Jugo-Slav territory.

Nedic was succeeded by 69 year old Gen. Petar Pesitch, former chief of the general staff, former minister to Belgium, and war minister in two previous cabinets.

BRITAIN SEIZES 24 SHIPS OF SOVIETS' BALTIC LANDS

Diplomats Seek to Satisfy Russia on Incident.

LONDON, Nov. 6 (AP).—Britain disclosed today that it had seized two dozen ships flying the flags of Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia, now members of the soviet union, and that this act is now the subject of diplomatic exchanges with Russia.

Members of the house of commons, to whom the disclosure was made by Richard Austin Butler, undersecretary for foreign affairs, asked uneasy questions about the possible effect on future relations with Moscow.

Hope Held for Agreement.

"I hope we shall be able to reach some agreement with the soviet government," Butler said, adding that Russia received advance notice of the requisitioning.

[Presumably the requisitioned ships were in British or British controled ports. Britain has taken no formal steps to recognize the absorption of the Baltic countries by the soviet union.]

Butler also told questioners that Britain's trade discussions with Russia still were proceeding.

The British submarine Taku sank a "large enemy tanker" off a port of occupied France last Saturday, officials announced.

Naval sources said a neutral ship carrying 6,000 tons of sugar for Spain had been torpedoed by the Nazis.

Nazis Report Sea War Success.

BERLIN, Nov. 6 (AP).—Destruction of British shipping and shipping "usable by the enemy" at a rate about 25 per cent in excess of Germany's unrestricted submarine campaign of the world war was reported today by the German high command.

The comparison, drawn from but not stated in the daily communique, is based on the averages of the total tonnage claimed destroyed in 14 months of the present war—7,162,200—and the total of 8,534,000 tons claimed for the 21 month unrestricted world war campaign starting in February, 1917. The comparative averages are 406,380 a month then and 511,585 now, according to the Germans.

A canal has been dug at Gibraltar to facilitate its defense in the face of a possible attack by land. Mines are being planted to be exploded in event of invasion.

LONDON FIREMEN FIGHT BLAZES SET BY AXIS BOMBS

LONDON, Nov. 7, Thursday (AP).—Fire fighters kept on the jump in London early today in the face of an increasingly ferocious attack by German and Italian bombing planes which began earlier than ever and stretched on thru the 14 hour night into the morning.

Reports from many London areas stated the blows were harder and more general than for several nights. Besides London, the bombers attacked a number of other areas. Yesterday they heavily attacked Southampton and Liverpool, the latter place while King George and Queen Elizabeth were there.

A new and widespread British assault by explosive and fire bombs upon the long German held coastline of Europe and upon German shipyards and air centers was reported last night by the air ministry. Bremerhaven, Emden, Hamburg, Bremen, and the submarine yards at Vegesack were reported the most important places hit.

Claim 23 Planes Downed.

BERLIN, Nov. 6 (AP).—The German high command today reported that 23 British planes were shot down at a cost of six German planes in Tuesday's aerial activities.

Greek Family Denounces Member on Nazi Radio

ATHENS, Nov. 6 (AP).—The Greek announcer for the Berlin radio, identified by authorities here as Evangelos Kyriakis, was denounced in a formal resolution today by members of his family for urging Greece not to fight Italy's invading army.

RUSSIA PLEDGES TO STAY NEUTRAL —BUT ON GUARD

Warns World Situation Is Full of Surprises.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Nov. 6.—With a pledge of continuing neutrality and armed vigilance, Russia tonight marked the 23d anniversary eve of the bolshevist rise to power.

In an official statement, Russia declared: "True to its policy of peace and neutrality, the U. S. S. R. will not participate in war. We must remember the international situation is full of surprises. Therefore, as [Josef] Stalin said, we must keep the entire nation in a state of constant military preparedness."

As the soviet union, recently enlarged by territory from five neighboring countries, assembled delegates for the anniversary celebration in Moscow, Premier Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov in a radio speech heard here, said the soviets' chief task for the coming year is to strengthen the country economically so it can fulfill its duties to the international proletariat.

Work Harder, Reds Urged.

While Molotov exhorted the Russians to work harder next year, other soviet leaders addressed meetings thruout the country. Molotov and the other orators emphasized that the work for world revolution was being led by the communist party and Dictator Stalin. Molotov declared that, while a state of war practically existed thruout the world, the soviet government still enjoyed peace and was maintaining a policy of strict neutrality.

He told how the so-called people's governments of Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania [formed under the direction of Moscow] "appealed to Moscow for permission to join the happy community of soviet nations." The territory of Russia has been enlarged further this year by the war against Finland and thru annexation of the Baltic countries and Bessarabia, from Rumania, he said.

"Protecting" 193,000,000 Persons.

Today, Molotov said, Russia controls 193,000,000 persons who must be protected by the Red army, which is energetically preparing to defend the country from attack. Molotov did not name bolshevism's enemies, but since the Italian attack on Greece the soviet press has become more pro-ally and is sympathizing with Greece.

In Tallinn, Riga, and Kaunas, the three Baltic capitals, large parades were held today by the local communist party. Marchers carried banners saying, "We demand demobilization of our national armies and introduction of soviet military service—We demand the introduction of bread and butter cards to control the appetite of the declassed elements—We demand the introduction of soviet currency into the Baltic states—We demand the introduction of a collectivized farming system."

SWISS ORDER BLACKOUT TO BALK BRITONS

BERNE, Switzerland, Nov. 6.—Switzerland's high command today ordered a nightly blackout thruout the country, beginning at 10 p. m. tomorrow.

It was announced that the Swiss minister to London had been instructed to protest to Britain against a violation of Swiss neutrality last night. British planes have repeatedly crossed Switzerland, the Swiss charge, to bomb Italy. The blackout was ordered, the high command said, to keep lights from serving as guides to aerial raiders.

Rome Radio Warns Swiss.

ROME, Nov. 6.—A Rome radio broadcaster tonight warned Switzerland that "her small territory and ancient constitution cannot guarantee her immunity if she persists in her pro-British attitude." The attack was prompted by what the speaker called a crop of false reports on Italy's campaign in Greece.

CHILEAN CABINET MAN QUITS.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 6.—Pedro Alfonso, minister of finance, tendered his resignation this afternoon for personal reasons not connected with politics. Marcial Mora, minister of foreign relations, will take over the post.

BRITISH PLANES ATTACK ITALIAN TROOPS IN LIBYA

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 6 (AP).—Italian concentrations of troops and motor transport in bases of northeastern Libya were blasted yesterday by British bombers, R. A. F. headquarters announced today.

British planes flew low to machine gun columns at Bardia, a communique said, while trenches and machine gun posts were bombed near Fort Maddalena. Other successful British raids on Italian posts in East Africa were reported.

Italians Report Advance.

ROME, Nov. 6 (AP).—Italian troops have advanced 30 miles beyond Sidi Barrani, in Egypt, the high command said tonight.

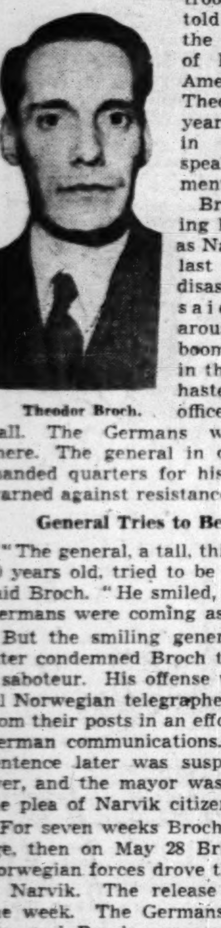
DICK TRACY—Up Hill and Down Dale

MAYOR OF NARVIK TELLS OF FLIGHT FROM GERMANS

Blames Nation's Fall on Fifth Columnists.

The young mayor of Narvik, Norway, when it was seized by German troops last spring, told yesterday of the invasion and of his flight to America. He is Theodor Broch, 36 years old, who is in Chicago for speaking engagements.



Theodor Broch.

Broch was serving his sixth year as Narvik's mayor last April 9 when disaster struck, he said. He was aroused by the boom of big guns in the harbor. He hastened to his office in the city hall. The Germans were already there. The general in command demanded quarters for his troops, and warned against resistance.

General Tries to Be Polite.

"The general, a tall, thin man about 60 years old, tried to be very polite," said Broch. "He smiled, and said the Germans were coming as friends."

But the smiling general five days later condemned Broch to be shot as a saboteur. His offense was to order all Norwegian telegraphers in Narvik from their posts in an effort to cripple German communications. The death sentence later was suspended, however, and the mayor was paroled, on the plea of Narvik citizens.

For seven weeks Broch was a hostage, then on May 28 British-French-Norwegian forces drove the Nazis out of Narvik. The release lasted only one week. The Germans retook the city, and Broch was arrested again.

Luck and Friends Aid Him.

He was locked in a villager's house for the night, but luck and friends were with him. He escaped, and after many adventures, reached Stockholm, Sweden. There he got American visas and came across Russia and the Pacific to the United States.

While Broch described Maj. Vidkun Quisling as Norway's "greatest and only traitor," it was not Quisling but German fifth columnists who betrayed Norway and caused her temporary downfall, he said. He added, "Quisling some day will be punished as a traitor by a free Norwegian court."

Broch is to address a Norwegian group at 8 o'clock tonight in the Logan Square Masonic temple. He will deliver an Armistice day talk on "The Tragedy of Narvik" at a luncheon of the Chicago Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies in Hotel Sherman at noon Monday.

Paderewski Arrives

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Ignace Jan Paderewski (left), noted pianist and statesman, being greeted by Anthony Drexel Biddle, U. S. ambassador to Poland, when he arrived in New York yesterday.

The 80th birthday anniversary of Ignace Jan Paderewski was celebrated at the Auditorium theater last night with the opening of a campaign to raise money for the Paderewski Fund for Polish Relief. Among the speakers were Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch of the Catholic archdiocese of Chicago and Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, American ambassador to the exiled Polish government.

Paderewski arrived at Jersey City from Europe yesterday on the liner Excambion. The celebrated pianist and Polish leader said, "My poor nation is being systematically exterminated. Millions have been robbed, expelled from their homes or deported to die in concentration camps." He planned to stay a short time in the east and then go to his California ranch for a rest.

KENNEDY HINTS HE WILL RESIGN WITH 4 OTHERS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6 (AP).—Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy indicated today he might not return to London and early resignations among other envoys now home from Europe were expected to follow the election.

Kennedy called at the state department for the first time since he returned from England 10 days ago. He conferred with Secretary Cordell Hull and Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state. Asked when or whether he would return to London, he said he had no plans and had not discussed the subject with any officials.

Other diplomats who took part in the Presidential campaign and may soon resign are William C. Bullitt, ambassador to France; Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, ambassador to Poland; John Cudahy, ambassador to Belgium, and Mrs. Florence Harriman, minister to Norway.

CURTISS FIELD BOUGHT FOR USE OF NAVAL FLYERS

Glenview Site to Become Reserve Training Base.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—Representative Ralph E. Church [R., Ill.] announced today that the navy department will acquire title late today or tomorrow to the Curtiss-Reynolds air field at Glenview, Ill., for reserve training purposes.

Church, whose home is in Evanston, explained that he had been endeavoring to have the navy department acquire title to the field so it would qualify with the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics as a possible site for the new $8,400,000 airplane engine research laboratory, which the committee will establish under recent authorization from congress. No site has been selected, Church said.

Half Million Involved.

The amount involved in the transfer of the land is $577,295, of which $537,795 is to be paid the Curtiss-Reynolds corporation, owner of the property, and $39,500 to H. S. Darr, who operates a school of aeronautics on the field under a contract with the United States army.

One of the requirements for selection of the laboratory site is that the land be federal, state, or municipal property, or at least adjoin government owned land.

Check Held by Attorney.

Church said the navy department has issued an order to acquire the Curtiss-Reynolds property and that the petition of condemnation, declaration of taking, and a check for the full amount have been turned over to the United States attorney in Chicago for filing with the clerk of the federal District court in Chicago. Filing of the petition automatically transfers title to the navy.

Church said he will notify the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics as soon as he gets formal word that the petition has been filed.

MORRIS COOK DIES AT STEWARD, ILL.

NEED FOR MORE GAS FORCES DORIS DUKE OFF CLIPPER PLANE

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 6 (AP).—Doris Duke Cromwell's millions were of no avail to her today in trying to get a seat on the China Clipper to Honolulu.

Pan-American Airways has a first-come-first-served policy and, when it became necessary to lighten the plane's load so it could carry more gasoline, Mrs. Cromwell and four other persons found their passages canceled.

The China Clipper took aboard additional fuel because of bad weather in the Pacific. It also sailed four hours ahead of schedule.

Mrs. Cromwell arrived by plane from New York yesterday, intending to fly to Hawaii. Her husband, James H. R. Cromwell, was defeated yesterday in the New Jersey race for United States senator.

CHAS. MORSE JR. WINS DIVORCE IN LAKE COUNTY

Charles Hosmer Morse Jr., of Melody road, near Libertyville, was granted a divorce yesterday from Elisabeth Bonbright Morse, of Grosse Pointe, Mich., by Judge Ralph J. Dady in the Lake county Circuit court at Waukegan a few minutes after his bill had been filed. They were married June 7, 1937, at Grosse Pointe. Morse charged she deserted him Oct. 15, 1939.

Morse, well known in Lake Forest social circles, testified that in the summer of 1939 his wife no longer seemed affectionate and that when she left, she said she "did not feel we were suited to each other."

An out of court settlement was reported. Mrs. Morse is to have custody of a son, Charles H. IV., 2½ years old, for seven months and Morse for five until the child reaches school age, when the mother will have custody during the school year and Morse during vacations.

Hinsdale Flyer Crashes in Michigan; Escapes Injury

Coldwater, Mich., Nov. 6 [Special].—Willis J. Rollins, Hinsdale, Ill., escaped injury today when his airplane crashed into a fence at the local airport. Rollins was unscratched, but his plane was demolished.

RECRUITING CALL ISSUED BY BLACK HORSE SQUADRON

A call for 91 more recruits was issued yesterday by Maj. Roy D. Keehn Jr., commander of the Black Horse squadron, National Guard cavalry unit of Chicago. The recruits must be obtained before the squadron enters federal service Nov. 25 for a year's training at Camp Beauregard, La., with the regiment of which it is a part—the 106th cavalry of the Illinois National Guard.

Each of the three troops of the Black Horse squadron must be recruited up to peace strength of 123 enlisted men "plus 5 per cent" before induction into federal service, Maj. Keehn said. Troop A, commanded by Capt. Richard K. Strauss, needs 20 men; Troop B, under Capt. William F. Kirby, needs 25 men, and Troop C, under Capt. John L. Kracke, needs 25 men.

Another Chicagoland unit which enters federal service Nov. 25 is the tank company at Maywood, Company B, 192d tank battalion. It goes to Fort Knox, Ky., for a year's training with the armored corps.

Council Votes to Protect Job of Employe in War Duty

The city council yesterday approved a two point program to protect the jobs of city employés who are drafted or volunteer for temporary service in the army, navy, or marine corps. The adopted resolution preserves the civil service status of the employés so that they can return to their jobs and requires the city to pay the employés' contribution to municipal pension funds.

THE TRUE PICTURE OF THE ELECTION.

The picture of Mr. Roosevelt's reëlection is not in the frame of the electoral college votes. Thirty-nine states to nine, 468 votes to 63 do not tell the story. It isn't even in the frame of the popular vote, which available figures put at 28,000,000 for Roosevelt to 23,500,000 for Willkie. Even that does not tell the story.

Mr. Roosevelt from these figures would seem to have a plurality of some 4½ million odd voters who preferred him for the third term against his Republican opponent. But of these 4½ million and more voters who gave him the landslide in the electoral college, a plurality of about 3,000,000 came from the eleven states constituting the solid south where it is made impossible to vote the Republican ticket.

These votes were not cast in an election. They didn't represent a decision. They would have been cast for anybody running on the Democratic ticket, unless possibly it happened to be Al Smith.

Mr. Roosevelt's plurality in the south can be disregarded so far as it reflects any choice between the two candidates. So Mr. Roosevelt had a plurality, a working and effective plurality of little over a million and a half votes distributed thruout the states in which the decision was made. The figures as they are available now—they are very likely in rough accuracy—show that New York's 47 electoral votes were won upon a plurality of 250,000; that is, a switch of some 130,000 votes in this great state would have taken it away from Mr. Roosevelt.

The 17 votes of Massachusetts were won by a plurality of 100,000. The 29 votes of Illinois were won by a plurality of less than 100,000; the 26 votes of Ohio by a plurality of 120,000. A plurality of 100,000 in Missouri gave the successful candidate 15 votes, and about the same plurality in Minnesota gave him 11. Pennsylvania's 36 votes were attached to the third term by a plurality of 280,000.

By such small margins—Wisconsin, New Jersey, and other states could be included—was the plurality of some 1,500,000 distributed in regions where the real issues were submitted. As it shows in the electoral college it looks like a walkover. As it shows in the states it is the narrowest squeak in the world.

The WPA foremen alone in these states could have carried the election. The people dependent on federal relief might have carried it. The half million added federal appointees whose places have been made by the New Deal in recent years could have carried it.

Four years ago Mr. Roosevelt had a plurality of nearly 11 million in the country and he carried all but 2 states. That plurality compared with the one of Tuesday, without any deduction for the southern vote where it is virtually illegal to vote Republican, shows a shrinkage to 4,500,000 or thereabouts. That's not a landslide. It is an election controled by the influence of the party in power and the man in office. It doesn't contain a mandate. It shows that the candidate without a machine was barely defeated by a man having all the advantages of office.

THE FRAUD FIGHTERS MADE GOOD.

The 10,000 decent, vigorous Cook county citizens who went out to watch the polls in the Chicago badlands on Tuesday scored one of the signal victories of the election.

They contributed substantially to the handsome majority by which Dwight H. Green won the governorship. Without their vigilance, the machine would undoubtedly have been able to steal enough votes to put over Strongbox Slattery and those others of the state Democratic slate who appear on present returns to have been nosed out.

Mr. Green's vote is the best one on which to base comparisons, because the figures are available on his race for mayor 19 months ago, when he made his inspiring, but nevertheless losing, race for mayor of Chicago. He had no such organization working for him then, and the vote stealers held a field day, as was later disclosed in the County court.

Both of the principal fraud fighting organizations, the nonpartisan Joint Civic committee and the Republican workers of the Business Men's 1940 Election committee, concentrated their efforts on the 16 rottenest machine wards in the city. These, in their judgment, were the 1st, 11th, 14th, 20th, 21st, 22d, 23d, 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th, 31st, 32d, and 33d.

In the mayoralty election Mr. Green lost these wards by 94,136 to 280,367, getting 25.1 per cent of the votes. On Tuesday he lost them again—they are naturally Democratic territory—but only by 133,252 to 263,943. He got 33.5 per cent of the vote. The Presidential election brought out a slightly larger vote. Mr. Green improved his showing in the machine wards by some 51,000 votes.

Had the watchers not been on hand to prevent it, the machine would have been able to steal votes on approximately the same scale as it did in 1939. That would have meant a switch of approximately 80,000 votes from the Republican to the Democratic ticket, a net loss of 160,000 to the Republicans. It would not have defeated Mr. Green, but it would have doomed all of the other Republican candidates. Of course, the 16 wards chosen were not the only ones in which vote stealing goes on. The watchers were on duty in other sections of the city also.

The fraud fighters did a great job, and should feel rewarded by the satisfaction that they did so. They also got a great education in practical politics. The public hopes that that education will not be wasted.

There will, we all hope, be more elections in Chicago. There will be other opportunities to fight political corruption and defend an honest ballot. The men who watched the polls Tuesday are seasoned regiments, blooded in battle and victorious. They must not disband. Chicago needs them in the future.

THE REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN.

The election results would suggest that the delegates to the Republican national convention in Philadelphia made a mistake when they disregarded their party's primary contest and turned away from Mr. Dewey, who had won the largest number of convention votes by carrying his candidacy to the people of the party.

The delegates made a mistake when they nominated a candidate who at the time was not well known to the people of the country, who was drawn from private life, who was without experience in leading a party, and without experience in presenting political issues to the voters.

Here in Illinois, Green and Brooks, the Republican candidates for governor and United States senator, carried the state, altho Mr. Willkie lost it. In the Illinois Republican primaries Dewey polled more votes than Green and Brooks and it is reasonable to suppose that Dewey would have carried Illinois. It is also reasonable to believe that he would have been a stronger candidate than Willkie in many other parts of the country lost to the Republicans by small pluralities.

Mr. Willkie gave everything he had to the campaign but his unfamiliarity with the campaign problems he faced made him a great deal of trouble in the beginning. There is no doubt that he was magnetic, that he developed enthusiasm, and drew many people to him, particularly when they could see him and listen to him directly. His mistakes in the beginning, however, were costly. One of them was made when he overruled the Republicans in congress and came out for conscription at the behest of the male and female Dorothy Thompsons who cut his throat afterwards.

He was never able fully to recover from the bad start he made. He approved so much of Mr. Roosevelt's administration that many people were confused. He couldn't persuade them that there was an issue between him and Mr. Roosevelt. He thus became a candidate without a machine, approving the policies of a candidate who had a machine.

When Mr. Willkie tried to show that there was a great gulf between his fundamental political ideas and Mr. Roosevelt's fundamental political ideas many people couldn't get it. The distinction was there but it couldn't be hammered home to them. Mr. Willkie has said that the Democratic platform of 1932 upon which Mr. Roosevelt was first elected was the best political document ever offered to the American people. That confused voters who had opposed Mr. Roosevelt when he ran on that platform and it left a great many people wondering what all the argument was about.

Mr. Willkie not only approved the New Deal acts in internal affairs but he adopted Mr. Roosevelt's foreign policy almost item by item. Many of his supporters could not help feeling that they were cut adrift by this. They thought that Republican success was required for the prosperity and security of the country, but they wished they could more heartily indorse everything their candidate was saying. They wished it for his sake as well as their own.

His was the outstanding voice in the campaign and supporters who couldn't follow him all the way down the line had to reserve their opinions and make the best of it. But it wasn't the best for the party and it didn't give a clear cut conflict between the two parties.

Mr. Willkie made the fight as he saw the issues. There is no wish to say anything unflattering or critical of the tireless energy with which he carried the battle to his opponent in the way he was inwardly impelled to do. But he came to the windup of one of the most exciting campaigns in many years with only one issue outstanding. That was the third term.

On that question it would appear that only the older voters had inherited and preserved respect for the unwritten law. To them the third term candidacy was something of a profanation, but there were too many who held it lightly, who had thought little of its meaning and value, and who could be led to believe that it was some obsolete notion of other days with no place in modern thought and no adaptability to modern conditions. That was an unfortunate mistake of opinion.

Editorial of the Day

MR. VAN LOON'S HAIR RAISER.

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

"I wants to make your flesh creep," the fat boy of the "Pickwick Papers" was accustomed to say whenever he had an especially harrowing yarn to spin. Hendrik Willem van Loon might have inscribed that line on the title page of his latest book, for its object couldn't possibly be better described.

Mr. Van Loon has a magnificent imagination, and he has let it run wild in the book he calls "Invasion." This purports to be an eyewitness account of how the Nazis, one day in the summer of 1940, occupied New York and part of New England, and came very near conquering the country. It's thrilling stuff: how the fifth column wrecked New York's power plants and radio stations, how a group of merchant ships in the harbor suddenly disgorged swarms of German soldiers, how bombing planes worked havoc all over the country, and finally how a group of embattled countrymen at Dorset, Vt., repelled the invasion by killing or capturing 881 Nazi parachutists, while the United States navy, in the very nick of time, was whipping the German fleet.

Every bit of his story is factual, Mr. Van Loon says in his postscript, tho it didn't happen in America, but in Europe. Well, Mr. Van Loon is supposed to be a historian, and he surely knows that arbitrarily shifting the scene of events must make quite a difference in the probability of the facts. Such things did happen in Norway and Holland, but hasn't this writer noticed what military experts and government officials have been saying about the impossibility of transporting an adequate invading force across 3,000 miles of ocean?

A clew to the purpose of this extraordinary book is to be found in a letter quoted in its early pages, in which the supposed writer, a journalist who has tried in vain to alarm the people, says: "You and I and Bill White and Bob Sherwood and a few others think our heads off, and all we get for our troubles is a Bronx cheer. . . ."

Americans are well aware of why we need to build a strong national defense, and they are pushing the program, but it is unnecessary to make their flesh creep with horror stories about how the Nazi air force and mechanized troops are arriving in New York harbor next Tuesday morning. It's time for solemn determination and for preparedness, not for flights into hysteria.

OLD JUDGE KANGAROO.

"What is a kangaroo court?" a club fellow murmured in our ear after we had put away the cares of research and were preparing to take our ease in our favorite corner.

"Offhand, we'll say that it is a hearing, pretending to follow due process of law, that has no legal authority; a method of dealing with culprits with a semblance of legality that is or has been practiced on frontiers and in unorganized communities."

Thus spake Sir Oracle.

"I've been asking that question among the La Salle street lawyers," the club fellow said. "They have been unable to answer it."

"It's a common expression in the American language. Origin? Sounds Australian to us. We'll look it up."

Well, you will not find "kangaroo court" in any of the dictionaries in general use. The dictionary of American English now being issued in parts by the University of Chicago hasn't caught up with the letter "K." See a handy little reference work called "Nuggets of Knowledge" for a discussion of the phrase.

The origin of "kangaroo court" is shrouded in the darkness of underworld lore, but the expression probably started in the early years of penal colonization in Australia, when public menaces would be dealt with by their hard boiled neighbors according to court forms but without legal authority. Such informal courts were also often set up in jails and on pirate ships.

The trial of Jack McCall for the killing of Wild Bill Hickok in Deadwood, S. D. [Aug. 2, 1876], was a full blown example of the "kangaroo court." McCall was found not guilty and given 60 seconds to leave town. This trial is reproduced as a folk drama in Deadwood every summer [performances three times a week near the former site of saloon No. 10], and a pilgrimage thither is recommended to all La Salle street lawyers who never heard of a "kangaroo court."

NOVEMBER'S CHILD.

After the lavish summer
And the riot and color of fall,
As autumn fades into winter,
Comes the month that is best of all.
Not for the all-day twilight
Low on the distant hills,
Not for the cosmic languor
Of landscape, river and rills,
Not for the first fair snowflakes
Nor the tang nor the autumn zest
Nor the crown of the month, Thanksgiving,
Do I love November best,
But because I can call her mother,
For first in the fleecy gray
Of the month that ends the autumn
I looked on the light of day.

A Playhouse in the Never, Never Land.

The programs of Powers' theater on Randolph street opposite the city hall featured the slogan, "Our foremost playhouse," conferred upon it by a critic of THE TRIBUNE, back in 1902.

We remember its unpretentious elegance, its color scheme of pompeian red and old ivory; the beautiful proscenium arch, a worthy frame to the painting on the drop curtain, picturing the meeting of Louis XIV. with Louise de La Vallière in the forest of Fontainebleau.

We listened breathless to a Pinero drama by members of a famous stock company; watched a beloved actor present his impression of a character created by Henry Arthur Jones; found new meaning to the quips of Oscar Wilde as presented by a clever actress; sat enchanted thru the smooth patter of a Clyde Fitch comedy or the cynical philosophy of Bernard Shaw; saw a Bulwer-Lytton romance grow before our eyes; shed a tear over Richard Brinsley Sheridan's hero one night and a fortnight later applauded the writing of gentle Frances Hodgson Burnett.

Lucky the man who owns a 30 foot shelf of these and similar authors. You may have the printed text of all their plays; we can only boast of seeing them at Powers'. Max of the Second Gallery.

Her volume, "Bird Against the Wind," containing about 50 poems, has just been published by the Light and Life Press, Winona Lake, Ind. The examples of her work to be found in the Line Book of 1940 will make you want more, so remember "Bird Against the Wind."

DISGUISE FOR LOVE.

She made a mantle for her love,
A splendid thing to see.
She wove it out of stardust,
And dreams, and melody,
And soft perfume of flowers rare,
And moonlit skies above;
And then she fastened it with tears
About her own true love . . .
A little man, of little soul,
Ignoble, petty, prim.
But when she looked, she saw the robe—
She never once saw him!

GASTRITIS—NOT PEPTIC ULCER.

EVERY now and then a patient will visit his physician fully convinced that he has a peptic ulcer. While characteristic symptoms may be complained of, careful X-ray studies will fail to disclose the slightest lesion either within the stomach or the first portion of the intestine [duodenum]. If a thoro investigation is made, the chances are 99 to one that the chap will be found to be suffering from gastritis—true inflammation of the lining membrane of the bread basket.

Of course, we realize that the nervous system can play havoc with the digestive tract, but, before resigning ourselves to the fact that we are neurotics — victims of "playful" nerves—it is well to make certain that no irritation within the gastric pouch is present.

Unfortunately, the manifestations do not follow set rules, such as those which accompany acute appendicitis. Nevertheless, there are some basic signs that may be recognized. Pain at first is intermittent. In fact, it may appear once a week for only a short interval. After a time—perhaps some months—it may recur two or three times daily. There seems to be very little change, regardless of what is eaten. Furthermore, improvement may not follow even mild starvation.

Most patients, however, will mention some relationship to meals—distress coming on within a few minutes after sitting down at the table. The afflicted person may exclaim "I am all filled up—I just can't eat another mouthful." Sometimes actual pressure will be observed with sensations of bloating. Another symptom is burning and the complaint may be that the entire region feels raw. Waterbrash and belching are common tho neither nausea nor vomiting is experienced.

Wakefulness is customary. For example, the victim may fall asleep naturally after a moderate evening meal—only to be aroused at 1 or 2 a. m. with intense suffering. Colicky, griping waves are noted rarely altho now and then cramps may involve the intestines. In a few the disturbance may so closely simulate angina pectoris that the physician may be led to suspect the possibility of trouble in the aorta or in the heart muscle itself. The location of the distress in these instances is ordinarily beneath the breastbone, radiating upward to the neck.

Now all these exhibitions may point directly to inflammatory processes [not ulcer] within the stomach. Bread and milk, or even a bowl of cereal with a little cream will often prove helpful in correcting discomfort. Most of these individuals have tried soda with some success. In general the malady has a marked effect upon the body as a whole. Unless ease can be obtained, and with reasonable promptness, the sufferer will start worrying about his health. Afraid to eat, weight is lost and a vicious cycle is set up.

We must admit, therefore, the existence of gastric irritation and the desirability of early recognition. A barium meal will rule out an ulcer whereupon the patient can be placed upon a nonfibrous diet sufficient to maintain nutrition. It should not be difficult to arrange for food at three or four hour intervals—with at least four small meals per day. Stringy vegetables are omitted and the well known bland menus will usually afford permanent relief.

SLEEP FOR CHILDREN.

Claire writes: My mother and I seem to disagree at what time my brother and I should go to bed. My brother is 12 and I am 11. What is the proper bedtime?

REPLY.

You are now developing a physique for adult life. Get all the sleep possible. Don't stay up later than 10 p. m.

CARBOHYDRATES IN ARTHRITIS.

P. B. writes: Prunes, dates, and oranges contain generous carbohydrates. Are these harmful to a patient who has arthritis?

REPLY.

Many victims of arthritis do well on a diet that contains but little starch and sugar. Oranges and other citrus fruits are low in carbohydrates. I cannot imagine any one taking a sufficiently large dose of prunes and dates to be harmful.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, THE TRIBUNE.

A CHEERY GOOD MORNING.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Good morning, dear Willkie fans; what have you to say for yourselves now? We told you so right along, and thanks a million for helping to reëlect the greatest man in United States history, Franklin D. Roosevelt!

M. M. C.

IN WAR, HIT THE ENEMY FIRST.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—In order to clear up misunderstanding that seems to exist as to the difference between national policy and military or naval strategy, I hope you will publish the short explanation that follows:

In our country the civilian authority is rightly supreme. It is the civilian authority, duly elected and acting as the representative of the people, that determines national policy. The military or naval authorities as such have nothing to do with national policy except insofar as their advice may be asked for and accepted. It is the civilians alone who decide in the United States whether we are to engage in war or not.

But if and when war is decided upon, the military and naval authorities should be allowed to conduct the details of military and naval operations, subject always to general direction from above.

Any one who has studied the conduct of war knows that one of its most important principles is the principle of the offensive.

Now the meaning of all this is that a national policy, however defensive it may be [and our policy is practically certain to be a defensive one], to be effectively carried out must be supported by offensive strategy.

To sit tight and await attack, to give the initiative to the enemy, to present him with the moral and other advantages of offensive action would be defeatism from the very first. The defensive strategy, the strategy of the oyster closing his shell and waiting to be cracked by the first person that comes along with a hammer, the "Maginot" state of mind, would rapidly get us nowhere but down.

Once war is resorted to we must hit the enemy, hit him wherever we can, hit him first, hit him hard, and keep on hitting him until he is out.

PUGILIST'S AWARD BIGGER.

Galva, Ill., Nov. 3.—Irvin Bauman, age 23 years, of Woodford county, Illinois, who by virtue of his corn picking ability at the national corn picking contest held in Scott county, Iowa, last Wednesday was thereby proclaimed the national corn picking champion. All of the contestants in this corn picking classic had spent many days in preparation, grooming, proper feeding, and they had received the best care possible. Every contestant put into this work every ounce of his strength, energy, and brawn for eighty long minutes. Then for the winner the great award of $100.

The first prize of this great contest, a contest that annually draws the largest attendance of any affair held in the United States, should receive as first award $1,000, and so on down the line accordingly.

There was no one at the Iowa contest who would have refused to have paid a dime to see it. According to the estimated attendance that would have netted $750. They would pay more. We recall that once in this country a pugilist by winning a prize fight received more than a million dollars for a very few minutes' work. Those fighting contestants were under nowhere near as much strain as those contestants were under in Iowa. Make the prize worthy of the effort and worthy of the sport.

RELIEF AND GAS REFUND.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—I am on relief. I got laid off of WPA in January for 30 days, on the 18 month law. This is October and I'm still off. My relief check is $8.88 a month without any stamps, which is hard picking. Now comes along my gas refund on Oct. 8 for $7.98, which would buy me or my wife or my daughter a pair of sox or something we need bad. Then on Oct. 10 comes a card from the relief to bring gas refund check in so they can take it off my relief check next month, which will leave me 90 cents cash to live on for a month. Now what I would like to know, can they take this from me as I have paid the gas bill long before I was on relief and have already spent the gas refund, and you know how far that went.

JOSEPH ABRAMS.

PLEA FOR UNITY.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Now that the election is over, let us all unite as one party and stand 100 per cent behind our President and members of congress. By so doing we can become the envy of the axis trio who think we are a divided nation.

SHARING ESTATE.

Aurora, Ill., Oct. 13.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I am writing for legal advice. I am a middle aged, childless widow, owning my home, purchased with my own money before my husband's death. Title is in my name only. I have brothers and sisters.

1. In case of my death, leaving no will, could my late husband's niece or nephew have any claim on my estate?

2. I have considered joint tenancy on the property with my married sister, mother of two boys, but I want to know first before I take this step, [3] would my sister's husband or [4] children, if living at her death, have a claim on her part of the property?

5. Would I alone then be sole owner?

6. I have unknown relatives in Germany. Would they also share in my estate at my death if I left no will?

A. S.

1. No.

2. This would have the advantage of dispensing with probate.

3. No.

4. No, assuming that you are talking about the joint tenancy.

5. Yes, if you are a survivor.

6. If the deed expressly provides for "joint tenancy" as distinguished from "tenancy in common" then on death of one of the tenants the title will go to the survivor without necessity for probate and to the exclusion of the heirs or devisees of the one who dies first [33 C. J. 908, 915]. The half that thus passes by survivorship is subject to inheritance tax.

If title is already in one of the parties the creation of the joint tenancy involves an intermediate conveyance to a third party, who will then reconvey to the intended joint tenants, using a joint tenancy form obtainable from a stationer. Make sure that the third party is not subject to judgment liens.

As to personal property, the Illinois statute says that the "will or other instrument in writing" must express an "intention [presumably that of the previous owner] to create a joint tenancy . . . with the right of survivorship." The mere fact that money is deposited to the account of "A and B" or of "A or B," or that A and B have joint access to a safety box containing bearer bonds, would not be enough. [3. C. J. 908, 915; 19 C. J. 473.]

Test Your Horse Sense

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE.

Select the answer which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 30.

1. If your wife had nasturtiums on the table at a dinner-party, would they be used for Salad The Meat Course Adornment Dessert.
2. Yellow fever is generally spread by Cockroaches Houseflies Contaminated Water Mosquitoes.
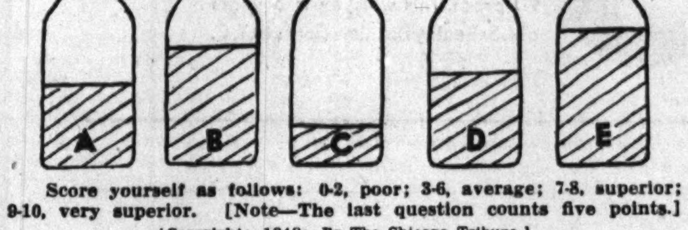
3. How do you think that yeast should be classified? As a Fungus Bacterium Animal Chemical.
4. Which of the following is not considered to be upland game Partridge Quail Pheasant Duck.
5. The distance between opposing goal lines on a football field is 50 yards 100 yards 120 yards 180 yards.
6. Below are pictures of five bottles of equal size. They are partly filled with varying amounts of water, as indicated. If you were to blow across the necks of these bottles, which would produce the highest note and which would emit the lowest tone? You deserve 3 points' credit if you can pick out the highest toned bottle, and an extra 2 points for the lowest toned bottle.



Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

A. S. ALSCHULER, ARCHITECT, DIES; RITES TOMORROW

Famed Designer of Many Chicago Buildings.

Funeral services for Alfred S. Alschuler, nationally famous Chicago architect, will be held at 11 a. m. tomorrow in the North Shore Congregation Israel, which synagogue he designed. Mr. Alschuler, who was 64 years old, died yesterday in Michael Reese hospital of a heart ailment. His home was at 795 Lincoln avenue, Winnetka.

A. S. Alschuler.

Mr. Alschuler was born and educated in Chicago, attending Armour Institute of Technology and the Art institute of Chicago. He began his work in the office of Dankmar & Adler in 1899 and opened his own office eight years later. He was the first architect to use reinforced concrete construction in Chicago, and he contributed several innovations to the field of architecture. Among the large industrial plants he designed are those of the Cuneo Press, John Sexton company, the American Radiator company, and A. B. Dick company.

He designed many downtown Chicago buildings, among them the London Guarantee and Accident building, the Harvester building, the Chicago Garment center, and the Mercantile Exchange building. His synagogues, the Sinai congregation, Temple Isaiah Israel, and the North Shore congregation, are known as among the most beautiful in the country.

He was a trustee of the Illinois Institute of Architects, a member of the state board of architectural examiners, treasurer of the Hadley School for the Blind, and former president of the North Shore congregation. He was a member of the Architectural, Standard, and Northmoor country clubs.

Survivors are his widow, Rose; three sons, Alfred Jr., Richard, and John, and two daughters, Mrs. Leon M. Despres and Mrs. Edward Gudeman.

MOTORIST DIES WHEN AUTO AND TRUCK COLLIDE

J. B. Lamb, 35 years old, of 630 West La Fayette street, Ottawa, was killed early today when the car in which he was riding collided with a truck at the intersection of state routes 52 and 66, five miles west of Joliet. His brother, Louis, 26, was severely injured and was taken to St. Joseph hospital in Joliet. The truck was driven by Dean Carter, colored, of Chicago.

Joseph Polock, 70 years old, a resident of Oak Forest infirmary, died yesterday in county hospital of injuries suffered July 14 when he was struck by an automobile at 123d and Halsted streets. The driver was George Elder, 1238 West 109th place.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 740 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 539 were killed in Chicago, where 20,083 were injured in traffic in the same period.

[ADVERTISMENT]
Ease Callouses
Without Paring or Use of Acids
Don't make your feet raw and sore, or risk danger of infection by paring or using acids on callouses. Try this easy method. Soak your feet in warm water and dry with rough towel. Then massage soothing, cooling Ice-Mint over and around your callouses. By repeating this treatment for a few days, hard, tough callouses soften up and often disappear. Ice-Mint also relaxes aching foot muscles due to fatigue and relieves the discomforts of tired, burning feet. Get stainless Ice-Mint today from your druggist.

BRITAIN TO TRAIN HOME GUARDS AS PERMANENT UNIT

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Plans to supply the home guard with its own officers and training school instructors and an inspector general were announced today after an army council conference. Lord Gort is the new commander of the force for which enough rifles, automatic rifles, machine guns and grenades will be available to arm a million men.

The setup of the home guard, heretofore described as largely provisional, is to be on a firmer and more permanent basis.

Care has been taken not to impair the informal but effective discipline now ruling within the guard. Commissions are to be granted the guard which will also have warrant and noncommissioned ranks.

GAY HOLLYWOOD CAST IS BACK ON W-G-N TONIGHT

Joined by Aileen Whelan and Tom Brown.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Those bright young performers in the musical revue "Meet the People" are to play a return engagement on W-G-N-Mutual's In Chicago Tonight program from 7:30 to 8 o'clock tonight. Excerpts from the show were first presented on W-G-N Oct. 10.

Tom Brown and Arleen Whelan, two young Hollywood favorites, who are making personal appearances at the State-Lake theater, will join this gay company to introduce the musical and specialty numbers and later to star in a short play together.

Cast to Attend Show.

After the broadcast, the W-G-N cast, Harold Stokes and the W-G-N orchestra members, singers, and actors and William A. Bacher, who is in charge of the production, will go to the Grand Opera House to watch a performance of "Meet the People." The W-G-N party will occupy the first few rows and will join in singing the choruses.

Several musical, satirical and humorous sketches from the show are on the W-G-N bill for tonight. Sue Robin and Jack Boyle will do "A Fellow and a Girl." Bernice Parks will sing the torchy rhumba "Say Si Si."

Highlight of Show.

A highlight of the show will be the sketch "Let's Steal a Tune from Offenbach." This bit is concerned with a scheme to prevent contemporary composers from stealing from Offenbach "the one dead composer who hasn't been stolen from."

Tom Brown and Miss Whelan will display their talents in a playlet by Inez Asher entitled "The Last Orchid."

Others from the revue participating in the broadcast will be Barney Phillips, Bob Davis, and Marion Colby.

WOMAN HELD FOR SLAYING TEXAS HORSE TRAINER

Graham, Tex., Nov. 6 (AP).—Mrs. Tom Holt, ranchwoman, was charged with murder today after Jack Parker, 35, a horse trainer, was shot to death as he sat in a truck with Mrs. Holt's daughter, Mrs. Lawrence Hart, 25.

Mrs. Hart was shot in the shoulder. Her condition was not regarded as serious.

City Marshal George Grubs said Mrs. Holt drove to his office and surrendered a pistol. She waived preliminary hearing and was released on $7,500 bond.

Parker worked for a time on the ranch where Mrs. Holt and Mr. and Mrs. Hart live. Mrs. Hart had brought a horse to town in the truck. The shooting occurred across the street from a lot where Parker trained horses.

Robbed of $2,000 Oct. 17; Waits Weeks to Tell Police

South Chicago police were attempting last night to solve the mystery of a robbery complaint made Monday by John Kuka, 51 years old. Kuka told them that two men invaded his home at 8312 Buffalo avenue on Oct. 17 and forced him to accompany them to the South Chicago Savings bank. There, Kuka said, they compelled him to withdraw $2,000 and give it to them. The police said they were unable to understand why Kuka waited so long to report the robbery.

In the presence of more than 400 legionnaires, a new American Legion flag was presented last night to the Cook county council of the American Legion by Carson Pirie Scott & Co. Post, No. 314. The ceremony was held in the city council chambers.

The flag, beautifully mounted with a golden eagle, was presented by Gordon L. Pirie, vice president and general manager of Carson Pirie Scott & Co. on behalf of Post 314. It was accepted by Commander Francis E. Phelan on behalf of the council and its 45,000 war veterans. Commander George C. Behrens of Post 314, assisted in the ceremony.

Eleven Eagle Scouts from Troop 236, headed by Eagle Scout Lawrence Knowles, 1818 North Springfield avenue, acted as a guard of honor. The flag, bearing the council's legend, was given to replace the council's old flag. George A. Dustin was sergeant at arms.

YACHT MIZPAH SOUGHT BY NAVY FOR COAST DUTY

Capt. E. A. Evers, commanding officer of the naval reserve training squadron on the Great Lakes, disclosed yesterday that the navy is negotiating with Eugene F. McDonald Jr., president of the Zenith Radio corporation, for purchase of McDonald's 165 foot yacht, Mizpah. Six other vessels of Chicagoans also are being considered, he said.

The Buccaneer, yacht owned by Leon Mandel, and the Trouper owned by Charles Arthur Tilt, president of the Diamond T Motor Car company, have been purchased and already transported to the east coast to be fitted out for patrol duty, Capt. Evers said. The Buccaneer is at Boston and the Trouper at New York.

More Americans Leave Shanghai for Home Port

SHANGHAI, Nov. 6 (AP).—The American liner President Coolidge left for San Francisco today, repatriating another large group of Americans from the orient under state department advice. After calling at Japanese ports the liner is destined to arrive in the United States with a capacity list of 650 first and second class passengers and others in third class. Advices from Hanoi said virtually all the American women and children in French Indo-China also were preparing to leave.

FIRE AT PASTOR'S FUNERAL DRIVES 3,500 TO STREET

Historic South Side Church Burns; Loss $50,000.

Alert police work averted possible tragedy yesterday when fire caused damage of $50,000 to the crowded Olivet Baptist church, 3101 South Park way, which is said to have been used as a station during the civil war thru which escaped slaves were taken to safety.

More than 3,500 persons, mostly colored, had gathered in the church to attend funeral services for their pastor, the Rev. L. K. Williams, 60 years old, colored, 3115 South Park way. He was killed Oct. 20 in an airplane accident near Flint, Mich., while on his way to attend a Republican rally.

See Flames in Cupola.

The services were about to start at 11 a. m. when Sergt. Thomas B. Chapman of south park police and Sergt. Carl Nelson of Stanton avenue station, both colored, saw the flames in the cupola on the third floor.

While Chapman turned in the alarm, Nelson went to the loud speaker system in the church and told the audience that the fire was under control. The crowd marched quietly thru the three exits from the church until the flames broke thru the roof. In the resulting rush, which came with only a few hundred left in the church, several persons suffered minor bruises and injuries.

Organist Stays at Post.

Policemen carried the coffin from the flower banked church. Mrs. Mable Burden Scott, organist, remained at her post playing Schubert's "Ave Maria" until the church was cleared. A choir of 165 persons sat quietly in the choir loft until the congregation was safe.

The funeral services were held early in the afternoon in front of the church, with burial in Lincoln cemetery.

Henry Eckhardt, assistant corporation counsel assigned to fire investigation, said he was looking for a woman who was heard to remark after the fire that she had seen sparks coming from the amplifying system before the blaze broke out.

14th Anniversary Burglary Recalls Home Fire on 7th

Seven years ago Mr. and Mrs. James A. Sweeney returned from celebrating their seventh wedding anniversary to find that their home had burned to the ground. Last night they celebrated their 14th anniversary at the home of friends. When they returned to their home at 436 West 72d street, they found that burglars had robbed them of $200 worth of jewelry.

A Chicagoan Finds Time Hangs Heavy Out in Elgin

Carl West, 31 years old, of Chicago, had 62 watches in his pocket yesterday, but he didn't know what time it was. Police found him lying in a drunken stupor on the floor of Whittingham's jewelry store at 5 Douglas avenue, in Elgin, which he entered by smashing the display window. He was jailed for burglary.

Two Former Chicagoans Flee Manteno Hospital

Officials of the Manteno state hospital asked Chicago police yesterday to be on the watch for two inmates who escaped. The fugitives, former Chicagoans, are James Dally, 65 years old, and Willie Ray Smith, 17, who is colored.

SUITOR GIVES UP AND CONFESSES SHOOTING GIRL

Alexander Hulstrom, 21 years old, yesterday surrendered to police, who had been seeking him as the disappointed suitor who shot and wounded Miss Lorraine Lessnau of 3009 Gresham avenue on Monday. Lieut. Henry J. Andel of the Morton Grove county highway police said Hulstrom confessed.

Miss Lessnau is 18 years old. She was working in a dairy across the street from Hulstrom's home at 4101 North Harlem avenue, Norwood Park township, when Hulstrom appeared with a gun. She fled, but he shot her in the right hip. At the Norwegian-American hospital she said he had been forcing his attentions upon her.

CAPTURE ESCAPE COMPANION OF 'BLONDE TIGRESS'

Mary Foster who escaped Aug. 9 from the women's reformatory at Dwight, Livingston county, with Eleanor Jarman, known as the "blonde tigress," was seized yesterday by police in Springfield, Mass. Her arrest was announced in Chicago by T. P. Sullivan, state superintendent of paroles.

Mrs. Jarman still is at large. She was serving 199 years for murder. Mrs. Foster was serving 1 to 10 years for larceny. She was trailed to Grand Rapids, Mich., in September, where she worked two days as a maid in a home, then disappeared with jewelry and clothing valued at $1,000. She next appeared in Springfield, Mass."

Walter Healy Promoted to Police Captaincy

Police Commissioner Allman yesterday promoted Lieut. Walter Healy of the Burnside station to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Capt. William P. Kennedy. Capt. Healy will be assigned to the Chicago Lawn station, relieving Capt. Thomas Connelly, who goes on a three weeks' furlough today and will be reassigned when he returns.

FRANCE ADDS MORE TEETH TO PROHIBITION LAW

VICHY, France, Nov. 6.—A decree supplementing the partial prohibition law proclaimed here last August was published today. It gives prefects the right to specify that drink establishments must be located at a certain distance from churches, hospitals, cemeteries, schools, sanitoria, athletic fields or playgrounds. The measure was taken to protect youth and persons in poor health from alcoholism, the decree states. It adds that the prohibition measure is not in its final form.

PROBE REPORTS OF BOMB ON U. S. TRANSPORT SHIP

New York, Nov. 6 (AP).—The army transport Republic docked today and an army board of inquiry began an investigation of reports that an attempt had been made to blow up the ship with a time bomb after she sailed from San Francisco with 3,000 troops and passengers.

Henry F. Dodge, the ship's master of arms, who was reported to have found a smoking box containing explosives loaded in the hold, would not comment. Official sources aboard the transport refused to confirm or deny the story when the ship docked.

Did you buy YOUR car on "Millinery"?

YOU hear it said often nowadays that it's millinery that sells automobiles.

All right—let's put it up to one who knows. Did you buy your car on nick-nacks, trick devices, novelties?

We don't think so.

We believe that while considering style, and room, and comfort—you really picked your car on what it would do on the road!

Now, we take our hats off to no car for being smarter-looking than Buick. We'll match our product against any for room, for appointments, for fine finish, for the comfort of its all-coil springing and the safety of its Body by Fisher.

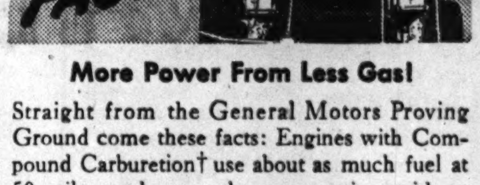
But beyond all that, we challenge the whole field to equal Buick on its downright all-round performance ability.

On its power—on its pull—on its pick-up—on its easy handling (including freedom from shifting)—yes, and on its thrift.

Nowhere will you find a car that does so much so well and so frugally—and we invite you to find that out for yourself.

You'll find novelties in the new Buicks of course, but they're not the chief attraction. Instead you'll see the two big basic engineering developments of the year—FIREBALL design and Compound Carburetion.

They give you an automobile that packs a real thrill—and if that means more to you than superficialities, better come in and learn more about it.



More Power From Less Gas!

Straight from the General Motors Proving Ground come these facts: Engines with Compound Carburetion† use about as much fuel at 50 miles an hour as the same engines without it consume at 30. At 20, these engines use only 9% of available power. At 30 less than 12%, at 50 less than one-fifth. Only one of the two carburetors operates in all normal driving. The other cuts in only when extra power is needed. Result: Thrift in all normal driving, great power when you need it.

†Built into all Buick SUPER, CENTURY, ROADMASTER and LIMITED engines and available at small extra cost on the Buick SPECIAL power plant.

BUICK PRICES BEGIN AT $935 for the Business Coupe delivered at Flint, Mich. State tax, white sidewall tires, optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

A Little Paint Is a Big Help to Furniture

When you're in need of an extra piece of furniture, you can save yourself a lot of hunting if you'll buy unfinished furniture and a can or two of paint. Finding a finished piece that will go well with what you have is often a difficult proposition. If you get something "in the raw" and finish it yourself, harmonizing it with your decorative scheme is a simple matter. There's a wide range of regular colors in those easy-to-use enamels which have revolutionized home painting, and many other shades can be produced by intermixing.

Most of the large stores carry a variety of styles in unfinished furniture and some shops are devoted exclusively to this type of furnishings. The cost is moderate and paint, too, is inexpensive. For as little as half a dollar you can buy enough to enamel a chair, so the idea is a thrifty one as well as an aid to harmonious decoration.

Perhaps you've recently acquired a new set of dinnerware and have no place for it in your crowded china closet. Why not purchase a corner cupboard of the unfinished type and paint the outside to match your dining room woodwork? Give the inside surface a contrasting color and you'll have a piece that will smarten up the whole room.

Or maybe you have a young son who is getting old enough to have a bookcase of his own. Plain wooden shelves to which you can add other sections later will answer the purpose nicely if painted all one color or simply trimmed with a second color along the edges.

In one home a complete set of unfinished bedroom pieces was decorated in peasant style. An unusual blue shade was produced with modern synthetic resin enamel by intermixing navy blue and Bermuda blue, half and half. Then a formalized floral design was stenciled in a combination of red, yellow, and white on such places as the head and footboard of the bed, the chair backs, and drawer fronts of the dresser.

For stenciling you may use tube glazing colors or regular paint colors which have been thinned with a glazing liquid composed of one-fourth linseed oil and three-fourths turpentine. Patterns of different designs are found in most paint stores. When applying the paint thru the cut-outs, remember to use a hammerlike motion of the brush instead of the usual sweeping stroke.

On the House

If you would emphasize breadth of line in a new home, place a garage on one side and an open porch on the other. . . . If you would anchor a house more cozily to its setting, keep roof and shutters the same shade. . . . And if you would make a basement easy to live with, and airy and light, place windows partly above grade.

New Furniture Fashions Gain in Popularity

Modern furniture is rapidly approaching an enormous new popularity in the furniture fashion world, according to a preview checkup of the new furniture to be introduced at the midseason furniture market at the Merchandise Mart and the American Furniture Mart. The showings, which start Monday, last thru the week for the benefit of retail store buyers who come to market from all over the country to keep abreast of the latest furniture fashion trends.

The increasingly lighter, less boxy look of modern furniture wins it new friends among those who never liked it before. The use of more curved lines do their part. But the contemporary, very American look the newest designs have is a great influence, too, and never has furniture fitted the room so well. One leading creator of modern furniture offers a new grouping that includes every possible size of unit chest, which may be had with three, five, or seven drawers or cupboards or open shelves. These are designed so that any number of them may be used together.

Another interesting new modern furniture grouping of upholstered sectional pieces includes matching pieces built on straight lines or in curved shapes. Any of these pieces may be armless or have arms on both sides or only on one side.

The Grand Rapids midseason show opened yesterday and will continue till Oct. 30. All the case goods manufacturers and makers of occasional furniture and most of the upholstered furniture manufacturers exhibiting there are offering an unusual number of new groups and pieces prepared for 1941 merchandising. The bulk of the new merchandise will be directed to the needs of the buying public that has been created thru increased employment, increased home building and the now thriving marriage mart.

Regency furniture which started as an accent for decorators two years ago has steadily increased in popularity until it is now more a tidal wave than a trend. Practically every exhibitor except those whose lines are devoted exclusively to modern will show regency.

Challenging the statement that the earlier Georgian styles are passing out of favor one manufacturer will highlight his exhibit with a new mahogany dining room ensemble in Chippendale with claw and ball feet, gadroon molding and other typical style motifs. This is not promotion merchandise but is very reasonably priced considering construction, style, and finish.

Other manufacturers offering 18th century English and French reproductions will concentrate on displays which will emphasize the adaptability of traditional furniture to the most modern 20th century backgrounds.

It's Tally-Ho Time in China and Glassware

BY EDITH WEIGLE.

It's tally-ho and bang-bang time. The hunt is on, at least it is in the rural districts. In the city one celebrates it with china, glassware and accesories such as book-ends, trays, wall plaques and cigaret boxes ornamented with pictures of wild game.

One set of smart glasses for the table are crystal clear and rimmed with silver. The sides are decorated with beautiful colored replicas of game birds: pheasants, partridges, ducks, etc. There is a different bird for each of the twelve glasses in the set.

Accompanying these you can use plates to match, the centers showing more wild life. And for center decorations for your hunt table there are painted wooden decoy ducks, almost life size. They're made so each has a receptacle for holding cigarets, or salted nuts or candies.

For a long table you can scatter autumn leaves down the center and arrange a whole flock of these ducks for a colorful centerpiece.

Or you might prefer a pair of miniature pheasants facing each other on a rectangular dark wood base.

There are a number of types of imported china that suggest themselves for a hunter's board. One of these is a set of Spode dinner plates in the soft raspberry red and white for which that house is famous. Each is printed with an English hunting scene.

We saw a fascinating imported porcelain service for after dinner coffee, the cups bearing fox heads in brown and black on white. The low sugar bowl had a fox tearing madly around it, and the coffee pot, too, had one of these graceful creatures. The lid was topped with a little scarlet porcelain knob.

Still another set of cups, very English in feeling, was gay with pink coated hunters taking fences and hedges, and dogs barking by their sides. Touches of green made a nice contrast with the red.

For the wall of a man's study or game room, or for the library, there are some clever new decorative plaques which show brilliantly plumaged ducks in bas relief. They're so realistic they seem about to fly down from their background of dark wood. Wings are lifted, necks outstretched.

This same idea is used for sturdy book-ends, too, which make a grand present for a man.

Your hunt for hunter's china, glassware, and accessories will be brief and easy, this season, for Chicago stores offer pleasing varieties of all the items needed for the most festive board.

Furniture Is Given Exquisite Tone by Art of Skilled Finishers

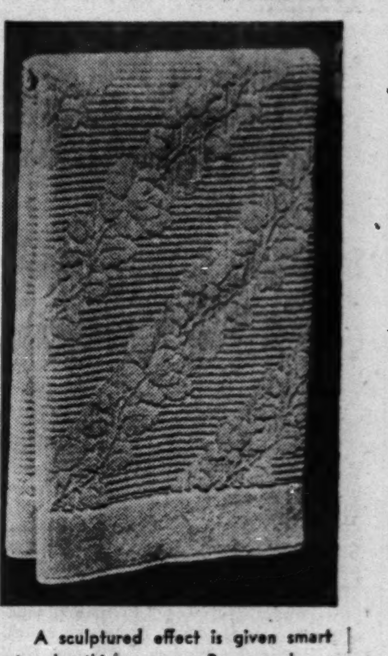
Finish has a lot to do with the charm of fine furniture. It often distinguishes the best furniture from the medocre. Finish is intended to seal the surface, to facilitate cleaning, to bring out the full depth and beauty of the grain and figure, and to change the color or tone.

In this age of haste we can't wait for time to develop the rich patina that is outstanding in an antique. We want that appearance straight from the factory, and so endless experiment and work has resulted in the development of the excellent finishes we have today.

The lighter finishes are having a vogue. To obtain this effect a bleach rather than a stain is used. Deep staining has been largely abandoned in mahogany furniture, for age darkens the wood.

In olden days, and even today in Europe, the cabinet maker bought logs and ordered the sawing in different thicknesses so that all pieces in a suite of furniture came from the same tree, therefore were uniform in color. With our highly developed finishing processes such selection is unnecessary here.

Newest Towel



A sculptured effect is given smart towels, this season. Roses make a diagonal design in this one.

Sewing Boxes Go Modern and Keep in Style

It's like looking for the proverbial "needle in the haystack" to discover where in the home the old work basket or sewing box has gone.

It hasn't "gone," really, in the sense of true disappearance; but it has gone modern. We're apt to find ourselves sitting on it, or using it as an end table; we're apt to find it in use as a lamp table, night table or occasional table; we're even apt to find it secluded in a small chest of drawers. What's more, it's quite possible to touch a little knob on a cedar chest and have the old sewing kit come flying out at us.

It sounds like a lot of magic, but it's not. It's just another instance of the extent to which 20th century streamlining of furniture has gone. The furniture industry is seeing to it that those homely little necessities of the horse and buggy days fit into our modern homes with the greatest degree of efficiency.

Table type sewing cabinets come in a variety of styles and finishes, fitting in harmoniously with any period furniture. Some are consoles and some are drop-leaf tables that hold a lamp as well. In some, the front swings back to reveal the cabinet; while in many a drop lid top discloses the kit.

Practically all the modern sewing cabinets now come fully equipped with not only sewing requirements, such as threads, darning cottons and needles, but implements and accessories, such as scissors, buttons, hooks, and eyes, etc. The threads in some models are held in place in the top of the cabinet lid, firmly secured on hinged attachments. Replacements can be made, since the equipment is for standard brands. Sliding trays set into the cabinets can be removed, and extra drawer space is provided for other needs.

Fully equipped sewing kits now come in ottomans, too. Still popular, however, are the portable type of sewing cabinets that may be carried from room to room or stored out of sight when not in use.

Yellow Paint in Room Gives Effect of Sun

Yellow is synthetic sunshine. It can do more for a dark room than white because it is a warm color. Walls painted in clear, light yellow have the effect of bringing light into the room. The room will seem larger if the woodwork, too, is painted yellow. Colors that combine well with this tone are: green, the range of blues from powder or chalk blue to turquoise, gray, lavender, henna or rust, deep rose, brown and beige.

SMITTY—STRAINING HIS WORDS

Winter Is Approaching: Time to Get Your House in Order

BY LOUISE BARGELT.

Our homes are going to do quite a bit of talking these next few weeks on the things they want for the months ahead. They are as eager as the family to keep themselves in tune with the season.

Perhaps, if it could, your home would cast its vote for one of the handsome new type of fireplace screens, the curtain type which provides safety for your room when the flames crackle and leap high. These come in a wide variety of designs, sizes and finishes, so that practically any type of fireplace, modern, traditional or medieval even, can be fitted with such a screen. Now is the time, if ever, to see that the fireplace is in tiptop working order.

Or again, some wood covered wall in recreation room or den would relish a beautiful mellowed finish, the type which is known as "pickled pine." It no longer takes years to achieve this greyish tone. It can be accomplished in 48 hours. Stain, filler, and finish coat do the work, and you have an authentic, colonial wall, which is light and smooth and mellow.

There are many persons who are interested in ways and means to give new wood a weathered, silvery look, whether it is oak or birch, maple or pine. And, incidentally, if you've sundry occasional pieces of wood around your home, woodwork, bookcases, and so on, you can transform them with this new finish.

If there's some floor in your home which needs doing over before the holiday rush, there's a harmless looking white powder available which you can dissolve in boiling water and you have a potent aid for this work. This varnish remover will do even more than put to rout old finish and grime and dust. It will bleach back the wood to its original color.

This restoration is accomplished without any unpleasant raising of the grain of the wood. And in a comparatively short time, too, for it is only necessary to let the liquid remover stand on the floor for half an hour. Then you loosen the old finish with steel wool, rinse and wipe dry, and you have clean, fresh wood, ready for your new finish.

This time of year windows are fairly important around a home, and if you are concerned with tightly locked double hung windows or windows which won't rattle when the wind blows and invite the breezes into a room, there's a sash locking device with an "eccentric" action which draws lower and upper windows together tightly and eliminates any side slip motion.

These locks are designed to fit on any standard double hung window with wood frames and come in brass or steel with standard finishes. Screws for their attachment come with them, as well as instructions for their installation. They cost as little as 50 cents each, and some even less, depending on the finish. No great investment here to add to home safety and lessen rattle worries.

$12,000 Contribution Tops Day's Donations to Community Fund

Checks totalling $32,658 were received yesterday at Chicago Community fund headquarters, 111 West Washington street. The General American Transportation corporation sent $12,000; the Pullman company sent $9,000; the Pure Milk association and the Milk Dealers' bottle exchange sent $5,000 each, and Mrs. King Mitchell, chairman of the women's division, turned in $1,658 raised by her Lake Forest committee.

This committee is composed of 48 young society women and matrons of the north shore suburb. They handed over the results of their efforts yesterday to the co-chairmen of the committee, Mrs. James B. Forgan Jr. and Mrs. Dexter Cummings.

An infusion in a sophisticated and beautiful fragrance is one of the most delightful of perfuming agents. It can be used as a cologne or body lotion, and the subtle scent clings for hours.

From where we sit we see a most sharply defined trend toward perfumes and colognes that are elegant and sophisticated in fragrance. Women have told us frankly that they are bored with the light, simple scents and that they want fragrances that are rich and subtle with just a touch of daring.

It may be this new-found taste for unusual, almost exotic scents, that contributed to the success of a package we got recently. All the tryer-outers were mad about an infusion in two very French fragrances, with dusting powder to harmonize.

We can understand why. A couple of years ago one of these infusions was our own personal favorite. Why we slipped away from it we'll never know, but we rather suspect that it was about that time that sophisticated scents took a little retreat in favor of the straight florals. We're glad they are back in high favor now.

The infusion is highly scented; it lasts and lasts and the odors defy analysis. You couldn't possibly identify their basic notes; they're just wonderful, mysterious blends, not romantic enough to be soppy, but certainly provocative enough to be fascinating. One is rather sweet, the other very spicy.

The dusting powder in the same scent is fine and fluffy and highly perfumed. Singly or in combination they're invaluable to the woman who likes an elegant, sophisticated fragrance to complement her clothes and her personality. And they're not nearly as expensive as you might expect them to be, considering their character and their quality.

Annual Mum Show Opens on Saturday at Garfield Park

Four hundred thousand blossoms transform the Garfield Park conservatory into a chrysanthemum wonderland which Chicago and its neighbors may enjoy from Saturday thru Sunday, Dec. 1. This is the 28th season of the chrysanthemum show, which is known to horticulturists thruout the world.

William Blaesing, acting chief horticulturist, his assistant, Frank J. Balthis, and the park gardeners have grown for the display 15,000 plants of 750 varieties, ranging from the pastel shaded, button size, single flowers in hanging baskets to majestic giant blooms of bronze with gold tipped petals. Many are hybrids cultivated in the conservatory. One, a shell pink plant of unusual beauty, is named for Mrs. August Koch, wife of the retired horticulturist. There are plants like varicolored bouquets upon which as many as 75 varieties have been grafted.

Some 3,500 persons have received invitations from R. J. Dunham and the Chicago Park district commissioners to a preview and organ recital Friday night.

Warmth Walks with Swank in New Topcoats

BY REA SEEGER.

Shoppers looking for warmth and swank matched evenly in a modestly priced topcoat will cheer loudly for some new arrivals available in several contrast colors. Tagged with price marks under 20 dollars, these toppers have everything it takes to complete a cold weather ensemble. The fabric is an exceptionally stunning fleecy wool, with a good thick look and the weight of a feather swinging from the shoulders.

These coats are different from the usual casual boxy swaggers. They are cut with soft folds at the back held in place loosely with a smart wide fabric belt. Directly at the center of the belt is a huge metal button about three inches wide.

Pockets, notched collar, and moderately wide lapels, welt seaming and other details are tailored with great swank. The inside lining is of harmonizing slippery satin, offering no resistance when a wool suit or dress is worn underneath—something extra special in the way of linings!

Several colors, including the blazing glory of fire red and kelly green, provide handsome accents for dark dresses or suits whether tweeds in bright mixtures or monotone woolens. Particularly effective are the two light shades, one almost an oyster white, the other a honey or natural beige.

These last two shades are extraordinary contrast for dull black suits and dresses, the new shades of winter navy blue and dark brown or dark green.

One light shade of royal blue completes the color range, a color range that rates plenty of shopping excitement for the mix-match or merge enthusiasts. Topcoats that are warm, colorful, smartly cut, then reasonably priced are usually difficult to find.

Younger Crowd Calls Off Dance for Football

BY JUDITH CASS.

FOOTBALL certainly does interfere with a young man's social life, the lads who have planned to go to the Fortnightlies this winter are discovering. The Francis Parker school is having a big football game tomorrow afternoon and the Boys' Latin is having its big game of the year Saturday morning. So none of the boys who are on these teams could go to the first Fortnightly tomorrow night. Since football players always are among the most popular beaux, the girls who belong to the dancing club were delighted when the committee of mothers who manage the parties decided to postpone the dance.

The first Fortnightly, therefore, will be given on Friday, Nov. 22, and the dinner party that Mrs. James E. Bennett and Mrs. O'Neill Ryan Jr. were giving tomorrow night for their daughters, Sally Ann Ryan, and the Bennett twins, Joan and Janet, is postponed until Dec. 6. The Ralph W. Cornelisens already had planned a dinner to precede the Nov. 22 Fortnightly.

The Latin school is playing the Milwaukee Country Day Saturday morning in Chicago, and Parker is playing the Evanston High school in Evanston tomorrow afternoon.

Teen Agers Are Making Christms Time Engagements.

The teen age girls and boys are filling their engagement pads for the Christmas holiday season just as rapidly as their older sisters and brothers are doing. The Junior Assembly will be, as usual, on New Year's eve at the Casino.

The Lake Forest Junior Assembly will be on Dec. 26 at the Onwentsia. Sponsoring this party is a group of mothers including Mrs. Keith Carpenter, Mrs. Kent Chandler, Mrs. Thomas Connors, and Mrs. Phelps Kelley.

The Dinner club, which held the first of four dancing parties last Saturday at the Indian Hill club, will give a Christmas party on Monday, Dec. 30, at the Exmoor club. The Howell W. Murrays and the Mason Armstrongs will be among the hostesses that night. Juniors and seniors are included in the membership of the club.

A new dance club for freshmen, sophomores, and juniors has been formed, to meet at Mayhew's studio in North Dearborn street, on alternate Friday evenings, starting Nov. 15. The Forty-Niners is the name chosen for the club. One boy and one girl will be elected to act as cochairmen at each party.

Luncheon Will Precede Hull House Shop Sale.

Mrs. Arthur G. Cable is giving a luncheon today at her home in Hubbard Woods for a group of friends who will attend the Hull House sale that will be held from 10 until 6 o'clock at Mrs. Frederick H. Scott's house at 175 Sheridan road, Hubbard Woods. The Hull House shop is on East Delaware place, but the workshop is at 609 West Elm street. It formerly was the Eli Bates workshop. Mrs. William McCormick Blair heads the committee that runs the shop and the workshop.

Because Anthony D. Biddle, United States ambassador to Poland, and Mrs. Biddle had to postpone their arrival in Chicago in order to meet Paderewski on his arrival in New York yesterday, no parties have been planned for them during their short stay here. They will, however, be the guests of the Charles E. Browns at a luncheon meeting of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations today, preceding the reception the American Friends of Poland are giving for the Biddles at the Casino.

Lord Marley will speak before members of the Woman's Athletic club at 11:30 o'clock today. Lord Marley, who has traveled widely in eastern Europe, Asia, and Africa, will speak on "The Far East." Among those who have made reservations for luncheon following the lecture are Mrs. Edgar M. Snow, Mrs. Robert E. Peacock, Mrs. William L. Pattison, Mrs. Joseph Charles Carry, Mrs. Thomas E. Wilson, and Mrs. Max Richard. Lord Marley will be the luncheon guest of Mrs. William F. Petersen and the other directors.

Opera Ritual.

One of the rituals backstage at the Chicago opera is Giuseppe Cavadore's coffee making. Cavadore, tenor with the Chicago opera for the last 19 years, makes coffee from a special bean, in his dressing room, during rehearsals and performances. Singers go there between appearances on the stage to drink it. Grace Moore sent Cavadore a dozen cups and saucers the other day, with a note saying she was looking forward to having some of his coffee.

'Il Trovatore' Is Presented as It Should Be

"IL TROVATORE."

Opera in four acts and eight scenes. Music by Giuseppe Verdi. Libretto by Salvadore Cammarano. Presented by the Chicago Opera company in the Civic Opera house Wednesday evening, Nov. 6, 1940.

THE CAST.

Leonora	Rose Bampton
Azucena	Karin Branzell
Manrico	Giovanni Martinelli
Count di Luna	Carlo Morelli
Ferrando	Virgilio Lazzari
Inez	Henrietta Chase
Ruiz	Giuseppe Cavadore
An Old Gypsy	John Lawler [debut]

Dances in Act 3 by the Ballet Theater; Eugene Loring, choreographer; Alicia Alonso and Jerome Robbins, soloists. Conductor, Henry Weber. Stage director, William Wymetal.

BY CECIL SMITH.

Verdi't "Il Trovatore," melodically one of the most beautiful operas ever written, finally received a performance worthy of its mettle last night. Every detail, both musical and histrionic, had evidently been scrupulously and intelligently rehearsed. Not only did the music stand forth in all its eloquence and expressive power, but even the much maligned dramatic action of the opera seemed to take on an unexpected aspect of lucidity and creditability.

Much of the phenomenal coherence and sense of direction which the performance possessed may be traced directly to Henry Weber, who conducted. The blossoming of Mr. Weber's musical gifts, of which both the opening "Aïda" and last night's "Il Trovatore" gave abundant evidence, is gratifying.

Since Mr. Weber and I have often been closely associated, I must take unusual pains to indicate that I am not making a mere gesture of friendship. Last year I did not like either his "Aïda" or his "La Traviata," tho his "Il Trovatore" gave promise of last night's fulfillment. This fall, with adequate rehearsal, he conducts with spaciousness and fine-grained phrasing, and he has given a remarkably cogent musical unity to both the operas he has directed.

With the coöperation of his excellent singers, Mr. Weber last night presented "Il Trovatore" with all of its original simplicity and directness recaptured, with traditional interpolated high notes excised and unseemly vocal extravagances proscribed, with tempi calculated consistently to heighten both vocal movement and dramtic climax, and with most discriminating color and balance in the orchestra.

The new chorus, with its splendid round tone and its well schooled sense of musical values, delighted the audience and made even the anvil chorus and the soldiers' chorus worth paying attention to. William Wymetal's skillful disposition of the groups of people, together with a well conceived relighting of the company's especially handsome settings, gave the performance a visual dignity achieved by no "Il Trovatore" I have ever seen before.

If I seem to be relegating last night's stellar cast to a position of secondary importance, this is simply because it is so startling and so infinitely satisfying to see and hear the good singers we already know in a production so well staged in every regard. I was as skeptical as you about the promised new era of opera in Chicago until I saw and heard it with my own eyes and ears.

Rose Bampton sang Leonora's music nobly, and especially in the last act attained real tragic scope in the heroic sweep of her style. The "D'amour sull' ali rosee" aria was sung so beautifully as to melt a stone, and the "Miserere"—on the part of both Miss Bampton and Giovanni Martinelli—was memorable for its profundity and seriousness.

Mr. Martinelli's lofty artistry lifts Manrico's music out of its undeserved but traditional barrel-organ classification. His treatment in flowing cavatina manner of "Ah, si ben mio" saves for this generation a historic and affecting style that is nearly lost from sight.

The Azucena of Karin Branzell was opulently voiced and unerringly projected. If other contraltos could sing as Miss Branzell can, they would not substitute mere agitation and barking for the completely musical realization of Verdi's wonderful emotional climaxes.

Virgilio Lazzari's sonorous Ferrando started things off well in the first scene. As Inez, Henriette Chase used her beautiful, round voice extremely well, and acted with sympathy and understanding. Of the entire cast, only Carlo Morelli did not seem to feel that he was sharing in the revivification of a masterpiece, for his singing was both too blustery and too slithery.

The third act ballet music was added, for the first time in my memory, and the Ballet Theater danced excellently in conventional but appropriate Spanish gypsy dances devised by Eugene Loring.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 6.—When Edward G. Robinson finishes the Warners' "The Sea Wolf" he and his air show will move to New York for a spell, and this has upset Republic's production schedule. Ona Munson, who is on the Robinson broadcast, had been slated for two pictures at Republic—"The Lady from New Orleans" and "Gangs of Kansas City." . . . Speaking of radio, a broadcasting girl named Vera Gilmer is being tested at Fox for a rôle in "Rings on Her Fingers," which stars Don Ameche and Carmen Miranda. Miss Gilmer, a U. C. L. A. student, once was called the girl with the cameo face by Artist Russell Patterson. . . . One of the lions working in "The Wagons Roll at Night"—which is a much better title than the Warners had at the beginning, "Carnival"—sheds tears under the spotlights and has been named Leonard, the lachrymose lion. . . . The budget has been upped for "One Foot in Heaven," and the cost will run over a million. . . . Priscilla Lane's Warner contract has been renewed for a year. . . . When Doris Davenport finishes in Republic's "Bowery Boy" she and her husband, Horace MacMahon, will journey to New York for a look at some shows. . . . R. K. O.'s producer, Dave Hempstead, says that "Kitty Foyle" is being filmed in the first person singular because the book was that way, too. . . . State governors are busy at the invitation lists again. R. T. [Bob] Jones, head man in Arizona, is sending out pretty copper colored bids to a special train junket for the opening of "Arizona" in Tucson on Nov. 15, and Gov. John E. Miles of New Mexico is inviting the boys and girls to an opening party for "Santa Fe Trail" at Santa Fe on Dec. 14.

More than ever before, books are making screen material. Some of the volumes being filmed or just filmed or about to be are "For Whom the Bells Toll," "Shepherd of the Hills," "Kitty Foyle," "Penny Serenade," "Western Union," "Chad Hanna," "Escape," "I Wanted Wings," and "Flotsam." . . . Alfred Hitchcock, who always appears somewhere in one of his pictures, had Carole Lombard for a director when he did his bit in "Mr. and Mrs. Smith." . . . Irving Sindler, Columbia property man since 1922, has had his name somewhere in every film he has worked on—as the proprietor of a shop or whatnot. Currently he is trying to outwit Director Gregory Ratoff, who is making "Legacy" and who swears the Sindler name will not appear anyaware.

ON THE SPOT.

INSTALMENT XLVI.

A wooden image, Rowan waited.

"That indeed was my impression." The vicar paused. "My brother, Miss Wilde, was not always a wise or—or an honorable man. Against my will I was forced to suspect he was associating himself with—with certain operations which, if publicized, might have put him outside the law. The papers I took home with me contained nothing incriminating and are now with the police, but there are others, I think, still at large—documents calculated to injure innocent persons should they fall into the wrong hands. You have these documents?"

She measured his loathsome eagerness and drew a decisive breath.

"No," she said flatly. "I knew you were looking for them—for something, anyhow. Lord Romrytch knows it, too. There's nothing of your brother's in this house."

"Not in the house, no! But shall we say not far off, where with a little aid they might be recovered?"

"Certainly not. I don't in the very least understand your meaning."

"You do understand," he spat at her. "Kindly grasp this as well: that if your paramour, Mr. Smedley, attempts to make use of these papers he will instantly be charged with criminal blackmail, with you as an accessory. Yes, blackmail and homicide. You and he jointly will find yourselves in the dock. At any moment the Yard inspector will return. It will then be too late to make terms. Assist me immediately to recover what I mention with the sole view to its destruction, and I will do you no harm. Refuse, and I will at once lay my information in the proper hands and allow justice to take its course!"

Stephen! Blackmail . . .

Stung by the horrible suggestion, she cried, "You actually believe we—we—murdered your vile beast of a brother? Cut his throat so we could use what he meant to use to extort money out of some one?" She sprang up, pointing a finger. "Get out of here! Now! O, to have sat here, listening to your blackmailing threats!"

He had risen too, and squat, heavy shouldered, stood glowering, defeated by her wrath.

"You will regret this."

Far back in her brain one of his phrases rang a bell. Find yourselves in the dock. The exact words she had seen typed on a slip of white paper . . .

But they were both listening now, while she on her side forgot him altogether.

Car tires in the drive!

She sped into the hall to find Sergeant Dabney already outside, jostling into two dim figures on the veiled terrace. He was making some remark and in the same breath putting a question.

"Hush!" silenced the inspector. "It may be suicide, of course. Moody will look into the actual manner of death. What's that? O, the small leather case! His own, initialed. Nothing in it but personal letters and an income tax demand."

The mist swam in, seeming to clog her very brain. Only dully was she aware that Cyprian Bogge had slipped past the group on the terrace and melted unobtrusively into the night.

The inspector swung around. "Who was that?"

"The vicar, sir. You know, brother of the victim. Duty call, he said. No objection to his seeing her?"

The older man went on peering into the sodden mist. At the unbridled hiccough of a motorcycle he grunted, swept moisture from his brow, and turning blinked in the light. His own sergeant murmured that it looked as tho the case was being solved for them right at the start.

"All but the exact nature of the motive. We may have our work cut out for us there, eh, inspector?"

"What's that, Budworth? That's as may be. Where's she got to?" He caught sight of Rowan, and without ceremony addressed her. "This parson chap. Is it the first time he's called on you?"

"On me, yes. He came here, you know, when his brother was first missed, ransacked that room, and took a lot of stuff home with him."

"Yes, yes, I've examined all that. He reported that a certain manuscript didn't turn up either here or in the room his brother had at The Dorset Arms. Dabney, get that woman to rustle along some coffee. Bring the witness a cup, she'll be wanting it, I daresay."

For all the world as tho grisly Death had not interrupted proceedings Inspector Headcorn lumbered into the drawing room, pushing his victim before him, and resumed his seat by the long table. For a long moment he sat, face shadowed, while Rowan, again in her torture seat, waited, crushed, indifferent to all but the anguished ache inside her.

The fire had died down. Cinders tinkled thru the bars, flared scarlet for a space, and dimmed to extinction in the soft wood ashes. Outside, dingy nothingness. Just fog, spreading its miasma over all.

"Food?" demanded the inspector abruptly.

She shook her head. When he shrugged and continued to eye her consideringly thought began to come back. Leadenly she whispered.

"Then you are sure—he killed himself?"

The steady eyes narrowed. "As sure as any one in the circumstances reasonably can be. Every appearance to indicate it. Yes."

"You aren't sure, inspector. It may mean some one else did it?"

"Why?" he parried. "Do you know of any reason?"

She was dumb.

He was playing her, and she had not the wit, scarcely even the will, to fence back. This was a foretaste of what was to be undergone—unless she weakened, told him everything, and had her story branded as a lie.

Unexpectedly he got up, quitted the room. As the ache in her throat grew to insupportable pain she found tears slowly sliding along her cheeks. Stephen at no time had cared a dime for her. Last night, in the dusky Devonshire meadows, a softness had stolen into his reserved English voice, and his protective touch on her arm had tempted her to visions of wild rapture; but it hadn't meant a thing. She must still be a craven idiot to suffer like this now he was dead.

Why, and again why?

The inspector's voice jarred on her. "Drink this. I want you to bring all your faculties to bear on what I am now going to ask you."

She took the steaming cup and did her best to choke down some of its contents. The hot coffee tended a little to clear her head, so that when the nightmare recommenced she was able to weigh each question cannily and at least make an effort to keep guard over her replies.

"Try to understand," the inspector emphasized, "that you've been let down—left to face this alone. That whatever the meaning of this new debacle the brunt of the business has been precipitated solely on to you. Do you want me to draw my own conclusion? Or have you decided to help yourself to the extent of letting me have a true version of events?"

"I've nothing to tell you. These deaths don't touch me in any respect. Why should you suppose anything different?"

Nov. 7, 1940.

Universal day—When the universal day is a five day, as is this day, then you need to remind yourself that anything can and might happen in the world around you to upset your carefully laid plans. If your personal day is one which calls for action, then you can go ahead, keeping in mind that you might run into changes or diversions from the original plan. If you are having a seven day, you ought to keep out of the too-busy atmosphere of the outside world.

If the day is a combination of one and five, either one being your personal day and the other the universal day, then you must count on more little changes than otherwise.

Today's date—If you were born on Nov. 7, you have a high vibration to live up to, and this year should have brought changes to prepare you for further responsibility.

Here's one good way to flush excess waste from the kidneys and relieve bladder irritation that often causes scanty, burning and smarting passage.

Ask your druggist for a 35 cent box of Gold Medal Haarlem Oil Capsules — a splendid safe and harmless diuretic and stimulant for weak kidneys and irritated bladder.

Besides getting up nights, some symptoms of kidney trouble may be backaches, puffy eyes, and leg cramps. But be sure to get GOLD MEDAL—it's a genuine medicine for weak kidneys. Don't accept a substitute.

FREE GENEROUS SAMPLE. Send penny postcard. Gold Medal, Dept. D186, Baldwin Ave., Jersey City, N. J.

"But I can't explain!" BROKEN DATE BROKEN FRIENDSHIP because of "REGULAR" PAIN

Explaining is difficult when you have to break appointments because of menstruation's functional pain. Yet how easy many women now find it to relieve such pain — to carry on in comfort—with the aid of Midol!

Midol contains no opiates. It is a new formula, developed for its special purpose. One Midol ingredient is prescribed frequently by many doctors, probably by your own. Another ingredient, exclusively in Midol, increases the comfort most users enjoy by reducing spasmodic pain peculiar to the menstrual period.

If you have no organic disorder needing surgical or medical care, don't hesitate to try Midol. It should help you. If it doesn't, consult your doctor. Get Midol at any drugstore. Five tablets, enough for a convincing trial, only 20¢. Forty cents for 12 tablets.

officers and committees will make their reports, but the president will not be elected. The directors elect the officers at a meeting later in the month.

Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, Mrs. Carleton Palmer of New York, Mrs. Daniel Reed of New York, Mr. and Mrs. John Steuart Curry, the Daniel Catton Riches, the British consul, Lewis Bernays, and Mrs. Bernays, and Miss Katharine Sergava will be among those in the boxes tonight at the Civic Opera house when the Ballet Theater presents three ballets. "Capriccioso," which was given Sunday night, will be repeated, and "Jardin aux Lilas" and "Voices of Spring" will be given for the first time this season.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Thielbar, Dr. R. W. McNealy, Dr. Victor Lespinasse, Mrs. Walter Jarratt, G. Herbert Jones, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Dixon, Mrs. Paul Walker, and William R. Wilson are among those who have taken boxes for John Charles Thomas' recital on Nov. 15 at Orchestra hall.

Mrs. George W. Dixon Jr. gave a tea at her home in Dearborn parkway yesterday for the woman's auxiliary board of the Wesley Memorial hospital, which is sponsoring the concert to raise funds to furnish the new building which is being constructed at Superior street and Fairbanks court.

Mrs. Ruth Holmes Lambart and Lawrence Conant Davis, who are to be married on Nov. 14 in Princeton, N. J., are departing for the east Saturday and will visit friends along the way. Tilden Cummings, John Dennehy, and Edgar Stanton Jr. have planned a bachelor party for Mr. Davis tonight at the Lake Shore club.

Tribute to Be Paid 1,500 Men Who Died in War

A ceremony honoring the memory of 1,500 Chicago young men who lost their lives in the world war will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow in the Chicago Historical society building in Lincoln park before a multoplex of the portraits of the men. The portraits were collected by the late E. E. Wood, former field secretary of the society. Brig. Gen. Manus McCloskey will speak and members of the Gold Star Mothers chapter in Chicago will be guests of honor.

The green salad has long followed the meat course in the dinner menu, its function being to give the all-but-satisfied appetite a lift in preparation for the dessert course. But the green salad is more and more finding itself at the beginning of a menu, rather than in third place.

The reason for this is that crisp greens are an excellent appetizer, by virtue of appealing to the eye as well as tantalizing the palate. One green leafy vegetable or several may be selected for the basis of such a salad. Lettuce, romaine, endive, chicory, escarole, Chinese cabbage, spinach and watercress are now in the markets, and all of them are good candidates for the appetizer salad.

Altho a combination of greens alone may make up such a salad [with the addition of a French dressing, usually] more often sliced radishes or cucumbers and pieces of tomato are added. Carrot curls, crisp slices of raw cauliflower, sliced celery, and green pepper are other crispies which may be included. Whatever vegetables are chosen should be cold and crisp, and only lightly touched with a plain French dressing.

Salt, pepper, salad oil, and vinegar are the only really necessary ingredients for the dressing. One may use mineral oil instead of salad oil for a calorieless dressing.

Here's a plain, easily mixed French dressing which is suitable.

PLAIN FRENCH DRESSING.

½ cup olive oil, salad or mineral oil
2½ tablespoons vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon pepper

Combine ingredients and beat or shake together thoroly.

A few finely chopped anchovies may be added to the dressing. Crumbled Roquefort cheese is another possibility, if you are going in for variations. A little onion juice, horseradish or chili sauce will add interest, too, but for the most part the plain dressing over crisp, chilled vegetables is more suitable than any dressed up version.

Haggis Ingredients Are on Way for Chicago Feast

Members of the Illinois St. Andrew society, who will celebrate their 95th anniversary on Nov. 25 with a feast of the haggis, just have received the good news that the haggis ingredients are on their way across the Atlantic from Glasgow, Scotland. The dinner will be held at the Stevens hotel, with Bishop Ernest Lynn Waldorf, Maj. Norman Allan Imrie, and William J. Irwin as speakers.

GASOLINE ALLEY.—SKEEZIX WAS ONLY LOOKING

Interest in Other Sex Is Natural at 17

BY DORIS BLAKE.
[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Mothers, you simply cannot still that voice of romance in the hearts of your seventeens! You cannot keep your girl of this age cooped up like a stray chick who has to be handled differently. She isn't different. All girls of 17 crave a bit of attention from the opposite sex, and if they aren't permitted a normal, decent, wholesome relationship with boys, then is your time to worry, parents, not because they are interested in boys at the age.

When a youngster writes us that, altho 17 or 18, and working, her mother won't give her the run of the house for boy friends to gather along with girl friends, we wonder what on earth kind of girlhood said parent must have had. Why is she so fearful of contact with the other sex? What's wrong with boys, in her opinion? There are oodles of them of equal, if not better, moral principles than those of girls, and their association for one's girls should be coveted, not banned.

We are not talking now about girls staying out until all hours. That's wrong. We're simply scolding parents who will not recognize that 17 year olds aren't nursery dolls any more.

"If a boy telephones me," confides one 17, "I am scolded and told it hadn't better happen again. I am ashamed to tell a fellow that I'm not permitted to go out with boys or invite them to my home."

And that correspondent is almost 18 and has been working and turning in three-quarters of her salary to her mother for five months. Is it that mother is afraid of losing her meal ticket? Why shouldn't this girl have boy friends? Why shouldn't she be allowed to invite them to her home? And why shouldn't she be allowed to attend neighborhood or other dances with a boy, when the circumstances prescribe the most conventional atmosphere? We do not know a single reason why she shouldn't.

Boys' Shelter Club.

Members of the Boys' Shelter club will hold their first meeting of the year at 12:45 o'clock today at the Drake. Ralph Goodman, head of the Boys' Brotherhood Republic, will be the speaker. Mrs. Charles Reed, who is in charge of the luncheon, also has coöperated with Mrs. Edwin Noble, Mrs. Rudolph Prussing and Mrs. Raymond Cheney in launching the annual dollar drive which last year netted the organization nearly $1,000.

A Truly Versatile Pattern

WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCK.

Such is the versatility of this princess style pattern that it may fashion either a street dress or a frock for the home. This is a slenderizing fashion and one which mature figures, especially, need. The model buttons all the way down the front, and interesting detail is contributed to the shoulder line. For street wear make this frock of crêpe or sheer woolen, and for home wear there are, of course, all the inexpensive cottons.

Style No. 2585 is designed for sizes 14 and 16, and 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inch bust measurements. Size 36 requires 3½ yards of 39 inch material, for short sleeved dress, with 2 yards of binding; 4 yards of fabric for long sleeved version.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

For 15 cents buy the fall and winter Chicago Tribune book of Clotilde Fashions, on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower; 10 cents if ordered with a pattern. Address mail orders to the New York address above.

Fear-Inspiring Situation Not Always Trivial

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.
[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

The daughter of the house is 12.

One night burglars broke into the apartment while the family were in bed, ransacked the young girl's room while threatening her, and escaped.

Now she doesn't want her parents to go out and leave her alone in the evening. "She is so fearful," writes her mother, "even now after all these weeks," and seems surprised.

Another child of 10 came in from a shopping trip late one afternoon with her mother, to find that the lock was broken and their house had been entered.

"Now," says her mother, "Janet is afraid to let herself into the house when she comes home from school, if she knows I'm not there. What can I do to rid her of that fear?"

Now all this kind of fear is quite different from any of the fears we've talked about so far in this series on the subject.

It is different in that it is fear arising from a definitely fear inspiring experience. Any one would be fearful after having had a robber walk into her bedroom in the middle of the night, or after the other experience.

"What can I do to rid my child of fear?" the mothers involved want to know.

In the first place, recognize that fear, in such cases, is a normal emotional response to the fear inspiring situation. That being the case, you won't try to shame or ridicule your child out of it.

Next, you'll do what you can to rid your child of the distressing fear, but while you are doing it you must realize that the cure will be effected chiefly by that great healer, time. The sharp edges of the experience will grow softer and softer and the memory dimmer and dimmer.

"Helping the Nervous Child" is a leaflet of interest to parents, teachers, and nurses. Send a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Address Mrs. Gladys Bevans, the Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

Methodists Hold Area Conference Here Starting Today

Bishop Ernest Lynn Waldorf of the Methodist area of Chicago will preside today and tomorrow over the first delegated conference of the Chicago area at the Hotel La Salle. The area includes the five Methodist conferences of Illinois. The conference today represents organizational changes called for by the reunion of three principal Methodist bodies of the country out of which the new United Methodist church was organized. Bishop Waldorf has held previous informal area conferences in anticipation of the formal changes recently enacted by the merging churches. All district superintendents of the state, together with chairmen of all five annual conference boards and commissions, make up the area conference, which Bishop Waldorf described as a school of programs and methods for the area.

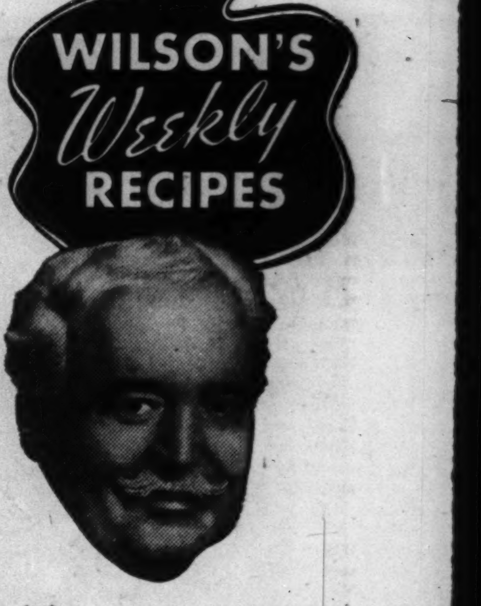
WILSON'S Weekly RECIPES



There's frost on the pumpkin, there's a sizzle in the skillet, there's a spicy aroma in the air! "It must be, it is Wilson's Certified Pure Pork Sausage," says you.

Folks who know their sausages claim that Wilson's are unforgettably delicious. It is because these sausages are made of just the juiciest, choicest pork, taken at the peak of fresh sweet flavor, plus the savory seasoning—a secret Wilson recipe. I do know this, too: morning, noon and night you can glamorize any meal with Wilson's Certified Pure Pork Sausage Links.

Food Consultant, Wilson & Co.

Make Sunday Breakfast a Gala Feast with SAUSAGE OMELET

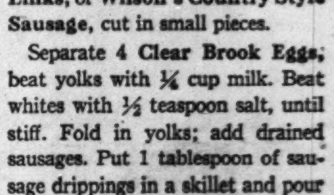
Pan fry until brown and slightly crisp, Wilson's Certified Sausage Links, or Wilson's Country Style Sausage, cut in small pieces.

Separate 4 Clear Brook Eggs; beat yolks with ¼ cup milk. Beat whites with ½ teaspoon salt, until stiff. Fold in yolks; add drained sausages. Put 1 tablespoon of sausage drippings in a skillet and pour in omelet mixture. Cook gently until set. Increase heat to brown, then fold over and serve immediately.



Prepare Early.. Serve Late
SAUSAGE CROQUETTES

For a quickly prepared dinner in the evening, make these delicious croquettes in the morning. They will need only a couple of minutes' heating in deep fat.

Fry 8 small Wilson's Certified Pure Pork Sausage Links in a cool skillet until brown and cooked through. To 2 cups of mashed potatoes add 1 teaspoon of chopped chives, 1 tablespoon minced parsley and the beaten yolk of a Clear Brook Egg. Cover each link with the potato mixture and shape into oblong croquette. Roll in bread crumbs, dip in beaten egg diluted with cold water; then again in crumbs.

SAUSAGE-and-MUSHROOM SUPREME

Saute 1 lb. Wilson's Certified Sausage Links until they are just brown, not cooked through. Arrange in bottom of shallow casserole. Cover with fresh mushrooms, placed cap side up. Sprinkle mushrooms lightly with salt and a dash of paprika. Dot with Clear Brook Butter and pour ½ cup cream or top milk over them. Cover and bake in a hot oven (425° F.) for 10 minutes. Serve on toast and garnish. Serves 4-5.

LAST THURSDAY'S QUESTION.

Question 33: Rubber bridge. You are West, declarer at a three no trump contract. [The opponents made no bid.] Your hand and dummy are as follows:

West [declarer]	East [dummy]
♠A652	♠873
♥AQ5	♥62
♦QJ8	♦K10742
♣KQ7	♣A98

North leads the spade four, South plays the queen. Do you play your ace, or hold it up?

Answer: You should play the spade ace on the first trick. If North's lead was "honest," spades are divided 4-2 between the defenders and you have no need to fear the suit. The greater danger is that if South is permitted to win with the queen, he will attack the heart suit and, if the king is off side, the defenders will establish at least three heart tricks which, with the spade conceded and the diamond ace to come, will defeat your contract. Immediately winning with the spade ace is recognizing the lesser of two evils [10 points demerit for ducking first spade trick].

TODAY'S QUESTIONS.

Question 38: Both sides vulnerable, the bidding proceeds:

South	West	North	East
1 heart	Pass	1 spade	Pass
2 hearts	Pass	4 diamonds	Pass
4 hearts	Pass	4 spades	Pass
?

You are South, and hold:
♠42 ♥AQJ863 ♦53 ♣AJ8
What call do you make?

Question 39: Neither side vulnerable, the bidding proceeds:

North	East	South	West
4 spades	Pass	?

You are South, and hold:
♠A6532 ♥A104 ♦K83 ♣Q4
What call do you make?

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 heart	Pass [1]	1 spade	Pass
3 hearts	Pass	4 hearts	Pass
Pass	Double [2]	Redouble	Pass
Pass	Pass

[1] A very bad "trap" pass. This maneuver requires strength in the opponents' suit.

[2] A very bad double. The strong bidding of North and South should warn West of a long trump suit.

West opened the king of clubs and continued with the queen, South ruffing. South promptly took the spade finesse and ran off the rest of his trumps. When he led the last trump, the situation was: South held the spade seven, the heart queen, and A-Q-8 diamonds; West held the K-J of spades, the K-J of diamonds, and the ace of clubs; dummy held the A-8-5 of spades, the diamond nine and the club jack. East's cards did not matter. Now, on the last trump, if West discarded a spade, dummy's spades would be good. If he let go a diamond, dummy would discard a spade, and the ace and queen of diamonds would be cashed, the latter squeezing West again. Finally, if West let go the club ace, dummy's jack [reached via a spade] would squeeze West between spades and diamonds.

Declarer thus made six hearts and the effect of the double, permitting the redouble was to make him a present of 1,160 points.

Red Cross Roll Call Opens Monday; Give Freely, Mayor Urges

In a proclamation issued yesterday Mayor Kelly urged prompt and generous response to the American Red Cross membership roll call, opening next Monday, Armistice day, to continue thru the month.

Outlining the far reaching programs of the society, the mayor said: "The Red Cross is the country's officially designated disaster relief and military welfare agency, equipped to assist and advise veterans and present members of our armed forces, and prepared to conduct community programs of training in first aid, health, and safety service.

"I urge our citizens to enroll in the Red Cross and ask that their membership contributions be prompt and generous."

CHICAGO HOCKEY SEASON OPENS TONIGHT

DYKES WOULD TRADE ALL BUT 4 OF WHITE SOX

Lyons Among Those Who Are Exempt.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

James Dykes, who quit town immediately after his White Sox had done the usual by whipping the Cubs in the city series, came back from his California vacation yesterday and promptly revealed that he hasn't discarded his mood for trades.

There are only four among the 1940 Sox he will not put on the block next month when the minors convene at Atlanta, Ga., for their annual convention, which the majors attend, or at the subsequent big league meeting in Chicago.

Not available for the trading suggestions of the managers Dykes hopes to outsmart are Mike Kreevich, center fielder; Joe Kuhel, first baseman, and Pitcher Johnny Rigney. Of course, the veteran Ted Lyons is exempted. As Dykes explained, Lyons is a White Sox institution.

Dykes Will Talk—Football.

Dykes, who likes his football and horse racing next to baseball, couldn't be fetched to his pay check subject until after announcing he had made arrangements for the annual Rose bowl football game in Pasadena, Cal., next New Year's day. He thinks Stanford and Cornell are a cinch to be in on the demonstration, but protected himself by declaring he hadn't seen Washington play. Neither did he see Oscar Vitt, the recently fired Cleveland Indians' manager. Vitt told Dykes during the last summer that if he'd see him when in California "after this thing has gone past" he'd tell the whole story.

Dykes was in Vitt's home town but didn't catch up with Oscar, and with a dual lack of explanation from Vitt and Alva Bradley, the Indians' president, the reader can write his own ticket. The winner, so far as Vitt's successor is concerned, probably will be Luke Sewell, former catcher, who served as a coach with the Cleveland club last season.

Dykes Seeks Infield Help.

Being a clever fellow, as Sox fans as well as the team's opponents know, Dykes would not volunteer names of any athlete on whom he has covetous eyes. He is smart enough to appreciate that the designation of performers now under foreign control would boost the price for them if he should furnish a clew. Dykes confined himself to a declaration that he wanted another outfielder and a couple of infielders.

Dykes' admission that he craves a pair of infielders indicates he hasn't much confidence in the present material. One of them is the veteran Jack Hayes, whose eye ailment probably has pulled down the curtain on his career as an active big leaguer. Hayes may wind up as a coach of the Indians. Eric McNair retired last midseason because of ill health and Rookie Don Kolloway is yet untried over a stretch in the big leagues. Jim Webb, a utility man, can play the position, but his best defensive work is done on the left side of the infield.

Dykes' Appetite Sharp, Too.

During the course of a Comiskey park corned beef and cabbage dinner at which Dykes was a late arrival, altho he ate very well, it was learned that the Sox and Cubs, during the 1941 training trip, are going to have more in common than in the past.

The Sox will play a few games with the Pirates and some with the Athletics. These two teams also train in California.

But with the homeward trek under way the Athletics and Pirates will hook up en route and the Cubs and Sox will do the same. That will bring the latter pair into Chicago together for the customary local games prior to the opening of the season. When the Cubs show themselves around here again they will be under a new manager unless the right man can't be located.

LOUIS TO MEET M'COY IN TITLE BOUT ON DEC. 16

New York, Nov. 6 (AP).—Joe Louis will defend his world's heavyweight championship against Al McCoy, New England and Canadian title holder, in the Boston Garden Dec. 16, it was announced today by Promoter Mike Jacobs. Jacobs will release Louis from his contract for this 15 round bout, which will be promoted by Rip Valenti.

The fight will be Boston's first heavyweight championship match. Louis' last title defense was on June 21, when he knocked out Arturo Godoy of Chile in the eighth round.

Kansas State Entrains for South Carolina Game

Manhattan, Kas., Nov. 6 (AP).—The Kansas State football squad entrained tonight for Columbia, S. C., where the Wildcats play the University of South Carolina Saturday. Chris Langvardt, half back used sparingly last week, is expected to play. Charles Fairman, senior guard, was left behind because of an injured ankle.

The Defense of England.

They are fighting for the homeland
In the isle across the sea
Where a valiant land unconquered
Breathes the spirit of the free.

There the heritage of ages
Shared alike by many lands
Is committed to the keeping
Of a nation's loyal hands.

Tho a continent has crumbled
Before a ruthless foe's demands,
Unafraid and still undaunted,
Staunch and firm all England stands.

Rather death than servile safety,
Is the British answer bold—
Never people so imperiled,
Cast in more heroic mold.

In the world of the tomorrow,
Be the outcome what it may,
Men will pause to pay their tribute
To the Britons of today.

BIG NINE ELEVENS TRAIN SIGHTS ON OUTSIDE RIVALS

Wisconsin and Purdue to Invade New York.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

While undefeated Michigan and Minnesota are doing their best to determine the Western conference football champion, other Big Nine and mid-western teams will be engaged Saturday in the greatest intersectional foray of the season.

Supporting the Michigan-Minnesota game in conference interest is the Illinois-Northwestern battle in Dyche stadium. The Wildcats, beaten last week by the Gophers, must win from the Illini to keep within striking distance of the leader. And since Northwestern will face the Wolverines next week, there can be no doubt but that the Wildcats are rooting for a Michigan victory this week.

Wisconsin, Purdue, and Iowa top the intersectional schedule, with Marquette and Notre Dame in support. In addition, Indiana university plays Michigan State in Bloomington. It is the third Big Nine game for the Spartans, who were beaten by Michigan in their opening game and then whipped Purdue, Navy, altho beaten by Pennsylvania last week, will test Notre Dame, which was disappointing against Army last Saturday.

A New York Invasion.

Wisconsin, Purdue, and Marquette are competitors for New York's football patronage. The Boilermakers are continuing their series with Fordham after a year's hiatus during which they played Santa Clara on the other sea coast. Wisconsin faces Columbia and hopes to take the easterners in stride. The Badgers have beaten Purdue and Illinois in succession.

Marquette plays Manhattan with the fervent hope of ending its disastrous losing streak. The Hilltoppers have not been beaten badly and frequently have outplayed their rivals, but they now have lost three games, won one, and tied with Creighton.

Iowa meets Nebraska and is faced with the prospect of losing a fourth consecutive game to the eleven which apparently will be the 1940 champion of the Big Six conference. Nebraska already has won from Missouri and Oklahoma, the 1939 and 1938 champions, respectively.

Battle of Stars in Northwest.

The Minnesota-Michigan affair matches three of the better ball carrying backs in the Big Nine. Few will question the leadership of Michigan's Tom Harmon at this time and Minnesota certainly has the best pair of conference backs in George Franck and Bruce Smith even if you deny the claim of ardent Gopher supporters that either one is a match for Harmon.

Michigan's Bob Westfall has the best record on offense of the Big Nine full backs in conference competition, but it is limited to one game, that against Illinois. In Minnesota's three conference games, Bob Sweiger and Bill Daley, a sophomore, have carried the burden of the plunging attack, with Ed Steinbauer in reserve.

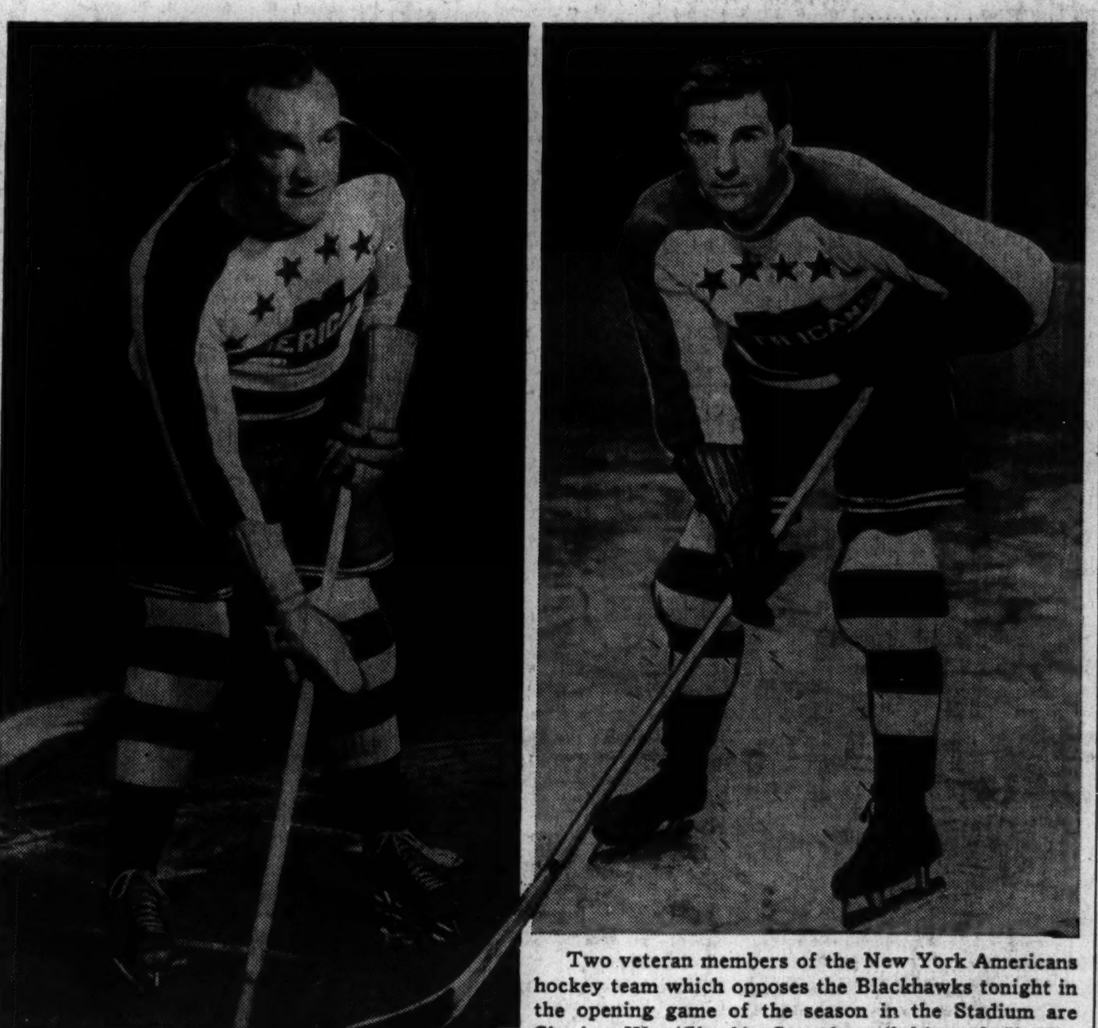
The game in Minneapolis quite likely will decide who is the best sophomore lineman in the conference. Al Wistert, Michigan's left tackle, has held a starting assignment since the opening game with California. Dick Wildung, defensive right tackle for Minnesota, started against the University of Washington, but in recent games Fred Vant Hull, a veteran, has taken over this honor.

Hursh Again Leads Passers.

More than half of the leaders in the individual statistics of the Big Nine come from second division teams. Hal Hursh of Indiana has completed 22 passes in 45 attempts to lead in the fight to retain the title he won in 1939. Hursh's passes have gained 327 yards. Don Scott of Ohio State has completed 21 passes and gained 317 yards. Jim Youel, of Iowa; Dick Good of Illinois, and Ollie Hahnenstein of Northwestern, are contenders on last week's games. Good completed 11 of 25 passes against Wisconsin while Youel completed 6 in 21 passes against Purdue.

Leading ground gainer in the Big Nine is Bill Green of Iowa, but Minnesota's Smith has the better average per game, since he has played in only three conference engagements. Green has played in four.

Old, but Tough, These New Yorkers



Two veteran members of the New York Americans hockey team which opposes the Blackhawks tonight in the opening game of the season in the Stadium are Charles W. (Chuck) Conacher (left) and Hooley Smith (above), who are among the toughest and most durable players in the game.

SOPER IS MOVED TO LEFT HALF AT NORTHWESTERN

Paul Soper, veteran back, who set the stage for Northwestern's 13 to 0 victory over Illinois last year with a fourth quarter seventy-four yard touchdown run, will have another opportunity to upset the Illini in Dyche stadium Saturday. The stocky Muskegon ball carrier was shifted from full back to left half in yesterday's practice to fortify a position weakened by the inability of Bill De Correvont to regain top form because of a sprained ankle received in the Wisconsin game three weeks ago.

After being held out of the Indiana game, DeCorrevont played briefly against Minnesota last Saturday but was withdrawn when it became apparent that the injury still bothered him. The ankle was placed in a cast this week to assure additional rest and it will not be determined definitely whether he will be able to play until tomorrow.

Rather than place the full burden of the left half position upon Red Hahnenstein, Coach Lynn Waldorf yesterday switched Soper back to his old position where he performed until this season.

ILLINI HAVE LIGHT DRILL.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 6 [Special].—Today's workout for the Northwestern game was slated to be Illinois' hardest of the week, but Coach Bob Zuppke, fearful that accident might make further inroads on the depleted ranks of the Illini, held it to a light scrimmage.

Hope that Art Marlaire, who was unable to play in the last two games, will be ready for the Wildcats increased when the sophomore end from Bradley participated. Marlaire's talents as a pass receiver attracted Zuppke's attention early in the campaign. Marlaire's return will strengthen the wing positions, sorely riddled by the loss of two regulars, Jim Phillips and Bob O'Neill.

The day's drill indicated that Elmer Engel and Bob Gibbs, playing their first year, will have the end assignments at Evanston. Engel rested, but is expected to be in condition. Harry Plowe, sophomore from Morgan Park High school, also was drilled at end.

Cliff Peterson remained at right half to fill the gap caused by the loss of George Rettinger. Peterson will alternate with Lavere Astroth.

Meet Marshall, Professional Football's Man of Tomorrow

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—This could be a story about how Griffith stadium has been sold out for the Chicago Bears-Washington Redskins football match, which isn't to be played until Nov. 17. Or we could review the fact the Redskins have won seven games and lost none, the only undefeated team in the National Football league. Or this could be a statistical narrative featuring the fact Sammy Baugh has completed 68 passes in 96 tries in seven games for a total of 950 yards.

Instead of mentioning the foregoing, we are going to write about the proprietor of the Redskins, George Preston Marshall. In his way, Mr. Marshall is just as good a tosser as Baugh. Only he tosses big ideas instead of footballs.

He Passes on Any Down.

A few of Mr. Marshall's best intended idea passes to the National league have been grounded, but the spectacular Redskins' chief has a remarkable record for completions. He told us today that he's going to keep tossing until he tops Baugh's present percentage in the league. He says he has watched the pros overtake the collegians in the skill of the game of football itself, but he admits the universities and colleges still have the pros skinned by a wide margin in dressing up the show.

In Washington, Marshall is more than catching up in the matter of showmanship, but he sighs a bit when he recalls how reticent some of his colleagues have been in the matter of dolling up their performances.

Color, You Are Mr. Marshall!

Mr. Marshall, who personally is a colorful individual of the headlong type, has been the subject of many newspaper pieces and magazine articles. Nevertheless, interviewing him during business hours is an experience. Telephones ringing, some of which he answers. A paragraph halted in the middle while he dictates a memo or a letter. A nostalgic passage about his boyhood in Grafton, W. Va., split in two as he interrupts himself to tell about being the only one who is equipped to conduct ticket sales simultaneously for six games.

Or did you ever see the letter which Senator Glass sent him or the picture of him presenting a solid gold pass to President Roosevelt, and please come out here and see the wooden cigar store Indian made in 1854 that Mrs. Marshall [the former Corinne Griffith of the cinemas] picked up in a midwestern curiosity shop.

He Was a Boy Once.

Don't get the idea we're trying to say Mr. M. is a scatterbrain. He's far from that. He simply has one of those mentalities that works a million miles a minute and throws off sparks. It has become the practice of the more progressive men in the National league to capture many of these sparks and cause them to glow into promotional progress which has been phenomenal in the development of that once ragged urchin, professional football.

All his life, the 44 year old Marshall says, he has been a sports fan. He told us how he organized an independent team in Grafton when he was 14 years old. Friends even go back of that in telling of his budding promotional genius. They say he went into the rabbit business as a small boy.

He failed to make the million dollars he expected and his parents ordered him to sell out his establishment, which had been reduced by misfortune to just one mama rabbit. He found he couldn't give away the rabbit simply as a rabbit. So he advertised in his father's newspaper that, tho he hated to make the sacrifice, he was willing to dispose of a rare animal, a "Jacksonville Hare." He unloaded the fancy named rabbit for a record price of $1.25. The transaction perhaps was the germ in his later enthusiasm for the power of ballyhoo.

Mr. Marshall Takes Over.

The Redskins are enjoying their most successful of several strikingly successful seasons and it therefore isn't distasteful to Mr. Marshall to start telling of his experiences in professional football, when he and other business men associates took a franchise in the National league in Boston in 1932, expecting to lose $25,000 and actually losing $46,000 the first year.

Let's let him do the talking now: "My connection with pro football grew out of my association with George Halas of Chicago and the late Joe Carr in the organization of a basketball league. I sponsored a team as an advertising medium for my laundry business. [Marshall is president of a laundry and cleaning business which has 53 branches and 96

Americans—Pat Egan, Wilf Field, Hooley Smith, Buzz Boll, Harvey Jackson, Jack O'Flaherty, Bill Benson, Roy Wycherley, Norm Larson, Johnny Sorrell.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Fourteen years ago come Nov. 17 an agile flock of fellows designated as the Chicago Blackhawks and wearing sharp-toothed skates introduced ice hockey to our town by defeating a team then known as the Toronto St. Patricks by a score of 4 to 1 in the Chicago Coliseum before a shouting, if unlearned, throng of 7,000.

Tonight, in the Chicago Stadium, which seats nigh onto 17,000 customers, the 1940-'41 copy of these same Chicago Blackhawks will do battle with the New York Americans in the local opener of the big league hockey season.

Still Plenty of Seats.

Lest there be any hesitance about customers coming, President Bill Tobin, Manager Paul Thompson, and Publicitor Joseph Chesterfield Farrell yesterday were quite explicit in their warnings that those near-17,000 pews were not entirely sold out, and that more than several hundred of same would be available for the presentation of what is known in certain quarters as fresh.

Granting that this, in the form of the national wampum, is placed beneath the wickets, the Hawks are aiming at a new house high for the 15 seasons with which they have regaled many of the same citizens who watched them in their inaugural against the St. Pats. Their all-time high is the 14,864 with which they touched off last season's campaign by licking the Detroit Red Wings, 3 to 2.

Messrs. Tobin, Thompson, and Farrell, not to mention the club's proprietor, Maj. Frederic McLaughlin, would be very happy to see that attendance bettered, but again, they made it plain that there still are seats to be had.

Mr. Farrell Elaborates.

Mr. Farrell was so interested in the game played Tuesday on what he called 48 rinks that he went so far as to prepare an essay on this evening's contest, from which the following excerpt is extracted:

"The ultra-smart, the hoi-polloi, and the proletariat, made up of Democrats, Republicans, and Independents, who have [at this point, Mr. Farrell interjected the sly thought, "we hope"] forgotten their differences, will rub elbows, borrow cigarets, and berate the referee tonight at the 15th opening of the Chicago Blackhawks, who will meet the New York Americans in the Chicago Stadium, beginning at 8:30 o'clock."

Cut Farrell's Output.

Mr. Farrell, at this point, was presented by his listeners with a puck-shaped medal for first prize in sixth grade composition, and then was asked by the audience who are these Americans, not, say, these Hawks. Mr. Farrell was thus moved to give 5,000 word biographies of the opposing managers, Thompson of the Hawks and Mervyn [Red] Dutton of the Americans, but was hauled down on the 1,000 word line and forced to punt.

He coyly admitted that Paul Goodman will play goal for the Chicagoans, a habit Paul developed around New Year's time last year. Fronting for Goodman in the defense posts tonight will be Earl Seibert and Art Wiebe, the latter already having saved up 12 stitches in practice endeavors for the year's sewing championship.

Here Mr. Farrell paused before delivering the names of the starting forwards, for forwards are supposed to propel the puck into the net, thereby causing the red light back of the opposing goalie to blink, and with it thousands of shredded pages of old telephone books to descend upon the ice. Finally, he allowed that Harold [Mush] March, second oldest hand on the Hawks, will go at right wing, with two of last year's bright young rookies, George Allen and Bill Carse, working respectively at left wing and center.

New York's New Men.

The Americans will come in with a largely new set of lads, characteristic of the entire National Hockey league in its search for younger material. Leading these is Jack [Peanuts] O'Farrell, who, in the only other game they've played this year, got the New Yorkers' two goals. Jack and his chums from the amateur and junior wheels will have ample assistance, however, in three fellows who have been around—Johnny Sorrell, Hooley Smith, and Charley Conacher.

C. Y. O. BOXERS TO OPEN 1940 TITLE TOURNEY TONIGHT

40 Bouts Scheduled in St. Sabina Gym.

BY FRANK MASTRO.

The 1940 Catholic Youth organization amateur boxing tournament will open tonight with approximately 40 bouts in the open, novice, and beginners classes in St. Sabina gymnasium, 7800 South Racine avenue, at a cost of 1 cent a bout. Second round contests in the south section will be offered tomorrow, with winners qualifying for the quarter-finals in the C. Y. O. center Nov. 18. Semi-finals are scheduled Nov. 25 and 26, also in the C. Y. O. The 32 survivors will meet in the finals in the Coliseum Dec. 4.

Among this evening's contestants will be Harold Dade, Chicagoland Golden Gloves flyweight champion. Dade was eliminated in the C. Y. O. championship round last December by Al Noto. He has shown considerable improvement since that setback. As a result he will be favored to win this time. His chief contenders for a south side berth will be Bill Hawkins, Chicago parks title holder, and Salvador Melendez, St. Jude shrine of Our Lady of Guadalupe. Melendez reached the novice semi-finals in the 1939 tournament.

Dawson Among Entrants.

Other south side candidates include Fred Dawson and Bertrand White, bantamweights; Joe Lacivita, featherweight, and Jimmy Martin, Lou Bobeck, Joe Bierne, James Hunt, John Johnson, and Al Reasoner, welterweights. White, member of St. James parish, was runnerup to Fred Reporto in the novice bantamweight division last December.

Lacivita, St. Mary of Mount Carmel, won a novice 126 pound championship in 1938, and Martin was a member of the intercity Golden Gloves team in 1936. Bobeck has won a Chicago parks championship, but Hunt earned the novice 135 pound title last year. Al Reasoner Jr., St. Ambrose parish, also is registered for competition out south. Reasoner beat Andy Parks of St. Stanislaus for the 1939 novice featherweight championship.

Thirteen Nights of Fighting.

Tonight's matches mark the first of 13 nights of fighting in various sections of the city and in Joliet. The majority of the 980 entrants have passed rigid physical examinations.

A list of 200 more will face the examiners in Catholic High school, Joliet, next week. One of the most important of yesterday's registrants was Joe O'Connell, 1938 open welterweight title holder. Joe, older brother of Eddie, 1940 city Golden Gloves lightweight champ, who also is entered in the current meet, has been inactive for the last two years.

Rivalry High Among Riders in 6 Day Race

Three hundred carpenters will take charge in the Chicago Stadium tonight after the hockey game is over and start work on the 10 lap track for Chicago's 43d International six-day bicycle race which starts at 9 o'clock Sunday night. The saucer is built of pine strips two inches square.

There promises to be much international rivalry with such outstanding foreign stars as Gustav Kilian and Heinz Vopel of Germany, Torchy and Doug Peden of Canada, Gerard Debaets of Belgium, Angello De Bacco and Charley Bergna, Italian riders, and such Americans as Cecil Yates, Jerry Rodman, Archie Bollaert, and Freddie Ottevaere.

Eddie Kuehan, Chicago youngster from the west side, will make his first appearance in a Chicago race. Kuehan is only 18 years old and is regarded as one of the best amateur riders ever developed in Chicago.

Doug Peden, Torchy's brother, arrived last night, while the German riders, Kilian and Vopel, are due today. They will work out at Humboldt park this afternoon.

Fargo Beats Calzaretta in White City Main Event

Wendel White beat William Jordan [3]; Bishop Edwards beat Charles Banks [3]; William Johnson beat Richard Stone [3]; Andy Sterley beat Oscar Williams [3]; John Voss beat King Solomon [3]; Tom Cahill beat Ed Gilmore [3].

Chicago Skaters Defeat New York; Face New Foe

The Chicago roller Derby team defeated the New York team, 197 points to 195, by winning the sprints at the Coliseum last night. Joe Nygra of Chicago scored the winning points by passing up three of the Manhattan skaters. Tonight the San Francisco team will open a series against the Chicagoans.

PLAYOFF BERTH STAKE.

The 47th Ward Demos will be fighting for a playoff berth when they play the Variety A. C. in a Greater Chicago league football game in Weber park at 8:15 o'clock tonight.

Monarchs Set 3 Records in Classic League

The Monarch Beers, world bowling champions, captured all the honors in last night's competition of the Wednesday division of the Classic league at Mayrose recreation, and in so doing won three games from the Ambrosias to take the league lead. The Monarchs set three season's records for the circuit. They rolled a 3,273 series and a 1,147 game and one of their team, George Eland, turned in a 740 series. In addition Bill Flesch rolled the league's high game for the evening, 279.

MEET MARSHALL, PRO FOOTBALL'S MODERN BARNUM

He's Man of Tomorrow—and Yesterday.

retail outlets in the District of Columbia].

"Halas, with the fading of the basketball enterprise, asked me to get into pro football, but I asked time to study the game. In 1931 I went with a party of friends to a great Giants-Bears game in New York and after the game Vincent Bendix and my other associates started clamoring for a franchise. We got the franchise for Boston, I preferring Boston instead of Washington, at the time, because I didn't want to have the football team confused with the basketball team which was advertising my laundry business.

"For years I had been jumping around the country as a sports fan to all the big college games and I knew, of course, that alumni were the best supporters of the college game. I knew, on the other hand, that there are more people who haven't gone to college than there are those who have. Pro football, therefore, was to represent the alma mater of those noncollege graduates. They could become wild-eyed followers of a football team without worrying about not having any college affiliations.

He Senses Progress.

"The first year I was in the National league the loose coördination of the 22 team circuit was startling to any one with business training. There was no balance of schedules; contracts were variable and leaky; the players were given few if any incentives. The few good teams played more exhibition games during the regular season than they played league games. The teams were poorly uniformed, stayed in cheap hotels, carried their own equipment in duffle bags. Sometimes players got all the money promised to them.

"I worked with others in trying to correct all these conditions, but was not entirely satisfied with having the team in Boston. Five years ago, tho, I decided the pro game had progressed to the point where it would not be looked upon as a mere plug for my other business interests and started thinking about bringing the team to Washington.

"I took Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators baseball team and Griffith stadium, and a party of sports writers to the eastern division championship game. I asked them after the contest if they would support the Redskins if I transferred the team from Boston to Washington. They were enthusiastic. I made arrangements with Mr. Griffith for the use of his ball park and the rest is history.

It's a Family Affair.

"One of the factors in the gay, at times hysterical, support given the team in Washington, is vindication of my theory, challenged by some others in the pro football business, that the game must be made attractive to women and children. There are those who argue that pro football is strictly a he-man enterprise. I hold, and I think we have proven, that if you can get mama and the kids steamed up over a football game, played on Sunday afternoon, that you've got papa hooked. The family will root him out and after he's attended a few games, everything is lovely for everybody.

"One of the dangers of the future, and a hindrance in the past, has been that of saturation. I have fought in the league for a schedule limited to ten games and rigid restrictions on exhibition games.

"We have standard entertainment features, including our 120 piece bands, prize contests and such, but we are the only city in the league that has them. You can say that the enthusiasm here is a sports freak, but I know better. Some day every National league city is going to have just as much fun out of its pro football as we have here in Washington."

Marshall says that he has no ambition to build a pro stadium. He says baseball parks, with their covered stands and upper decks are ideal with adjustments made thru the resodding of the field and the erection of steel circus seats. Incidentally, Clark Griffith, notoriously cautious in baseball financial matters, this fall has supplied temporary bleachers costing $35,000. The Redskins' president says that as a result of this and other coöperation, a contract for six years' tenancy in Griffith stadium is being drawn up.

CARDINALS' AIR DEFENSE READIED FOR THE PACKERS

South Siders See Chance for Sunday Victory.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

An undermanned, but highly organized Cardinal defense corps spent another morning in Comiskey park yesterday perfecting a reception for Green Bay's vaunted aerial attack. At the conclusion of the drill it was obvious that a small group of observers was impressed and would not be surprised in the least if the Cardinals defeat the defending champions on the south side Sunday.

Green Bay's attack, despite such dangerous ball carriers as Clarke Hinkle, Larry Buhler, and Cecil Isbell, is essentially an aerial offensive built around the matchless ability of Don Hutson. Hutson is a dangerous receiver, so dangerous in fact that he makes other Packer receivers equally dangerous by his presence in the game. Hutson must be watched and watched diligently no matter whether he is the intended receiver or not. And while the defense is watching Hutson another receiver breaks into the clear.

Cardinals Are Tough.

All this sounds extremely ominous to the chances of a club which has been in and out of the western division cellar. But there is another side to the story. The young Cardinals, for all their lack of experience in professional football, and the scarcity of reserves, are an alert, rugged, defensive club and probably will be quite successful against the Packers' running attack. This leaves it up to the pass defense.

According to the last official audit, the Cardinals are leading the league in pass defense. In eight games they have broken up 65 per cent of the passes thrown against them. Among this list of eight games are meetings with Washington and Green Bay, the teams which stand one-two in pass efficiency in the National league. Washington has completed 62 per cent of its passes and Green Bay 42 per cent.

What the Cardinals have done before they can do Sunday, and one gathers around Comiskey park these days that they can do it even better than before. Coach Jimmy Conzelman's pass defense strategy is built around old, accepted principles. He rushes the passer. The Cardinal line has shown an aptitude for this type of work. The Bears proved last week that Packer passes can be rushed without too much trouble and the Cardinals insist if the Bears can do it they can, too. They beat the Bears, you'll remember.

Cardinals Have Spirit.

This defiant expression of confidence has been one of the Cardinals' chief assets. They have been a spirited club in every game so far. It is this spirit that makes an alert team. Coach Curley Lambeau attributes the Bears' success to it and he looks forward with very little enthusiasm to meeting a Cardinal club of the same fiber, even tho the Cardinals do not have a personnel comparable to that of the Bears.

MIKE BYELENE'S BACK; IT'S BIG NEWS AT PURDUE

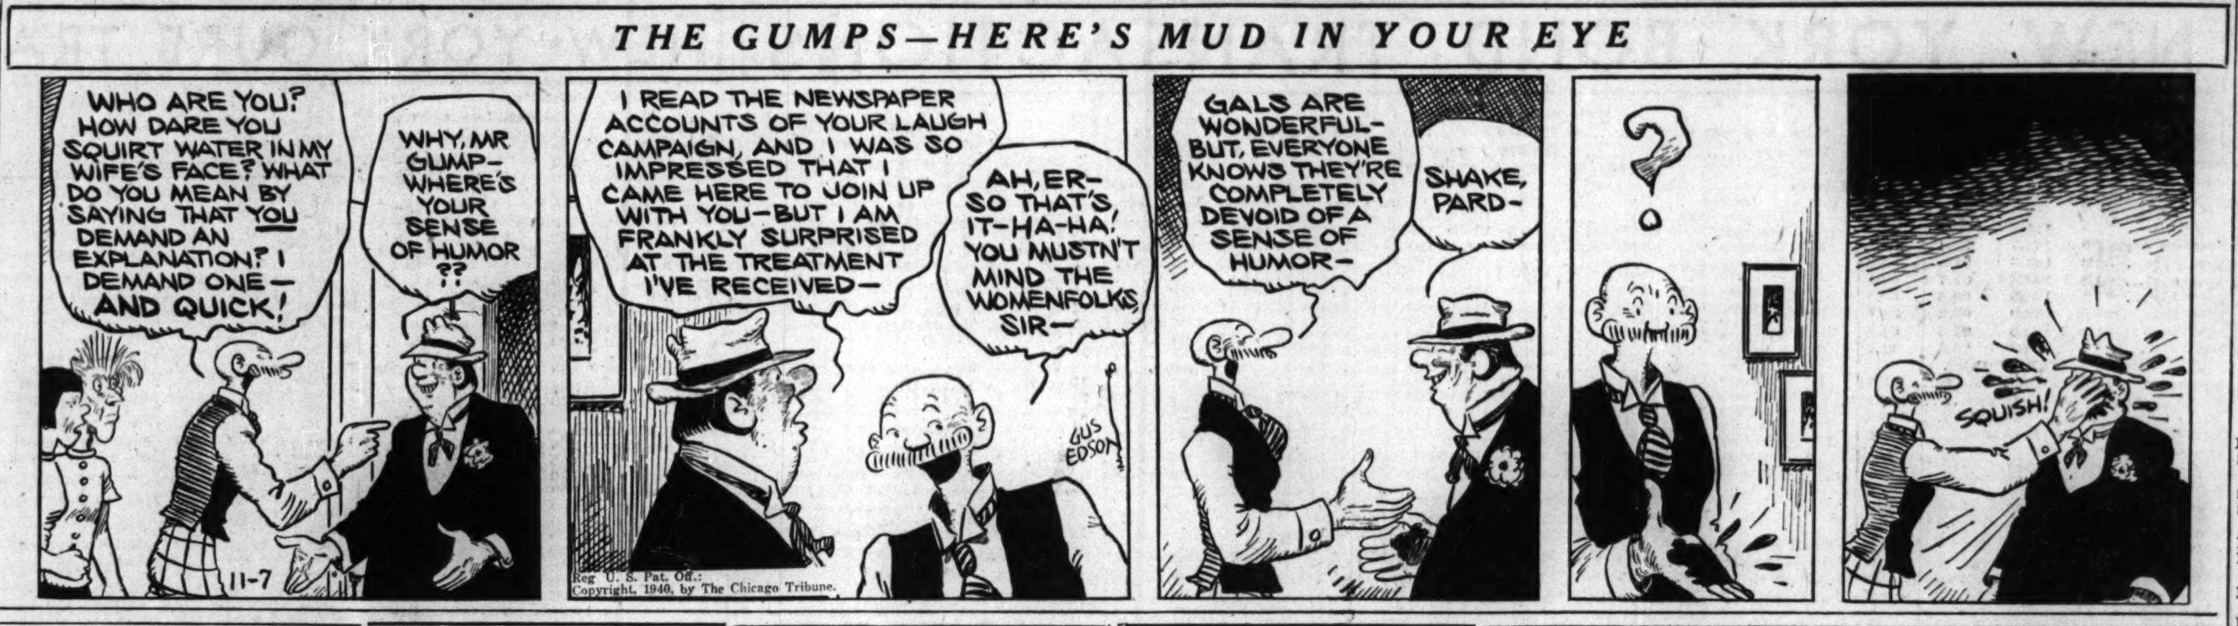
Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 6 [Special].—The possibility that Mike Byelene, outstanding half back, may be able to see some action for Purdue Saturday against Fordham increased this afternoon as he raced thru a speedy workout for the first time since he suffered a cracked wrist in the Michigan State game on Oct. 12.

During the last three weeks Mike had kept his legs in shape. And he seems certain to be listed on the playing roster when the Boilermakers leave tomorrow afternoon for New York.

Provided Bylene plays, Purdue's offensive strength should be materially bolstered, for the Byelene to Dave Rankin pass was the Boilermakers' most dangerous weapon last season.

Knowing the Boilermakers will be outweighed from 10 to 15 pounds to the man, Coach Mal Elward concentrated on the development of a fast charging defense to halt the Fordham running attack which has given the Rams four victories in five starts this season. The lone defeat was by St. Mary's, 9 to 6.

THE GUMPS—HERE'S MUD IN YOUR EYE



Wolverines Find Gophers Easy—in Drill

Ann Arbor, Nov. 6 [Special].—A spirited Michigan football team again stopped a freshman "Minnesota" team today as Coach Fritz Crisler polished the defense which he hopes will bring him his first victory over the Gophers Saturday in Minneapolis. The frosh squad also went on the defensive against the Michigan attack in an extended drill.

The Wolverines will leave late tomorrow afternoon for Chicago where they will remain overnight before proceeding to Minneapolis Friday morning. The team will practice in Minneapolis Friday afternoon. The Michigan band also will make the trip, leaving Friday morning.

The last time a Michigan team invaded Minnesota was in 1938 when the Gophers scored a 7 to 6 victory. It is this game that Tom Harmon and other Michigan veterans are keeping in mind these days. It was Harmon's fumble in the fourth quarter which gave Minnesota the ball and the opportunity to score the winning touchdown.

A large number of Michigan students and fans are planning to make the trip tomorrow and Friday and there is assurance that Michigan alumni from coast to coast will attend.

SELLOUT AT MINNEAPOLIS.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 6 [Special].—For the first time in the history of modern football at the University of Minnesota, a sellout for the Michigan game—63,800 tickets—became official late today. The last 800 seats in Memorial stadium were sold shortly after noon.

As late comers turned to the few scalpers who showed up in the loop, the Minnesota football players continued preparations for Michigan in an outdoor session on Northrop field despite temperatures below freezing.

There was some jubilation when Helge Pukema, injured guard, took his place on the second team for the first time this week. Another surprise was the appearance of Mike Welch, a sophomore, at blocking back with the same team. He has been a fourth stringer until today.

The Gophers devoted most of their time to their own offense.

MARIGOLD BOUT IS SWITCHED TO COLISEUM RING

A 10 round bout between Jimmy Tygh, Philadelphia lightweight, and Nick Castiglione of the west side, originally scheduled in Marigold Gardens next Monday, has been shifted to the Coliseum. The new date is Nov. 25. The match will support a 10 round event involving Steve Mamakos, Washington, D. C. welterweight, and Milt Aron. Henry Chmielewski, Old Orchard, Me., middleweight, and Nate Bolden replaced the Tygh-Castiglione match for Marigold.

Irving Schoenwald, who is sponsoring both shows, has closed four preliminary fights of four rounds for Monday's card. These will bring together Harvey Dubs, Windsor, Ont., junior welterweight, and Pete Ferrand; Milt Kellis, Milwaukee middleweight, and Sammy Secreet; Art Ehrlich, Peoria lightweight, who formerly fought as Kelly Kohn, and Matt Milovitch, and Joe Dupont and Eu Eulien, local 137 pounders. . . . Lem Franklin, 1937 international Golden Gloves heavyweight winner, will leave today for Cleveland where he will meet Jess Kennedy of California tomorrow with Joe Louis as referee.

Demote Hursh to Indiana's Second Eleven

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 6 [Special].—Sophomore Al Rucinski and Junior Mickey McGuire alternately replaced Hurling Hal Hursh at left half back in the Indiana lineup today as Coach Bo McMillin continued to seek improvement in the running attack and pass defense. Both also took over the signal calling duties of Hursh, who appeared to be temporarily demoted to the second string eleven, and may not be in the starting lineup against Michigan State here Saturday.

Another sophomore, Bob Rhoda, was given a brief tryout in this spot but was relegated to the side lines with a leg injury along with Red Zimmer and Patsy Ronzone, the Hoosiers' fastest pair of backs. Team physicians reported that Gene White, regular guard who normally handles the Hoosiers' kickoffs and place-kicks, probably would be unable to play Saturday due to a leg injury incurred in the Ohio State game.

Today's practice consisted chiefly of blocking, pass defense work, and timing of plays.

Irish Finally Get Over Visit to Broadway

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 6 [Special].—A resurgence of spirit, following last week's sight-seeing trip to New York, marked Notre Dame's workout today for the Navy game in Baltimore Saturday.

Coach Elmer Layden followed the same pattern as yesterday, eliminating scrimmage as the Irish worked on defense behind locked gates. The squad appeared to be reacting well to the needle wielded by Layden at lectures yesterday and today and the biting remarks of eastern writers following the Army game.

Layden was not too disturbed about the showing last week, giving the Cadets credit for coming into their best physical shape of the season and "playing the kind of ball Army always plays against Notre Dame." The status of Capt. Milt Piepul, full back, and Bob Osterman, center, was still in doubt today. The squad will get another light drill tomorrow afternoon before boarding a 5:50 train from Lapaz, Ind.

NAVY SCRIMMAGE.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 6 [Special].—Continuing intense drill for the Notre Dame game in Baltimore Saturday, Navy went thru long offensive and defensive scrimmages today, with particular emphasis on Notre Dame's wide running attack. Its own passing offensive also came in for a great deal of attention.

Tho Head Coach Larson has stood firmly by his pre-season policy of a two team system, without changes, indications are that he will deviate from that in several instances. He wants more weight in the line. Gene Flathmann, most ponderous member of the squad, may get the call over Bill Chewning and Joe Donahoe at right tackle berth.

Gunners Beat Bombers with Late Rally, 28-14

The Chicago Gunners football team scored its fourth victory of the season defeating the Brown Bombers eleven, 28 to 14, in Rand stadium last night. The Bombers led at the half, 14 to 0. The Gunners scored one touchdown in the third period and three in the fourth.

William [Buddy] Ryan, 58, died last night in St. Francis hospital in Evanston after a 10 days' illness. His widow was at his bedside when the end came. In addition to Mrs. Ryan, the former claimant of the world welterweight boxing championship is survived by four sons. Ryan, who met such old time greats as Jimmy Gardner, Abe Attell, and Kid Broad during his career, went into the tavern business after he retired from the ring in 1906. Some months ago he sold his business and went into retirement. Ryan lived at 2330 Eastwood avenue.

Iowa's Soph Linemen May Face Nebraska

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 6 [Special].—A line including four newcomers is likely to start for Iowa Saturday in its game at Nebraska. There also are indications of a general back field shakeup.

Coach Eddie Anderson was pleased today over the work of the four sophomores, Guards Ross Anderson and Francis Curran, Tackle George Gable, and Center George [Red] Frye as the squad participated in a stiff scrimmage. These men may be used at length Saturday in an effort to find an answer to the weak blocking on the Hawkeye eleven.

The varsity back field again was given the benefit of a light workout, but an all-sophomore unit composed of Bill Stauss, quarter back; Tom Farmer, left half back; Art Johnson, full back; and Bernard [Buss] Mertes, full back, was given plenty of attention.

Bill Diehl, veteran center, still was bothered with an arm injury, and John Maher turned up with a shoulder injury suffered in yesterday's scrimmage. The hurt is not expected to keep him from the Nebraska game.

HUSKERS BUILD DEFENSE.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 6 (AP).—Pass defense was stressed as the Nebraska Cornhuskers today completed their last hard workout before the University of Iowa invasion Saturday. The frosh, meanwhile, displayed Iowa offense tactics to the first string line in actual combat.

WISCONSIN PICKS 36 PLAYERS TO FACE COLUMBIA

Madison, Wis., Nov. 6 [Special].—Thirty-six Wisconsin players were named this afternoon for the trip to New York, where the Badgers will meet Columbia university in an intersectional football game Saturday.

The squad follows:

ENDS—Cliff Philip, Bob Baumann, Gene Lyons, Al Lorenz, Dave Schreiner, Bob Stupka, and Ed Wegner.

TACKLES—Paul Hirsbrunner, Dick Thornally, Harry Cagney, Lloyd Wasserbach, Elmer Tornow, and Harry Harter.

GUARDS—Fred Gage, Gordon Gile, Dick Embick, George Makris, John Roberts, and Dave Jones.

CENTERS—Bob McKay, Ray Kreick, Fred Ladewig, and Bob Henry.

QUARTER BACKS—Tommy Farris, Bob Peterson, and Paul Bronson.

HALF BACKS—Johnny Tennant, Mark Hoskins, Bob Willding, Don Miller, Jim McFadzean, Ted Damos, and Howard Schrack.

FULL BACKS—George Paskvan [acting captain], Bob Ray, and Len Califgare.

McFadzean was at the first string right half back position today as the squad ran thru a light offensive drill and he is likely to start against Columbia. Ray Kreick has been shifted from end to center to bolster the middle of the forward line, but Bob McKay is due to start at this position.

The team will leave tomorrow and work out Friday afternoon at Asbury Park, N. J. Coach Harry Stuhldreher has pronounced the Badgers in the best shape physically since the season's opener with Marquette.

LIONS TEST BADGER PLAYS.

New York, Nov. 6 (AP).—Columbia tested its defense against Wisconsin formations today as Coach Lou Little drilled the Lions for Saturday's game with the Badgers. He directed a rough scrimmage.

DICTATOR PLANS TO REVIVE BRAZIL RUBBER INDUSTRY

Wild Trees to Be Tapped During First Years.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BELEM, Brazil [By Mail].—Efforts to interest small independent farmers in collecting wild rubber and the planting and cultivation of scientifically planned rubber plantations along the hot and steamy, but immensely fertile, Amazon valley are being made by President Getulio Vargas, Brazil's dictator.

Recognizing the Americas soon may be cut off by war from the East Indian states whence most of the raw rubber is obtained, Vargas is attempting to revive a Brazilian industry that was smothered some 30 years ago. If he succeeds Brazilian rubber will reappear in American markets and most of the economic problems of the northern Brazilian states will be solved, it is believed.

Under the program, farmers who are being lured from upland acres, which are periodically ruined by drouth, will begin at first by tapping wild rubber trees in jungle tracts allotted to them. These trees have not been touched since 1912, when the Brazilian rubber industry failed and are present in profusion in the states of Para, Amazonas, and the territory of Acre.

New Groves Foreseen.

With sales of this rubber virtually assured by the federal agricultural ministry, the farmers are expected to clear sufficient funds to allow them to plant groves of the rubber trees. These groves will be arranged so they can be easily cultivated and harvested with the minimum of labor.

Vargas believes the United States in particular—to guard against the possibility that the East Indian rubber states may fall under the power of Japan and other axis nations—will place long term contracts for Brazilian rubber. These contracts, he says, would permit Brazilians to recover some of the trade lost to the Dutch and English islands and the cheap labor available in the east.

While it is understood that new plantations can hardly be productive before 1950, Vargas expects the farmers to develop markets for Brazilian rubber from the wild trees.

East Floods Out Brazil.

Brazilian areas were dominant in the world rubber market before rubber seeds and plants were smuggled out of the country to the East Indies. Scientific cultivation and planting there bore fruit about 1910, and by 1912 the Brazilian sources were forced out of world markets by the cheap eastern rubber.

Under Vargas' program farmers will be established permanently in the rubber territory. The government will provide for transportation of suitable farmers and their families, and will provide them with land, seeds, and essential implements. Model towns will be set up along rivers in the heart of the jungle.

If the farmers desire to work for owners of rubber lands the government will guarantee all contracts. The personal rights and interests of the colonists will be safeguarded by the state, officials say.

Wages to Be Supervised.

"A closer supervision of wages and living conditions is bound to bring about a complete recovery of the Amazonian hinterland," an official told THE TRIBUNE reporter.

The states involved will set up mills to produce timber for the homes and other structures necessary for the jungle towns. The states also will build roads to connect these colonies with railroads. They also will establish schools and provide free medical and pharmaceutical assistance.

Much of the new program is modeled after methods which have been successful at Henry Ford's 4,000,000 acre rubber concession on the Lower Tapajoz river. Since 1927 the Ford company has poured some $5,000,000 into this project.

COTTON

Cotton futures sold sharply higher at the opening of the session yesterday as offerings failed to keep pace with the bids. There was some hedge selling with buying of major deliveries in good volume. Prices broke later in the session in sympathy with securities and other commodity markets.

The New York Cotton exchange estimated that world consumption of all cotton this season would total 28,461,000 bales.

The New York cash cotton market closed at 9.90 cents a pound; Houston at 9.40 cents; Galveston at 9.38 cents, and New Orleans at 9.50 cents a pound. Closing futures prices on the major exchanges follow:

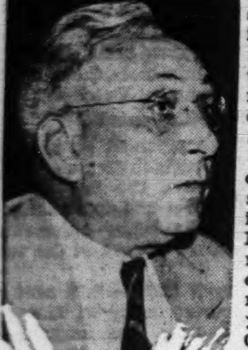
PROFITS OF TWO STEEL MAKERS MOUNT SHARPLY

Copper Fabricator Hit by Taxes.

The Youngstown Sheet & Tube company, an independent producer in the steel and iron industry, more than tripled its net income during the September quarter over the same period in 1939, Frank Purnell, president, announced yesterday. Other companies to report substantial increases in earnings were the Pittsburgh Steel company, producer of wire, tubing, and other products, and Revere Copper and Brass, Inc., which earned more despite greatly increased taxes.



Frank Purnell.

During the quarter, the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company realized net profits of $2,842,280, equivalent to $1.57 a share, against $765,066, or 33 cents a share, for the corresponding 1939 quarter. Indicated net income for nine months ended Sept. 30 totaled $5,265,492, or $2.77 a share, against $1,311,259, or 41 cents a share, in 1939.

Pittsburgh Steel Has Gain.

In the September quarter the Pittsburgh Steel company had net profits of $466,027, compared with $85,093 for the same quarter last year. The nine months' report showed a net income of $845,434, against a net loss of $524,681 for the corresponding period in 1939.

Revere Copper & Brass, Inc., a copper fabricator, reported an indicated net income of $417,204 for the September quarter. This was after a deduction of $1,275,333 for federal income and excess profits taxes for this year to date under the new tax law. It compared with net income of $331,505 for the same quarter last year.

Net profits for nine months ended Sept. 30 totaled $1,705,099, against $336,135 for the corresponding period in 1939. The company's executive offices are in New York City.

Drill Maker Has Profit.

Sullivan Machinery company, with main offices in Michigan City, Ind., reported a net income of $151,886, or 81 cents a share, for the September quarter, compared with a net loss of $88,880 for the same quarter last year. The company manufactures diamond core drills, coal cutters, air and gas compressors and other types of drills.

The Warner and Swasey company, Cleveland, manufacturer of machine tools, reported a net profit of $2,805,775 for the nine months ended Sept. 30, which was in excess of all previous net incomes for any full year. Officials said that unfilled orders total around $20,000,000.

The Curtis Publishing company had a net income of $2,624,080 for the nine months ended Sept. 30, compared with $1,921,618 for the same period in 1939.

October Sales of Walgreen, Sears at Peak

A general improvement of business conditions was reflected yesterday in record-breaking sales reports for the month of October announced by several large concerns. Among those reporting were Sears, Roebuck & Co., world's largest mail order and retail store organization, and Walgreen company, large drug store chain.

Sears, Roebuck & Co. sales totaled $76,919,573 last month for its largest October record and the second largest for any month in the company's history. This represented an increase of 14.4 per cent over October, 1939, when sales amounted to $67,246,031.

Up 11.7% for Nine Months.

For nine months ended Oct. 31, Sears sales came to $530,139,367, an upturn of 11.7 per cent over the corresponding period of last year when sales totaled $474,482,322. The company reported that this period also established an all-time record.

Officials reported that mail order business lagged behind retail store business, which made its best showing in industrial areas. Part of the gain in October was attributed to an additional working day over October, 1939, when there were five Sundays.

October sales of Walgreen company were $6,314,503, an increase of 7.3 per cent over the same month a year ago when sales totaled $5,887,113. This was reported to be the best October in the company's history and the peak month since last March, when sales totaled $6,392,184.

Ten Month Gain 6 Per Cent.

During 10 months ended Oct. 31, Walgreen sales totaled $60,973,551, an increase of $3,447,523, or 6 per cent, over the $57,526,028 for the corresponding period a year ago.

Safeway Stores, Inc., a food store chain, reported a gain of 3.42 per cent in sales for the four weeks ended Oct. 26 over the comparable period last year. Sales totaled $31,314,622, compared with $30,280,310.

October sales of W. T. Grant company, variety chain store, amounted to $10,172,015, an increase of 16.4 per cent over the $8,732,797 of October, 1939. The ten months' report showed total sales of $80,395,476, compared with $75,177,051, an increase of 6.9 per cent.

PLANE MAKERS' ORDER BACKLOGS TOP 3 BILLIONS

New York, Nov. 6 [Special.—Unfilled orders of the aircraft industry now total $3,144,000,000, an increase of nearly $1,000,000,000 in the last month, Aviation magazine said today.

A year ago the industry had the then record backlog of $400,000,000, the largest portion of which was British and French war orders.

While the army's aircraft purchasing program is completed, less than half of the 7,000 planes authorized for the navy have been placed under contract, altho negotiations for the remainder are under way, the magazine said.

The magazine listed the latest unfilled orders of principal manufacturers as follows:

Allison Engineering	$ 60,000,000

File Standard Power Plan to Become Trust

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—The Securities and Exchange commission today announced that Standard Power and Light corporation, midwestern holding company which formerly had headquarters in Chicago, has filed an application to divest itself of control over Standard Gas and Electric company, simplify its capital structure, and become an investment trust.

The corporation offered for the consideration of the SEC three plans for divesting itself of control over Standard Gas. One called for an exchange of the common stock of the company which it holds for an equal number of shares of nonvoting stock, with an added provision that it would not vote for directors of the company so long as it held any notes, debentures, prior preference stock, or $4 cumulative preferred stock.

Waive Vote for Directors.

Under another plan the corporation would refrain from voting for directors of the company so long as it held any securities of the company, including common stock. The third plan was that the corporation surrender for cancellation the certificates for its 1,160,000 shares of common stock of Standard Gas with the reservation that it receive an appropriate share of the company's assets whenever they should be distributed.

To simplify its corporate structure, Standard Power proposed to create a new class of common stock to be issued in exchange for its outstanding preferred stock, series B.

Under the plan, 800,000 shares of new $5 par value common stock would be created, and each share entitled to one vote. The stock would be exchanged on the following basis:

Each share of outstanding preferred stock, together with accumulated dividends, would receive 20 shares of new common stock and each 30 shares of present common stock and common stock, series B, would receive one share of the new common.

Division of New Stock.

The present preferred stockholders, would receive 681,080 shares of new common stock, or 92.1 per cent of the total, and holders of the present common and series B stock would receive 58,666⅔ shares of the new issue, or 7.9 per cent.

If the SEC confirms the plan Standard Power will liquidate its holdings in the Standard Gas and Electric system, except possibly notes and debentures, "With due consideration for the interests of its stockholders and the conditions of the then prevailing securities market." Proceeds of liquidation will be used, according to the application, for investment in a general portfolio of securities, and the corporation will register under the investment company act of 1940.

Standard Power is the top unit in a billion dollar holding company system.

Kenny Firm Gets Contract on Two Subway Stations

The city council yesterday awarded a contract for building two subway stations to the Kenny Construction company, whose bid of $368,680 was the lowest submitted. The stations will be located in State street between Madison and Adams street. The council also approved an additional payment of $3,552 to M. J. Boyle & Co. for construction in the North State street subway of 25 air vent openings not provided in the original contract.

HOPSON MOANS PROTESTS, BUT IS FORCED TO TRIAL

Jury Selected to Hear Fraud Charges.

New York, Nov. 6 (AP).—Moaning in protest, Howard C. Hopson, ex-utilities magnate, went from a sanitarium to federal court today to face mail fraud charges arising from his rule of the now bankrupt Associated Gas and Electric system, the billion dollar holding company he built in boom days.

Howard C. Hopson.

His court appearance marked another episode in a legal battle which started in 1933 and has been highlighted in recent months by Hopson's repeated attempts to establish that he was mentally incompetent to stand trial.

Hopson was indicted last May on charges of "milking" his utility empire of $20,000,000 profits.

At the counsel table beside him were five lawyers, who brought an 18 foot long bookcase, four shelves high, jammed with records, which led Judge Alfred Coxe to remark whimsically:

"What are you trying to do—intimidate the court?"

A jury of business men and one housewife was quickly chosen.

Other defendants were Charles M. Travis and Garrett A. Brownback, lawyers formerly associated with Hopson. A fourth man, Frederick S. Burroughs, died after the indictment.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET VALUES A BILLION HIGHER

New York, Nov. 6 [Special].—Shares listed on the New York Stock exchange rose $1,182,191,813 in market value last month, according to a compilation issued today. Stocks averaged $29.38 in value on Oct. 31, compared with $28.56 at the end of September.

On Oct. 31, there were 4,230 issues of 1,452,542,070 shares listed, against 1,228 issues of 1,452,946,431 shares a month earlier, and the market value was $42,673,890,518 against $41,491,698,705.

Aggregate borrowings on collateral by members of the exchange on Oct. 31 were 0.82 per cent of market value, against 0.86 per cent a month earlier.

Pontiac Sales in October Largest for Any Month

Retail deliveries of Pontiac cars during October exceeded any previous month in the company's history, D. U. Bathrick, vice president and general sales manager, announced yesterday. The October sales figure was 27,217 cars, 86 per cent above September and 61.9 per cent above October of 1939. Unfilled orders continued to hold at the record high figure that was reached over a month ago, he said, and almost total a full month's sales.

Kennecott Copper Votes Retirement at 65 Plan

New York, Nov. 6 (AP).—Kennecott Copper corporation stockholders at a special meeting today approved a retirement plan for employés receiving more than $3,000 annually upon reaching 65 years of age.

Treasury Acts to Keep Within Its Debt Limit

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6 (AP).—The treasury decided today to designate its next weekly $100,000,000 issue of 92 day bills a national defense series, making it the first borrowing under the special $4,000,000,000 authority granted in the 1941 revenue act.

Bids for the bills, which are sold on a discount basis to the highest bidders, will be received at federal reserve banks and branches up to 2 p. m., eastern time, Friday.

Repay General Fund.

The treasury said that it would use the proceeds to reimburse the general fund in part for defense expenditures, which aggregated approximately $883,000,000 from July 1 to Oct. 31.

Earlier today the treasury announced that only $567,140,425 of the statutory $45,000,000,000 debt limit remained available Oct. 31. By reimbursing the general fund for defense expenditures thru national defense series borrowing, the treasury will be able to avoid reaching the debt limit during the fiscal year, it was said.

Avoid Boosting Limit.

With 3 billion 169 million dollars spent during the first four months of the current fiscal year funds expended for national defense need not be charged to the portion of the debt coming under the statutory limit, it was said.

During the four months, war department expenditures for national defense were placed at $386,582,741 and navy department national defense costs were put at $492,248,612.

TRUST OFFICERS' 11TH CONFERENCE TO OPEN TODAY

The 11th mid-continent trust conference of the trust division of the American Bankers association will open today in the Stevens hotel with an expected attendance of 800 trust officers from seventeen states in the middle west and southwest. The two day meeting is sponsored by the Corporate Fiduciaries association of Chicago.

P. D. Houston, president of the American Bankers association and chairman of the American National bank, Nashville, Tenn., will address the opening session. Gilbert T. Stephenson, director of trust research in the association's graduate school, will speak on "Trust Compensation from the Customer's Point of View."

WHOLESALE AREA BUSINESS GAINS DURING OCTOBER

The Chicago wholesale district in general had more business during October than in the 1939 month despite mild weather and its influence on sales of seasonal merchandise, the Chicago Wholesale Market council reported yesterday in its monthly business survey.

The survey showed increases in men's clothing business of 14 per cent, hosiery 10 to 12 per cent, and women's dresses 5 to 12 per cent, with lingerie sales as much as 20 per cent higher. The council reported the election campaigning had little or no effect on general business in the wholesale area.

BIGGEST PLANE ENGINE ORDER GIVEN TO FORD

Wright Gets Army, Navy Contract.

The war department announced in Washington yesterday a contract with the Ford Motor company for $122,323,020 worth of airplane engines—the largest contract for airplane engines let so far in the defense program. The engines will be made in a $14,000,000 plant under construction for the Ford company at its Dearborn plant.

When the new Ford engine plant was announced it was stated that 3,000 Pratt and Whitney type engines were to be built for the army.

The Wright Aeronautical corporation also was given a large engine order during the day. The war department let a contract with the Wright company, which has a large plant at Paterson, N. J., for $11,436,042 worth of aviation engines, some of which will go to the navy.

Colt's to Install Equipment.

The war department disclosed that on Aug. 27 it had let a contract with the Colt's Patent Fire Arms company for the installation in the gun company's plant at Hartford, Conn., of additional equipment for the manufacture of infantry weapons. Letting of this contract had not previously been made public. Title to the new equipment, which is costing $8,074,406, will remain with the government.

In connection with the new Ford aircraft engine plant at Dearborn, the York Ice Machinery corporation announced yesterday that the Ford company has given it a contract for four complete refrigerating units to be installed in the new plant. This is said to be the largest industrial air conditioning contract ever let as a single installation.

Baniff Orders Planes.

Braniff Airways is purchasing six new Douglas DC3 twenty-one passenger planes costing $750,000, T. E. Braniff, president, announced yesterday. The new planes, which are to be delivered in May, are to be used on Braniff's Chicago to the Gulf route and on its various lines in the southwest. Each will be propelled by two 1,100 horsepower Wright engines.

The Buffalo Niagara Electric corporation, in connection with its $6,000,000 expansion program has ordered an 80,000 kilowatt turbine-generator for the Charles R. Huntley steam station, near Tonawanda, N. Y.

The Pressed Steel car company has received an order for 300 hopper cars from the Lehigh and New England railroad and numerous roads are said to be in the market for new freight equipment.

COUNTY VOTERS APPROVE CHANGE IN BANKING ACT

Returns from Chicago and Cook county yesterday gave a two to one margin in favor of the change in the state banking act that cuts from $50,000 to $25,000 the minimum capital required for state banks in communities of less than 2,500 population. About 20 per cent of the voters in Cook county marked their ballots on the proposition.

With 183 Cook county precincts missing, the count stood 357,469 in favor of the amendment and 189,917 opposed. The final returns will not be available until the official canvass is completed. Many precincts in the county did not report the vote on the amendment either in the unofficial police returns or on the special returns to the election commissioners.

The downstate vote on the amendment is still to be tabulated. It was indicated, however, that the downstate areas, which are primarily affected, would approve the measure. The amendment also permits the relocation of existing state banks where necessitated by population shifts.

Nominated

Robert M. Gaylord, president of Ingersoll Milling Machine Co.

GAYLORD PICKED TO HEAD ILLINOIS MANUFACTURERS

Nomination of Robert M. Gaylord, president of the Ingersoll Milling Machine company, Rockford, for the presidency of the Illinois Manufacturers' association was announced yesterday. Nomination is tantamount to election. Results of the election will be announced at the association's 47th annual dinner, which will be held Dec. 3 in the Stevens hotel.

Gaylord is now first vice president of the association. He is a native of Minneapolis and is a graduate of the University of Minnesota. His first job was as a laborer for the Minneapolis Steel and Machinery company in 1911. He has been president of the Ingersoll company since 1928.

Others who have been nominated by the manufacturers' nominating committee, which is headed by Fred A. Preston of Poor & Co., Chicago, include: First vice president, O. M. Burton, Burton Dixie corporation, Chicago; second vice president, H. G. Myers, Gardner-Denver company, Quincy, and treasurer, Sterling Morton, Morton Salt company, Chicago.

Irving S. Olds, chairman of the board, United States Steel corporation, and Irvin S. Cobb, humorist and writer, will speak at the annual dinner, which is expected to be attended by about 2,500.

TREASURY LOANS RISE; CORPORATE BONDS WEAKEN

New York, Nov. 6 (AP).—United States government obligations and the general run of low yield corporate issues moved forward today as bonds of speculative rating sold off, in some cases rather sharply.

The decline in the second grade division was in response to the downward drift in stocks which Wall street sources termed the market appraisal of the Tuesday election results.

Some treasury issues were more active than for weeks before the election. On substantial volume the treasury 2¾s, 1960-1965, rose 18-32ds of a point, closing at the day's top of 108.20.

Popular trading issues in the corporate group, notably rails and utilities, opened at generally lower prices, rallied and sold off again in the last half of the session.

U. S. AERONAUTIC EXPORTS TOP '39 BY 183 PER CENT

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6 [Special].—United States exports of aeronautic products in September totaled $22,939,697, bringing the nine months total to $221,479,961, or 183 per cent more than in the comparable 1939 period, the deparment of commerce reported today. The month's exports included 284 planes, 441 engines, and various accessories.

The United Kingdom was the largest purchaser, taking $15,164,825 worth of such products in September and $77,256,731 in the nine month period. Canada's September purchases amounted to $3,424,500 and nine months purchases to $19,858,470.

STOCKS RECORD YEAR'S SECOND WORST SLUMP

Post Election Losses Extend to $4.

New York, Nov. 6 (AP).—The stock market today suffered its second worst break of the year in the wake of yesterday's national election. Closing losses of one to more than four points were recorded in utilities, steels, motors, and a wide assortment of industrial specialties. Feeble recoveries brought most issues above their lows of the day.

Discouraged Willkie supporters, brokers said, touched off a forenoon relapse. When these offerings were absorbed, steadying tendencies cropped up as some traders got the idea defense spending still was a prime bolstering influence for business. An afternoon setback was blamed on the revival of tax doubts and fears that war upsets, now that the election is out of the way, may have more serious repercussions marketwise.

Average Down 1.4 Points.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 1.4 points at 44.6, biggest recession for any day since May 21, when the German drive on France brought the sharpest downturn of 1940 to date of 2.9 points. Transfer amounted to 1,209,320 shares against 1,245,280 on Monday.

Commonwealth & Southern, of which company Mr. Willkie was the head before his campaign for the Presidency, opened an hour and three quarters late on a sale of 35,000 shares, off ⅛ at 1⅛. It eventually slipped another eighth and ended at $1 a share.

Gold Stocks Advance.

Homestake Mining and Dome Mines held net gains of 2⅛ and 1⅜, being among the few issues to contest the trend. They were believed to have attracted buyers on the theory the administration would maintain the price of gold as it did in the first two terms.

Conspicuous losers included Consolidated Edison, North American company, Public Service of New Jersey, American Water Works, du Pont, Westinghouse Electric, Union Carbide, General Electric, United States Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Great Northern, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Montgomery Ward, Glenn Martin and Sperry.

London Market Firm.

LONDON, Nov. 6 (AP).—The stock market closed generally firm today with trading of a broad character which revealed a shortage in the supply of many leading issues.

Sentiment was stimulated at the opening by the apparent reëlection of President Roosevelt and further encouraging news from Greece.

Kaffirs advanced strongly under Cape Town influence and West African golds were marked up sharply. Breweries and heavy industries recorded numerous gains. Copper and other base metal shares were firmer.

Argentine bonds advanced one to two points and a better tendency developed in far eastern issues.

In late dealings the gilt edged list developed slight irregularities after offerings of long dated stocks.

CHICAGO PRICES SLIP.

Prices on the Chicago Stock exchange slid downward yesterday in the first session after the election. Of the 101 issues traded, 67 declined, 9 advanced, and 25 were unchanged. Turnover totaled 40,000 shares.

During the hour from 2 to 3 o'clock, transactions amounted to only 1,500 shares, the smallest number recorded since the introduction of the extra trading period.

FIVE COMPANIES VOTE EXTRAS ON COMMON STOCK

Beech-Nut Packing to Pay Dividend of $1.

Extra or special dividends were declared on common stocks yesterday by five corporations and increased payments were announced by three others.

The Beech-Nut Packing company, Canajoharie, N. Y., maker of gum, candy, and food specialties, authorized a special dividend of $1, compared with 75 cents at the same time last year. This payment will bring total distribution for the year to $6.25 against $5.75 in 1939.

Chicago Concerns Pay More.

Continental Casualty company, Chicago, authorized an extra dividend of 30 cents in addition to the usual quarterly disbursement of 30 cents. Another Chicago firm, Purity Bakeries corporation, announced an increased dividend of 35 cents. Previous quarterly disbursements this year were 25 cents each.

Extra dividends were also voted by directors of Bristol-Myers company, New York; Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator company, Minneapolis, Minn., and the W. A. Sheaffer Pen company, Fort Madison, Ia. Atlas Powder company, Wilmington, Del., raised its dividend to $2 from 75 cents paid in previous quarters, and the Jaeger Machine company of Columbus, O., which paid 25 cents in previous quarters, voted a dividend of 50 cents.

WHEAT FUTURES BREAK 2 CENTS ON LIQUIDATION

Wheat futures broke over 2 cents a bushel yesterday on selling attributed largely by brokers to the election results and corresponding weakness in securities markets. Corn futures slumped as much as 1½ cents a bushel and all other futures, with the exception of soy beans, sold lower.

At the close wheat prices were 1⅜ to 1¾ cents a bushel lower; corn ⅜ to ¾ cent lower; oats unchanged to ⅜ cent lower; rye ⅝ to ¾ cent lower, and soy beans 1 cent a bushel higher. Trading in all grains was comparatively light.

Drouth slashed Australia's wheat crop to 90,000,000 bushels from last year's record of 215,000,000, an Associated Press report from Sydney said.

LEAD PRICES SET PEAK, BUT OTHER STAPLES DECLINE

Cash Quotation Highest Since October, 1937.

Lead futures resisted a downward trend in commodity markets yesterday and reached a new 1940 high after the cash price of the metal had been raised for the fourth time in two months. Other exceptions to the general market weakness were rubber and sugar. Copper, hides, tin, wool tops, and silk showed marked losses.

Lead pushed ahead 0.05 to 0.06 cent a pound to a peak of 5.37 cents in the December futures. The cash quotation was advanced 0.15 cent to 5.65 to 5.70 cents, New York basis, and 5½ cents, East St. Louis basis, the highest since the 5¾ cents of October, 1937.

October Shipments Rise.

The boost accompanied trade estimates that October shipments of lead totaled 65,000 tons, the largest for any month this year and approximately even with the heavy shipments that followed the outbreak of the war last year.

Copper sagged 0.07 to 0.13 cent a pound, December closing at 11.25 to 11.30 cents, and tin was unchanged to 0.27½ cent lower, with November at 50.65 cents bid. Cash tin broke 1.12½ cents to 50 cents a pound.

Rubber futures advanced 0.15 to 0.17 cent a pound, December closing at 20.40 cents. The cash price gained 0.07 cent at 20½ cents. Higher raw sugar prices stimulated domestic futures demand and final prices were 0.02 cent a pound higher. March deliveries were 1.96 cents bid.

Hide futures receded 0.18 to 0.25 cent a pound to 12.30 in December.

STEEL INDUSTRY MAINTAINS PACE, SAYS IRON AGE

Predicts Maximum Rate Thru All of 1941.

Buying and the making of steel in the first week of November are continuing at the high levels of October, with the election of President Roosevelt to a third term having no immediate effect on the industry, Iron Age said yesterday in its weekly summary.

"Seldom has a presidential election passed with so little question as to the trend of business volume and production," Iron Age commented. "Whatever the future may bring, the outlook for many months to come—perhaps thru 1941 at least—is for maximum activity in steel and related lines."

Iron Age estimated that the industry is operating at 96 per cent of capacity, unchanged from last week.

Big Steel Tops 'Capacity.'

Dow-Jones, news reporting agency, estimated that the operating subsidiaries of the United States Steel corporation in the week ended Nov. 4 operated at a fraction above 100 per cent—the first time since April 1929 that the corporation has gone above its theoretical capacity. The April 1929 rate was 103 per cent.

[The reason that a company may operate at above 100 per cent of capacity is that the theoretical capacity is an arbitrary amount of steel tonnage, with a leeway of some 10 per cent provided for plant repairs. It is quite possible for a company to produce steel in an amount beyond the arbitrary capacity assigned to it.]

The Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation, largest of the United States Steel operating companies, which has a rated capacity of about 21,000,000 tons annually, last week was reported running a fraction better than 100 per cent. The Chicago mills of the company, however, were said to be several points below this mark.

Bethlehem Steel, the nation's second largest steel company, with a rated annual capacity of 11,468,000 tons, was reported operating at 99 per cent.

October Output a Record.

A record-breaking output of 6,461,898 tons of steel in October was reported by the American Iron and Steel institute. This figure exceeded by more than 5 per cent the previous monthly record of 6,147,783 tons in November, 1939. It compared with 5,895,232 in September and 6,080,177 in October, 1939.

Iron Age reported that pig iron production for October set an all-time record with a total of 4,445,961 net tons. The previous record of 4,365,852 tons was set in May, 1929.

POSTAL LIFE.

I understand I can get low cost insurance from the Postal Life Insurance company of New York. Have you a report on this company?—D. J.

Answer: Postal Life Insurance company, New York, sells life insurance by display and direct mail advertising but employs no agents. It has operated since 1905 and is supervised under the laws of New York state. Capital stock consists of 10,000 shares of $10 par value.

Total income of the company in 1939 was $1,848,607 against total disbursements of $1,957,612. Total income in 1938 was $1,912,757 and disbursements were $2,898,959.

Real estate represented 40 per cent of the company's physical assets at the end of 1939—a high ratio compared with the average of 8 per cent for all life insurance companies. The largest single investment was the company's home office building valued at $2,450,000. Mortgage loans accounted for 25 per cent of the assets, bonds 28 per cent, and miscellaneous investments 7 per cent.

Assets, insurance written, and insurance in force of the company compared as follows in recent years:

	Admitted assets.	Insurance written.	Insurance in force.
1935	$17,270,000	$3,232,000	$46,946,000
1936	17,522,000	3,493,000	47,379,000
1937	16,688,000	3,726,000	46,769,000
1938	15,720,000	3,603,000	46,530,000
1939	15,619,000	4,312,000	46,994,000

Assets of the company have decreased steadily since 1936, and in each of the last three years disbursements have exceeded income.

NOT ENOUGH QUARTERS.

I became 65 years old in October, 1937. My salary for the first three-quarters of 1937 was in excess of $200 a month. I receive a small income from a pension and an insurance policy. Total income is inadequate for myself and my wife. Am I eligible for old age benefits under the social security program?—L. J. W.

Answer: The social security law requires that a person must have earned at least $50 in commercial or industrial employment in each of at least six calendar quarters since 1936 to be eligible for old age benefits. You can become eligible for payments by getting the necessary wage credits for three more calendar quarters.

MIDDLE WEST.

Is it still possible to exchange a Middle West Utilities company note for stock in the Middle West corporation?—T. V.

Answer: The period for exchange of the securities expired Dec. 31, 1938, under court order.

ARGENTINA'S IMPORT RESTRICTIONS ON U. S. PRODUCTS APPROVED

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 6 (AP).—Minister of Finance Federico Pinedo announced today after a cabinet meeting that all ministers had given provisional approval to his plan to restrict imports from the United States to vitally needed articles in order to check the export of gold.

[Federico Pinedo.]

He said such restrictions would be put into effect only if other currently discussed means of solving Argentina's war created foreign trade problems were deemed not to meet the situation.

He said the restrictive program—put forward in a 56 page manuscript which is to be released in sections, the last to be made public Friday—was intended to reactivate the Argentine economy and "balance" the country's foreign trade.

ARMY DECIDES TO BUY FOREIGN GROWN WOOLS

Terms U. S. Supplies Insufficient.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6 (AP).—With the explanation that domestic supplies were insufficient, the war department authorized the army quartermaster general today to buy clothing and blankets made of imported as well as domestic wool.

The announcement was coupled with a prediction that as a result of the new policy, imports from South America and Australia would be increased.

"The present domestic wool supply is unable to meet the abnormally large requirements of the defense program in all the grades of wool needed for the manufacture of military equipment," the war department said.

"The National Defense Advisory commission has been increasingly concerned about the dwindling supplies and rising prices of domestic wool which have resulted from heavy military purchases, and feels that at the present time the public interest makes necessary a suspension of the requirement that only domestic wool should be used in filling military orders for clothing and blankets.

"The war department's order, it is expected, will check undue speculative activity in domestic wool, thereby protecting both the government and civilian consumers, and, in the long run, the interests of domestic wool growers themselves."

Announce Plan to Refund Des Moines School Bonds

Lehman Brothers and a group of associated bankers yesterday announced a program for the exchange of $5,140,000 of outstanding bonds of the independent school district of Des Moines, Ia., bearing interest ranging from 4 to 5 per cent and maturing from 1941 and 1946. The new bonds will bear the same interest rates to the maturity dates of the obligations they replace, and thereafter, until maturity between 1947 and 1960, will pay from 2 to 2¾ per cent.

Field Employes in Service to Receive Month's Pay

Marshall Field & Co. yesterday announced that its employés who enter military service for one year will be entitled to one month's additional pay. The company will assume the cost of these employés' insurance and hospitalization plans during their service.

Grain Board Fails to Act on Pleas to Revise Rules

Directors of the Chicago Board of Trade decided yesterday to take no action on petitions presented last month to revise certain grading rules for grain delivered under futures contracts and rules governing grain elevators. Unless the proposed changes can be brought to a ballot vote of members thru new petitions bearing 100 or more signatures, the proposals will be discarded, it was said.

Illinois Bankers Life Has Record Insurance Sales

The Illinois Bankers' Life Assurance company set a new record for its monthly volume of new business in October with $2,314,000, an increase of 14.98 per cent over the previous record of $2,012,500, in August, 1938, Hugh D. Hart, vice president, reported yesterday. The total compared with $1,075,709 for October, 1939.

Personal Loans
On Your Own Signature
Here salaried men and women, single or married, can get $25 to $250 or more entirely on earning capacity and personal responsibility. We prefer to make these loans the way most people like—without security—without endorsers.

NO WAGE ASSIGNMENTS.

Simply do this:
1. Make application. [Can be in person or by phone.]
2. Come in, sign and get the cash.

Pick Your Own Payments.
Take a year, or more, to repay. You know best how much you can afford each month—you name the payment which best fits your income.

PRIVACY.
We keep the entire transaction strictly between us. Your employer, friends, or relatives are not notified.

SIMPLE TO GET.
Our loans are made on the simple basis of your ability to make small, regular payments, and if you can, you should not hesitate to see us for a loan at once. Come in or telephone.
